The mask of MHS

Just as the early Greeks used masks to represent emotions and character in their dramas, the face of our school is merely a characterization of the moods and personalities of people connected with it. Each individual involved with Marshall High this year has contributed part of his attitudes, actions, and ideas to the total personality of the school. The combined contributions of all create a constantly changing identity which, at any one time, is undefinable. Through the accurate representation of some, we may be able to glimpse the face of our school.

Student teachers face first challenge

Many students enjoyed the fine teaching techniques used by this year's student teachers.

Mr. Michael Pugh and Mr. Al Nagy aided Mr. Jare Klein in his Physical Education class, while Miss Emily Young assisted in Miss Roberta Smith's Girls' Gym class. In Social Studies, Mr. Ronald West practice taught Miss Jessie Truesdell's class, Miss Kathryn Braun and Robert Rood were supervised by Mr. Phillip Wouri, and Mrs. Patricia Tibbits student taught Mr. J. T. Trantum's class. In English, Miss Anne Sharp was directed by Miss Frances Merritt while Miss Janet Hall had two student teachers, Miss Sharon Auker and Miss Judy Johnston. Mr. Curtis Johnson student taught Mr. James Telfer's Speech class, Miss Carol Levins practice taught Mr. William Haroff's Spanish class, and Miss Toni Young had her directed teaching with Mr. Richard Kelley's Biology class.

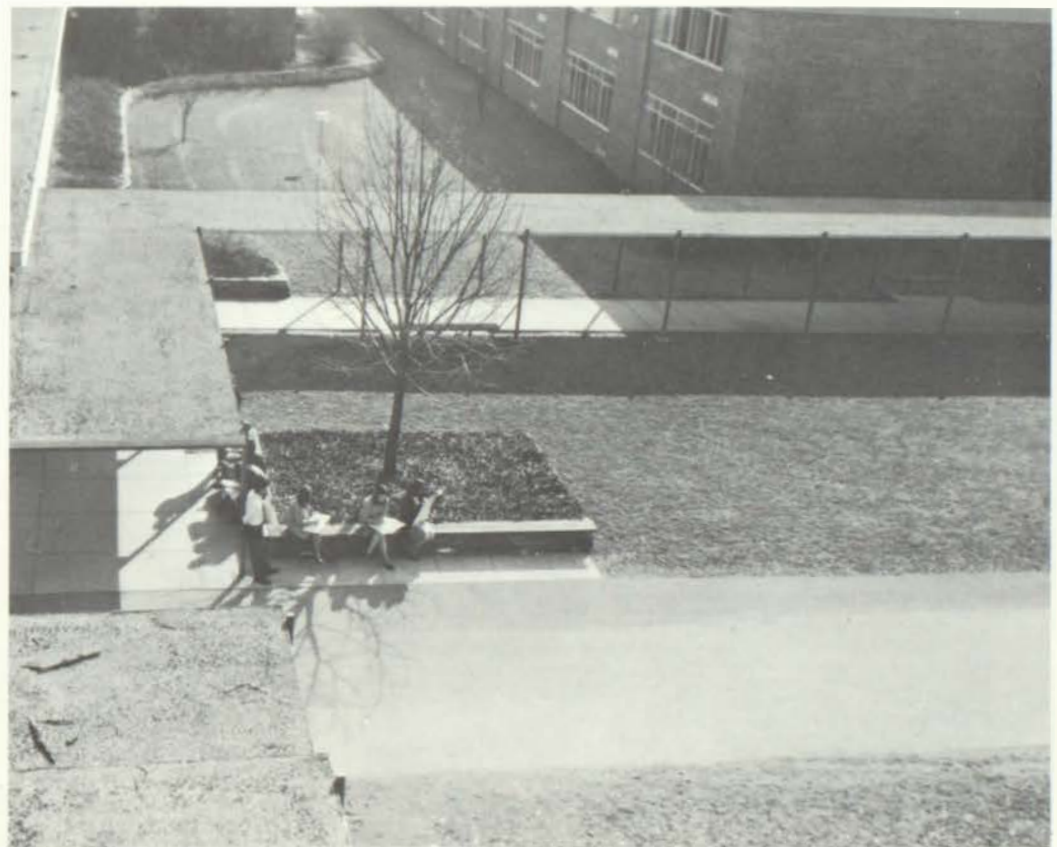

Mr. Phillip Wouri introduces one of the many political speakers who appeared before the school in open assemblies sponsored by the political club this year.

Taking advantage of this year's early spring, art class students sketch various outdoor scenes for their portfolios.

Mrs. Patricia Tibbits, student teacher from Western Michigan, combined wit and fine teaching technique in World History.

Mr. John D. Shiraef spoke to the school about life in the Soviet Union from his recent trips there.

Marshall wins districts—spirit hits new high

School spirit hit an all time high this year. After the heartbreak of having to forfeit the first two football games due to the teachers' failure to return to work, Marshall began to pick up the pieces. There was a feeling of "comeback power" which carried over to basketball. After losing the first four games, Marshall rallied to a winning season. School spirit soared as Marshall entered the district tournament, which the team won after beating arch-rival Albion in three overtimes. Marshall made it to the final game of the regional tournament against Chesaning, where they lost in the final heart-breaking minute. Though Marshall never attended the state tournament, the pride and honor that Marshall felt in its basketball team could not be surpassed even by the victors.

Bruce Riser and Jan Piper spend a few moments together in the quietness of the empty stairway after school.

MHS students rise to their feet at the end of the third quarter of the final game of the regionals with Albion. Marshall later went on to win the game after three overtimes in a tension filled game which was the highlight of the sports thrills of the year.

Journalism begins new face-lifting

The yearbook staff underwent a change this year under the guidance of Mrs. Georgia Marsh, advisor. During the second semester, juniors became part of the staff which, prior to this year, had been run exclusively by seniors. Along with practical experience which will be used next year, the juniors performed vital tasks for the senior members. It is hoped that with this practical training, Marshall High will have progressively better yearbooks.

Ruth Harris describes her ideas for layouts, but Claudia Coats seems to disagree with them by the reaction on her face.

Four o'clock on any weekday will find the elementary students on the south side of the campus waiting for their busses.

Freshmen learn of Victorians at Dickens party

Mrs. Rosemary Irving's freshman English class studied the customs of the Victorian Age in some novel ways. The class toured the Brewer Mansion which was built and furnished during the Victorian Era. At the end of their reading of Great Expectations by Charles Dickens, the class also held a Dickens party where they dressed in period costumes, and played "Wist," a card game popular during that time.

Mr. Robert Eggleston had the difficult job of policing the halls during noon hour.

Isometrics in Physical Education brings to mind the June Taylor dancers.

12

Mrs. Ray, high school janitress, often worked late into the night cleaning the classrooms for the next day.

The concert band pauses a moment for comments by the conductor over the music they have just played.

Mr. Rauth adds Morse code to electronics class

Mr. P. A. Rauth, electronics teacher, introduced Morse code to his curriculum this year in an unusual way. He began each of his classes by sounding one letter per day during the first part of the hour until the class learned the entire alphabet in code. Then he gave them simple sentences, gradually increasing their complexity until the students could recognize entire messages with ease.

Graduating seniors face their challenging future

The graduating senior class of 1968 portrays a facet of many expressions. Seen in their beginning year was the look of youthful and inquisitive freshmen selling tickets for the Marshall relays. The face of eagerly participating sophomores gave the class the winning float for homecoming. As self-assured juniors they presented a successful play, "You Can't Take It With You," and now they are graduating seniors. The senior class expresses a face of hopefulness, sadness, restlessness and accomplishment; for it is the face of the future.

Marshall High honors seniors

Each year a committee of MHS faculty evaluates the members of the senior class and selects those seniors who are outstanding in the class to be particularly honored. This year there are twelve honored seniors.

These young men and women displayed exceptional scholastic ability and citizenship during their high school years. We, their fellow students, join the faculty in honoring them for their achievements.

Before graduation—awards, practice, anticipation. . .

The days before graduation were filled with many senior activities. Senior Awards Night was held June 7, and Reverend John Marvin spoke at baccalaureate on June 9. Commencement practice was held the morning of graduation, June 11, in the gymnasium, and that evening at 7:30, seniors lined up outside the building and awaited "Pomp and Circumstance."

Dress and behavior during commencement practice was somewhat informal.

Class sponsors were Miss Janet Hall and Mr. Phil Wouri, while Anne Clee served as secretary and Rudy Ramos as president. Missing with the mumps was Mari Winsor, vice-president.

Jim Pardoe and Sue Oren wait outside the gymnasium before marching inside to commencement exercises.

Luis Cardenis, Mexican exchange student, smiles as he marches in to receive his high school diploma.

Participating in the commencement ceremonies were superintendent Bruce Gray, Reverend Charles Manker, and Mr. Stanford C. Stoddard, commencement speaker.

Bob Martin and Leslie Martens appear enthusiastic upon graduating, while Kathy Maisner appears more pensive.

The faces of Dave Rodgers and Nancy Rushford express the emotions felt by many graduates.

. . . after—excitement,
joy, and celebration.

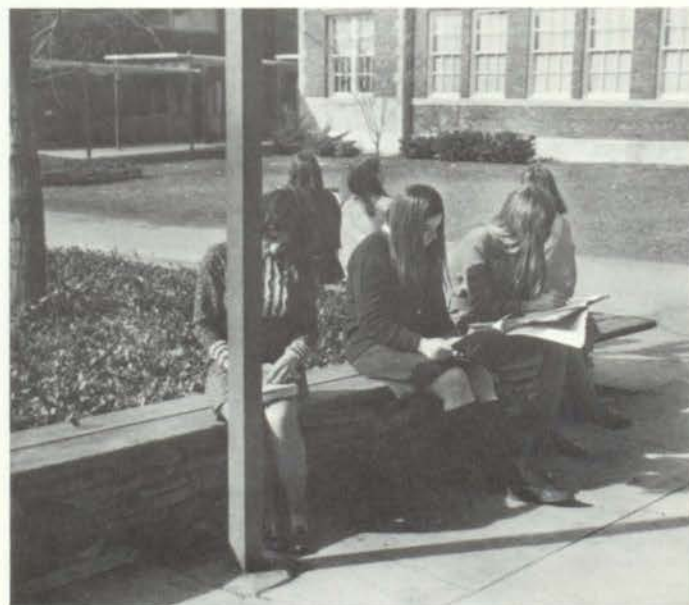

The ninety-ninth commencement of Marshall High School began with the entrance of the seniors in green and gold, class colors, and an invocation given by the Reverend Charles Mankar. Commencement speaker Stanford C. Stoddard, president of Michigan Bank, National Association, Detroit, addressed the topic "Have Our Objectives Really Changed?," followed by Handel's "Water Music," performed by the high school band. Diplomas were presented by Board of Education President Mrs. George Kibbie, after which the ceremonies concluded with the recessional of the class of '68.

Following commencement, a graduation dance was held at the Marshall Country Club, sponsored by the Country Club Parents, with music by the King's Telstars.

Rudy Ramos and date Karol McNary remain quietly thoughtful amid the festivities of the Country Club dance.

Underclassmen engage in individual interests

The underclass students can not be classified generally with any particular adjective. These students, including grades seven through eleven, are many, and each has his own individual tastes, interests, and goals. The underclassmen of MHS are musicians, athletes, debaters, artists, club members, and every so often, scholars. Whether the students' faces express enjoyment while participating in a Charles Dickens card party, are intent on sketching an outdoor scene for art class, show delight in being with a particular person at a dance, are animatedly engaged in discussion during noon hour, or even covered with blueberry pie during a pie eating contest, the faces are those of students experiencing moments which will be long remembered.

Juniors enjoy many new experiences and activities

Electronics class seems to have calmed the restless spirits of Mike Hamaker, Ken Mix, Roland Farmer, and Bruce Reniger.

The junior year of the class of "69" was filled with many new activities and experiences. For their first time, the juniors were given the opportunity to display their dramatic talents in the junior play, "Beauty and the Beef," which they helped finance by selling magazines and candy. In May the juniors ended their year with "Rising Suns and Rickshaws," the annual J-Hop.

Sophomores make profits from sales at "Puffball"

The sophomores took a more active interest in extra-curricular activities and left their second year with many memories. During both the football and track seasons, the class ran the "Puffball" to earn profits for their treasury. A major project was attempting to transport their homecoming float to the athletic field intact—the project failing. In the spring, the sophomores selected their class rings, to be delivered in the fall.

Freshmen introduced to organizations and activities

The transition from junior high to high school provided the freshman class with organizations to join, dances to attend, and activities in which to take part. The class of "71" made their first homecoming float, which won third place, sponsored and sold tickets for the Marshall Relays, which was held in May, and the freshmen's pie-eating duo, Debbi Russell and Jerry Caudell, ate the most pies, winning the pie-eating contest.

Waiting for the doors to open during noon, freshmen boys gather to discuss the problems of the world. (?)

Junior high students strive for self-sufficiency

The junior high, in its desire to become self-sufficient from the high school, developed new programs this year which gave junior high students control over activities which before had been run by the high school. An usher club was established, as was a junior high newspaper, The Grapevine. Also, an improvement honor roll was inaugurated for those students who showed academic improvement between marking periods.

Mr. Nick Timmer takes time out from his social studies class to single out a junior high student for his classroom antics.

Surrounded by the junior high student council are Rick Huggett, vice-president, Jim Strapp, president, and Jean Heckman, secretary. Missing was advisor Mrs. Linda Huepenbecker.

As the noon bell rings, junior high students swarm out of the junior high to the cafeteria.

Entertainment provides relaxation and enjoyment

The many and varied activities which are included in entertainment provide a source of relaxation and pleasure for the students of MHS, and serve as a complement to academics.

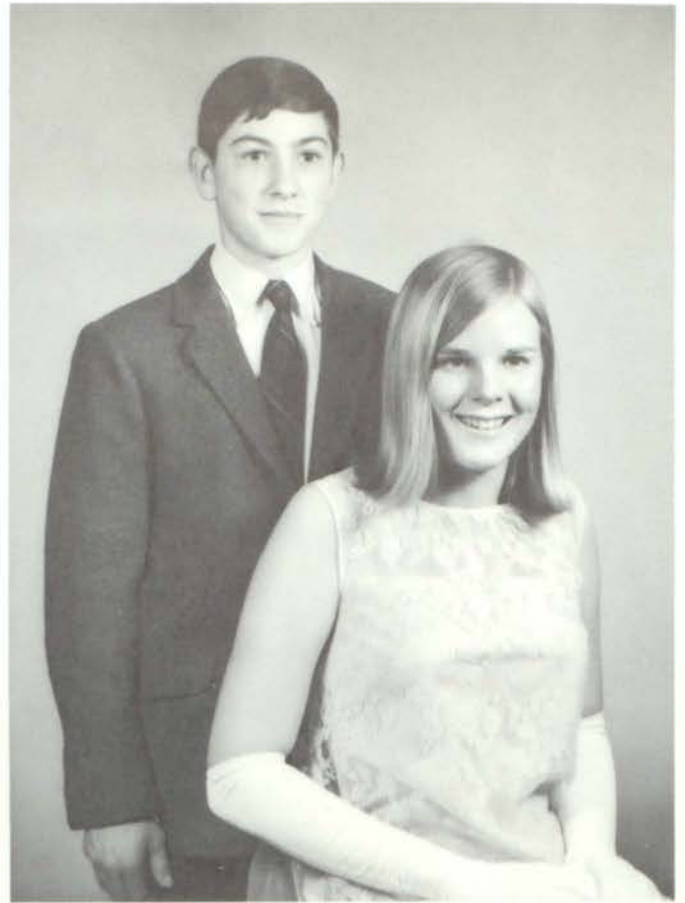

These divisions of entertainment may be portrayed in the faces of those students engaged in the various activities: the surprise of a girl upon being named to the queen's court; the gratification of a student taking his first curtain call; the dignified delight of the couple at their first formal; and the anticipation of the musician, with his eyes intent on the conductor.

Alison reigns as queen

The Homecoming Queen and court began their reign when they were presented to the student body on October 16, 1967. They were presented to the fans at the game, and again at the dance on Saturday. The crown presented to Alison was newly purchased by the student council. This crown will be used for many years. Two of the girls—Alison Twist and Jeri DeVine—served as attendants in 1965.

Suzie Richardson was chosen senior attendant with Jeff Cuzzins as her escort.

Senior float wins while juniors take tug-of-war

The 1968 Homecoming week proved to be very successful with the Redskins beating Coldwater in football 39-0. The seniors captured first prize in float competition, while the class of '69 won the tug-of-war. Both of these wins were the third consecutive victories won by these classes. The "Candy Store Profits" played rock music at the hootenanny. Held at the football field on Thursday before the game, a bonfire-pep assembly sparked the football players. Concluding homecoming week, the cafeteria was the scene of the semi-formal dance, held on Saturday.

Mr. Kent Esbaugh, principal of the junior high school, starts the 1968 homecoming tug-of-war.

The queen, her court, and the escorts are presented to the crowd at the homecoming game.

The freshmen win third place with their first homecoming float.

The seniors win first place with their dragon float, making it the third consecutive year the class of 1968 has captured first place.

The class of '69 presents "Beauty and the Beef"

Clarence Brown, as 14-year-old Lester Allen, explains how simple it is to play the bass drum.

Members of the class of 1969 rehearsed every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evening for five weeks for their play, William Davidson's "Beauty and the Beef." Mr. Dennis Bacon, director of the play, and student director Sally Hart offered the students valuable criticism and assistance.

Despite tears, frustration, and a disastrous dress rehearsal, the juniors staged their successful performance on March 22 and 23. In the play, Ginny Allen moves to the small town of Winnebagushi, bringing with her a reputation for brilliance. Determined to live down her "brain" trademark and become popular, she joins forces with the principal's daughter Franny Barton, another outstanding student. In their efforts to attract Beef Anderson, the football captain, and Foggy Ryan, the drum major, they meet disaster.

Cast in the leading roles of Ginny, Franny, Beef, and Foggy, were Ginnie Morell, Joan Trapp, Jim Scovie and Pat Sill. Committee chairmen were Barbara Hindenach, set; Lin Tidey, makeup; Linda Grable, programs and tickets; Claudia Coates, publicity; Sheri Kibler, costumes; and Marty Berezonsky, lighting.

The tension of opening night subsides and fatigue sets in as Sandi Eagle, Betty, and Sharon Carr, Dot, wait for their entrance.

Franny Barton, played by Joan Trapp, tells Ginny, played by Ginnie Morell, some of the trials of being a principal's daughter.

Jim Scovie as Beef, captain of the football team, discusses his academic situation with Pat Sill, portraying Foggy, the drum major.

Ginnie Morell, as Ginny Allen, and Barb Samson, as her mother Laura, try to memorize their lines at the very first play practice held.

The "rude mechanicals," Art Sexton, Irving Ian Stulberg, Mike Pralley, and John Sherwood, perform "The Death of Pyramus and Thisby" for the Duke and his court.

Seniors present "A Midsummer Night's Dream"

The dance of Fairy Queen Titania, Jan Ellis, and King Oberon, Brian Hice, closes the play.

This year, the senior class presented Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," an event unique in the history of MHS. In the production of the play, many difficulties peculiar to a Shakespearean Comedy were encountered. Among these were learning lines ("Oh, I'll never be able to memorize all this!"), making costumes (Old sheets, bedspreads, and curtains were donated.), and building the set (By some strange quirk of nature, the massive pillars, built to flank the sides of the stage, found their way to Mr. Wouri's senior government room.). The comedy, a spoof on the many types of love, was enthusiastically received on both January 12 and 13.

Mr. Dennis Bacon directed the play, with the able assistance of Chris Kuschmann and Tim Banfield, student directors. Serving on the several committees were: Rudy Ramos and Helen Vincent, publicity; Roger Hagerty and Doug Richards, lighting; Art Sexton, Richard Wirtz, Merlin Struble, and Gil Sherman, set; Janice Blauvelt, Theresa Dubendorf, and Kathy Smith, prompters; Astrid Hansen, Elaine Phillips, Heidi Connelly, Anne Clee, Kathy Smith, Mary Miller, Janet Chichester, Ricka Phillips, and Marsha Eash, make-up; and Dick Lockyer and Mari Winsor, choreography.

“Rising Suns and Rickshaws” 1968 annual J-Hop

Held on May 25, this year's J-Hop provided students with an evening of oriental entertainment. The theme of “Rising Suns and Rickshaws” was carried out with fountains, bridges, willow trees, and incense. A photographer was present to take pictures of the couples, and music was provided by “The Comets.” Juniors working on decorations for the formal were excused from school on Friday, and, after cleaning up at 5:00 A.M. on Sunday, all headed for fun at Lake Michigan.

“Wizard of Oz” is first student council formal

In place of the GAA formal, this year a Student Council-sponsored formal was presented on March 16 with the theme “The Wizard of Oz.” Student Council members spent many hours decorating for the dance, making all the Oz characters, including a gigantic head of the Wizard himself, and entertainment was provided by Jack Spear and the Staccatos. Like the GAA formal, this dance was “girl-ask-boy,” and it is hoped that it will become an annual event.

Informal dances run under new dance policy

Informal dances were held nearly every weekend this year, with a different club or organization sponsoring a dance each week. In the latter part of the year, these dances operated under a new policy, formed and written by the Student Council.

The Milford B. Filmore Memorial Rock Band was one of several bands which performed at the informal dances.

Symphonic band receives “ones”

92

Marching at the home games began the year for the symphonic band. Combined with the concert band, the symphonic band, under the direction of Mr. Ross VanNess, marched at all home football games, the Christmas Parade, and received a first division rating at the marching festival. The symphonic band also received a first division rating at the district band and orchestra festival and participated in the state festival. The group performed in the winter and spring concerts, marched in the Memorial Day Parade, and ended the year playing for commencement.

Concert band gains experience from performances

The concert band, directed by Mr. Barry Osborn, also marched at all home football games, the marching festival, and the Christmas Parade. They participated in the district band and orchestra festival and performed in the winter and spring concerts. Ending the year, the concert band marched in the Memorial Day Parade.

Cherie VanSyckle and Tom Lockyer do some last minute practicing before the spring concert.

During the first semester the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Ross VanNess, was busy preparing "The Messiah," to be presented with the Community Chorus in December. Besides this massive project, the orchestra performed in the winter and spring concerts and played for the junior play. The orchestra received a first division rating at the district festival and participated in the state festival in the spring.

M.P.A. gives choir robes to Marshall Singers

To aid the active Marshall Singers the Music Parents Association presented the group with new choir robes. Besides routine activities Singers performed at Schulers during the Christmas season.

Co-ordinating the various activities were Brian Hice, who served as president and student director, and Marilyn Gard, who accompanied the group as well as acting as sec.-treas.

Students benefit school through organizations

The numerous clubs and organizations forming an integral part of school life, provide the student with an opportunity to extend and increase his understanding of a particular subject in a relaxed and genial atmosphere and to serve and benefit his school and its students. On the faces of students participating in these organizations can be seen a conglomeration of creative expressions on Art Club members crowded into a supply closet, the exhilarating look of a Gymnastic Club member hurdling over the side horse, the artistically intent look of Pep Club students at work on spirit posters, the earnest expression of a Student Council member voicing an opinion, the authoritative look of the Omega Club president conducting a meeting, and the changing emotions of forensic students performing a multiple reading.

Student council sends packages to Viet Nam

Sandy Mowery presents her speech required to seek election to the student council.

The student council started the year in September by holding a dance and carnival to raise money for a school in Tanzania. In October the council sponsored the homecoming festivities, including the float building, hootenanny, and the dance the Saturday after the game. Before Christmas, members collected groceries and toys and delivered them to a needy family. Early in December and again at Easter the council held a drive to send canned and other goods to the soldiers and school children in Vietnam. Both drives were huge successes and brought many letters of thanks.

In addition to sponsoring numerous informal dances and the semi-formal homecoming dance, the student council also held a girl-ask boy formal March 30 with the theme "The Wizard of Oz." Members were excused from classes Friday to decorate and cleaned up early Sunday morning before going to Mari Winsor's house for breakfast.

Sponsor Mr. Houston and the student finance committee listen to a suggestion from Roger Maisner.

Debate and forensics students acquire new coach

Debating the proposition, "Resolved: that Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigations," Marshall's varsity debate squad finished second in the Twin Valley League with a 9-3 record. The debaters, under the new leadership of Mr. James Telfer, were divided into the varsity, yearling, and novice classes, and debated schools from all over the state.

During the second semester, forensics replaced debate. Forensics includes serious and humorous reading, original oratory, declamation, extemporaneous speaking, radio broadcasting, and multiple reading, and the students that participated in these various areas competed in the district and Coldwater tournaments, and performed for school classes and special programs.

Zolton Ferency discusses his speech presented to the political club with Tom Schneider and Mr. Phil Wourn.

Political Club officers were Jeff Sherman, president; Mr. Wourn, sponsor; Tom Schneider, vice-president; and Ann Leyden, secretary-treasurer.

Political club canvasses citizens of Marshall

103

This year being the year of the presidential primaries, members of the Political Club have had the opportunity of hearing different views from various speakers. Among these were Congressman Gary Brown, state Representative Dale Warner, and state Senator Harry De Maso. Such issues as the Vietnam War, as viewed by an extreme pacifist, Kent Beitil, and a campaign for George Wallace from a member of the American Independent Party, have been heard by the Political Club members.

Political Club was active this year in the Model United Nations in Hillsdale and Government Day during Michigan Week. A trip to the state capital in Lansing allowed the Political Club members to sit in on a session of the two houses. The Political Club took an active part in canvassing for registration in the Marshall millage issue and sponsoring the student council elections.

Spanish Club officers were Mary Wynne, secretary; Ted Mosier, treasurer; Randy Aalbrechtse, 2nd vice-president, Willy Ramos, 1st vice-president, and Myra Gratz, president.

Among the participants in the French contest sponsored by W.M.U. were Kathy Stewart, Sandy Mowery, Ron Paulson, Suzy Mowery, and Margaret Dunn.

Language clubs create atmosphere for students

The language clubs of Marshall High School—Latin, Spanish, and French—participated in activities traditional to the culture of each language. Such activities included the Spanish Club Christmas party. Students prepared piñatas for the party. The Latin Club held a banquet in the Roman tradition. Ten French Club members memorized French poetry and prepared a skit to present at a club meeting.

Each language club sponsored a dance to earn money to carry on its activities and bring a little atmosphere to the rest of the students at Marshall High School.

Art Club members decorate homecoming dance

An organization of somewhat less than a serious nature, the art club gathered together approximately once a month for a "business" meeting. When they weren't busy staging unusual Dial pictures, the art club members decorated for the homecoming dance, the Halloween Dance, and their own "hippie" dance. At the end of the year, the club sponsored and decorated its own Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Art club members find the atmosphere "up on the roof" conducive to creative thought.

Library club provides service for students

The Library club is primarily a service organization. The members assist students with reference materials, card files, checking out books, putting books away, and checking students in and out of the library. Club members are junior and senior girls who receive a half credit a year for their services. The girls have the responsibilities of keeping the room straight, taking care of magazines, and inventorying books at the end of the year. In addition to these duties the members aid Miss Bullock in deciding which new fiction books to purchase.

Pam Brown, Library assistant, glances up for a moment to check the arrival time of a student.

The Library Club members: are front row; Linda Wright, Sharon Coffman, Chris Kincaid, Pam Brown, Shelia Creech, Margo Knapp, Wilma Richardson, and Alice Jenkins; back row: July Allen, Ann Hazel,

Mildred Stone, Jean Laing, Connie Craft, Sue Flynn, Marlene Yarrington, Kathy Deyo, Maryilyn Laupp, Miss Eleanor Bullock, and Mrs. Phillips.

First complete coverage for year recorded by Dial

Many "firsts" were a part of the production of the 1967-68 Dial. The staff, under the direction of Mrs. Georgia Marsh, produced a yearbook covering events of the school year from September to June. The more complete coverage of activities necessitated the August delivery. Four Juniors joined the previously exclusive Senior staff the second semester, and several others were permitted to assist in production extra-curricularly. New techniques lifted the face of the advertising and academic sections, and a new flash unit improved the quality of photographs. These innovations helped to produce a Dial of which the students can be proud.

Linda Mahrle, news editor, has her own way to relieve the tensions acquired while writing in the journalism room.

Staff concentrates on improving the Highlight

109

Improvement was the watchword for the 1967-68 Highlight. In order to improve the paper nine of the eleven staff members journeyed to MSU for a journalism workshop. They also exchanged papers and articles with other schools.

The junior journalism class assisted in producing the spring issues to prepare them for the problems they would encounter the following year.

The five boys who make up the publications staff—Fred Hecox, Jim Pardoe, Kent Maurer, Jim Pohl, and Marvin Prescott—printed programs, papers, and other materials for the school.

The FHA officers for this year were Connie Shaw, secretary; Ilene Easter, treasurer; Miss Joyce Kohlhoff, sponsor; Betty Crapo, president; and Eatha Bradley, vice-president.

FHA sells mums at Homecoming

This year the FHA served the community in many ways. They served several meals for Future Farmer of America banquets and donated money to the Student Council postage drive. In order to raise money the FHA sold mums at the Homecoming football game, sold candy, and sponsored two dances, one of which was a "hippie" dance. Later in the year the girls organized a roller skating party and went swimming at Pokagon Indiana.

National Honor Society inducts 24

On March 6, 13 seniors and 11 juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society, an organization which recognizes students' outstanding achievement in scholarship, character, leadership, and service. At an all-school assembly, the ceremony was conducted by the nine two-year members. Dr. Duane Angel from Albion College was the speaker. After the ceremony, all the members were treated to lunch at the Fireside Inn.

FFA horticulture team wins state championship

One of the most active organizations at MHS was the Future Farmers of America. FFA is interrelated with the agriculture classes and gives the students leadership training along with the subject matter. The chapter sent three delegates to the National FFA Convention, Marshall's state champion horticulture judging team went to the National Junior Horticulture Society Convention in New York, and Larry Baker, John Powers, and Jim Watt earned the State Farmer Degree.

Omega Club sponsors "The Restless Ones"

Under the sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. William Haroff and Mr. Paul Rauth, the Omega Club sponsored the movie "The Restless Ones," shown at the Bogar Theatre. Formerly known as the Bible Club, the Omega Club, which means "The Living End," meets every Friday to discuss topics of interest. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Officers of the Omega Club are President, Marilyn Gard; Vice-President, Sharon Hoyt; and Treasurer, Rodna Rudolph.

The Omega Club members respond enthusiastically to Marilyn Gard's suggestion to sponsor "The Restless Ones."

Members of Omega Club listen intently as Marilyn Gard starts one of its weekly discussions.

Co-op members exhibit many different expressions of real enterprise.

Sixty-three students participate in co-op

Cooperative training enables many students from Marshall High School to become acquainted with on-the-job training at various local places of employment. Co-op helps to train students for specific jobs and fills the gap between school and full time employment.

Throughout the year co-op has sponsored dances to raise funds for the annual spring banquet attended by co-op students, parents, and employers. This year Dr. Raymond A. Dannenberg, Professor of Distributive Education, presented, "The Man with the Hoe," to the co-op students attending the banquet.

Sixty-three members and thirty-seven employers have participated in the cooperative training program this year.

Sharon Daker, a member of co-op, helps two young patrons at Petroff's Market.

New physical education clubs open to students

Two new girls' physical education clubs provided students with various activities this year.

Mrs. Carol Valasco and the officers of GAA, organized the club at the beginning of second semester. The girls traveled to other schools where they participated in volleyball playdays.

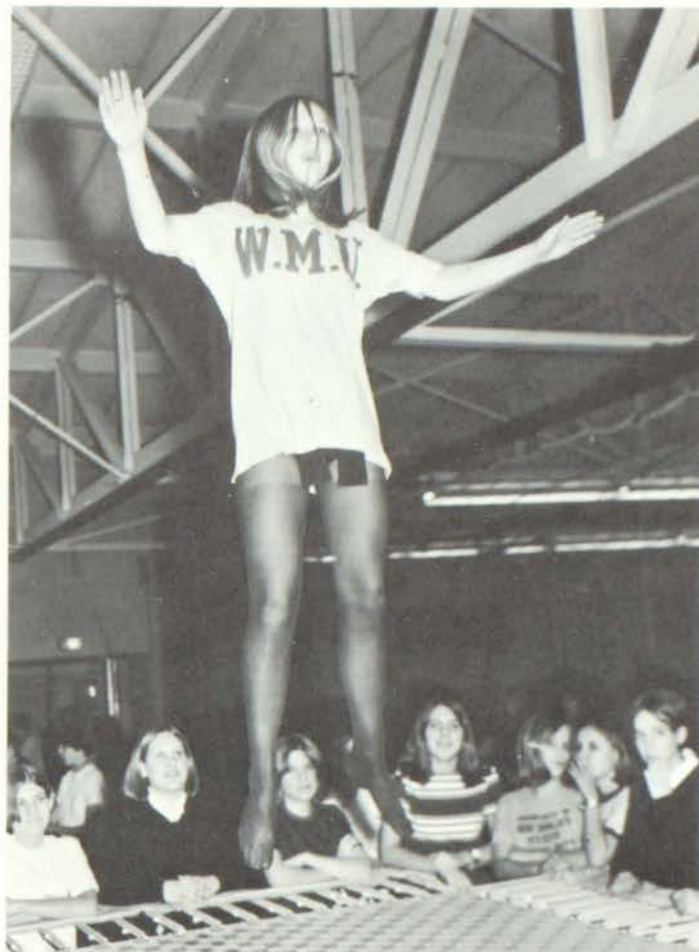

Newly organized this year was the girls' Gymnastic club, also sponsored by Mrs. Valasco. The members practiced on the trampoline, uneven parallel bars, side horse, and the balance beam. They later displayed their abilities in a half time performance of the Coldwater basketball game.

Sally Hart attempts a hip-circle, which is part of her routine on the uneven parallel bars.

Just before boarding the bus, GAA members stop to talk about their trip to Pokagon, Indiana, their last planned activity of the year.

Debbie Daniels displays her skill on the trampoline during a gymnastic club meeting.

GAA officers are: Cora Lehmkuhl, treasurer; Jan Mumaw, secretary; Becky Bishoff, point keeper; Lona Shaw, vice-president; and Ann Hazel, president.

Pep Club members work diligently to decorate cars, buses and make posters for the District Tournament Basketball games.

Pep Club posts signs and posters for games

116

In order to promote school spirit, signs and posters made by the members of Pep Club were posted throughout the school and at pep assemblies. Special work shops held to make signs and posters for the District Tournament Basketball games proved successful. The club sponsored by Miss Bobbi Smith, directed by Ann Clee as president, Sandy Redman, vice president, and Jean Blakeslee, secretary-treasurer. Pep club also sponsored two school dances during the year.

Usher Club serves school and community

This year the 23 girls in the Usher Club, sponsored by Mrs. Patricia Angel, served their school and community by ushering for the junior and senior plays, "Beauty and the Beef," and "Midsummer Night's Dream," the winter and spring concerts for the junior and senior high bands, orchestras, and choirs, the Junior Miss Pageant, and all Civic Theater plays.

Sports are another key in completing individual

Sports are an important facet of school life. They develop competitive spirit and teamwork, as seen in the spirited faces of cheerleaders and students at pep assemblies; the anxious face of a cager as he takes aim for a free throw; the determined face of a football player as he pushes down the field; the tortured face of a wrestler locked in a painful hold. Sports leave their mark on the face of a well-rounded individual.

Marshall acquires new football coach

During 1967 a very unusual football season occurred at Marshall High School. Hoping to give Marshall's new head football coach, Mr. Stanley Kendziorski, a Twin Valley championship, the Redskins met difficulties before they started. First the Redskins lost two of their finest linemen—Don Bagi and Bill Bosserd—because of knee injuries sustained in a scrimmage. Then the Marshall squad had to forfeit a game to Hillsdale because of a late season start.

Under the direction of line coach Mr. Barney Roy, the Redskin's front seven did an excellent job of opening up holes for Mr. Kendziorski's backs. This is shown by the fact that Marshall averaged 4.4 yards per carry. The Redskins used a new type of offense this year called the "I-formation." This enabled Dave Rodgers at tailback position, to score seven touchdowns and average 4.7 yards per carry. As a result he was elected to the all-conference team. On defense, end Pat Galloway also earned election to the all-conference team. Galloway also won the most humorous player award this year. Rodgers was elected most valuable, while Dave Buskirk was the most improved player of the year. Serving as captains were Bill Bosserd, Pat Galloway, and Tom Wood.

Jim Anderson completes a three yard play from scrimmage, enabling Marshall to gain a 39-0 victory over Coldwater for Homecoming 1968.

Rudy Ramos picks up valuable yardage against Coldwater, as he scampers 88 yards to a touchdown.

Members of the varsity football team this year were: First row; R. Ramos, T. Schneider, P. Galloway, D. Sundberg, D. Wallen, G. Lake, D. Hopkins, T. Banfield, B. Murphy. Second row; R. Gullett, D. Bagi, D. Heatherly, T. Waidleich, G. Fitzpatrick, G. Crapo, D. Gilger, J. Anderson. Third row; L. Baker, B. Perry, J. Sherman, D. Rodgers, D. Keiper, D. Buskirk, S. Kelly, manager. Fourth Row; Coach Kendziorski, J. Gabriel, B. Leach, M. Clark, J. Hotzel, M. Whittaker, Assistant coach Roy.

Playing football on the freshmen team this year were; First row; G. Sutherland, L. Topp, J. Sill, B. Smith, G. Kipp, B. Wheeler, M. Heatherly, R. Gutierrez, D. Gates, B. Reed. Second row; B. Gill, T. Kaser, B. Deming, A. Kramer, S. Kosinski, D. Albright, G. Wright, R. Scheick, S.

Obenour, J. Crapo, R. Zull. Third row; J. Sly, D. Mestemaker, B. Howard, J. Smalek, F. Crawford, J. Pahl, L. Leonard, D. Shamp, R. Wood, R. Fitch, D. Hazel, M. Chism, C. Hicks, B. Bastian. Missing are G. Willis and K. Dixon.

This year's varsity award winners were Dave Rodgers, most valuable; (assistant coach Roy); Bill Bosserd, co-captain; Tom Wood, co-captain; Pat Galloway, co-captain and most humorous player; (head coach Kendzioriski); and Dave Buskirk, most improved.

Cross country team finishes fourth in Twin Valley

Marshall's cross country team, under the new direction of Mr. Michael Stockford, finished its 1967 season this fall with a seven win, six loss record, capturing fourth place in the Twin Valley standings with a conference record of seven and five. In the Class III Albion Invitational, Marshall placed seventh out of the sixteen schools participating. Bart Cook, team captain, broke the old school record of 10:26 twice, with times of 10:18 and 9:59. Cook also went to the state finals in Ypsilanti, Michigan and placed third among 90 other participants.

Bart Cook, third place runner in the state, sets a new two mile record of 9:59.

Lynn Long, demonstrates great stamina at the Albion Invitational.

Marshall's cross country team made a fine showing placing third of 16 teams at the Albion Invitational.

Intramural program adds floor hockey competition

Boys' intramural volleyball became a high point of interest, as it involved many participants.

Under the direction of Coaches Jare Klein and John Hamilton, the intramural sports program expanded its activities and attracted one of the largest followings it has had in recent years. In addition to the boy's noon hour and Tuesday night basketball leagues, there was also a co-educational volleyball league which played two games during each noon hour. Another addition to the program was boys' floor hockey competition. This event created rough-and-tumble action during many of the games and prompted the referees to eject many players for "high-sticking."

Wrestling and paddle-ball tournaments drew keen interest from many parents and friends as well as from the participants themselves. The program gave many students, who would not otherwise be able to compete, the opportunity to participate in an organized sports program.

Some boys were so enthusiastic with noon hour paddle ball, that they warmed up for competition by hitting tennis balls.

Emerging as handball champions this year were J. Negus and B. Frieny, Bush League, and W. Wright and J. Sherman, Minor League.

Starting with a little practice time before the boys came, many girls showed their aptitude for volleyball.

This year's noon hour floor-hockey champions were the "Playboys," with a won-loss record of five and one.

This noon hour basketball team captured the girls' intramural league championship in its first year of play.

First row; Tom Schneider, Willy Ramos, Bruce Murphy, Bart Cook, Bruce Bosserd, Dave Harrington. Second row; Chuck Biddleman, manager, Al

Marshall redskins are a record breaking team

As the crowd watches, Bart Cook tries for two, but is blocked by Portage Northern.

The MHS varsity basketball team, coached by Mr. Don VanderGeest, was a record breaking one this year. As a team, it broke the record for the most points in one game by defeating Harper Creek, 105-49. The previous record was 99-74, also set against Harper Creek. Steve Redman broke the rebounding record, previously held by Glen Gray, with 304 grabs. Setting a new record was Bart Cook with a total of 166 assists.

The team was off to a slow start, but more than made up for this by winning 10 of their last 14 games. This encouraged the boys to go on and play into the regionals after becoming district champs.

Randy Aalbretsgge was high-scorer for the year with 186 points; Steve Redman won the Most Valuable Player award, while the Free-Throw trophy went to Bruce Murphy.

Varsity basketball managers Ron Goodwin and Chuck Biddleman, spend a good bit of their time in the gym taking care of equipment.

Roger Maisner tears down the net after Marshall wins its first district championship in six years.

Redskins take title in triple overtime

The Marshall Redskins became district champs in a thrilling, triple overtime game. The game ended with Marshall 81, Albion 78. In the semi-finals the night before, Marshall just edged Pennfield in double overtime.

After districts the team went on to beat St. Johns 56-40 in the regional semi-finals, which enabled the Redskins to compete against Chesaning for the regional title. After a hard fought game Chesaning defeated the 'Skins 73-68.

Steve Redman is fouled by Bob Baker as he goes up for two in the Albion game.

Marshall's basketball players rejoice after winning the district tournament against Albion in a triple overtime game.

J.V. basketball team ends with 9-9 record

J.V. Basketball awards were presented at the annual awards banquet by Coach Burt O'Dell. High scorer for the 9-9 season was Kirk VanderGeest with 227 points. Running a close second was Al Lemkuhl, with 223 points. Lehmkul was also leading rebounder with 174 grabs. Steve Mosier took the award for assists with 56 points, and Kirk VanderGeest accumulated 40 steals.

To allow the boys to share in the responsibility of managing the team, new captains were selected for each game. In an effort to give the freshmen some experience, three of them—Andy Hammond, Lyn Hankey, and Gene Willis—joined the squad toward the end of the season. Chuck Biddleman assisted the team as the manager.

Coach Burt O'Dell's enthusiasm is not limited to basketball—he even likes the storage room.

Teachers play ball

This year the student union-sponsored basketball game brought in over $400. The two teams, the Whizzies and the Slickers, played for over 800 fans and were cheered on by 8 of the teachers who were acting as cheering squad. The pep band was also made up of teachers.

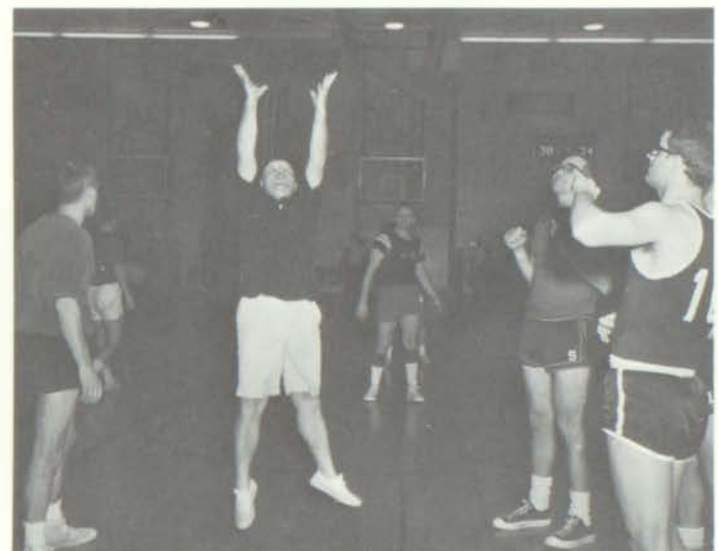

The cheering section consisted of; top, Mrs. Kathy Bach; middle, Mrs. Marge Aalbregtse, Miss Joyce Kohloff, Mrs. Phyllis Kendziorski; bottom, Mrs. Doris Taylor, Mrs. Georgia Marsh, Miss Mary Miller, and Miss Bobie Smith

These teachers helped supply the pep—Miss Sandy Kuhn, Miss Jeannine Horton, Mr. Barry Osborn, Mr. Ross VanNess, Mr. Fish Roe, and Mr. Fred Chaney.

The Whizzies, left, tied with the Slickers and thus there were no hard feelings.

Dudley Roy's teammates—Mr. Bob Eagleston, Mr. P.E. Hamilton, Mr. Doc O'Dell, and Mr. Hi Louman—cheer him on.

The 1967-68 Varsity cheerleaders were Mari Winsor, Judy Trapp, Mary Marshall, Joyce Lortz, and Suzie Richardson.

Mary Marshall, Joyce Lortz and Judy Trapp express cheery smiles as they promote school spirit at the Marshall-Sturgis basketball game.

Freshman cheerleaders: Bottom, Sandy Brown, Sharon McNary, Kathy Canady, and Debbie Daniels; Top, Mary Chene and Becky Backman.

Cheerleaders obtain new freshman squad

Under the leadership of Miss Roberta Smith, a freshman squad was added to the cheerleading group this year. The Junior Varsity also received new sweaters to go with the skirts they acquired last year.

The Cheerleaders sponsored activities throughout the year. Among these was the snake dance through town followed by a pep assembly held at the high school gym to generate spirit for the Albion Basketball game. The Varsity Cheerleaders decorated the Waverly gym in East Lansing for the District Tournament Basketball games. The cheerleaders also sponsored two informal dances during the year.

The Junior Varsity and Varsity Cheerleaders journeyed to Sturgis High School to attend the Cheerleading clinic held there. All three squads participated in the clinic held at Western Michigan University. At these clinics the cheerleaders learned new cheers and picked up pointers from other area schools.

First year grapplers show future strength

In its first year of organized inter-school competition, the Marshall wrestling team made a showing which promises future successes. Although the team lost its first four matches, it improved steadily and broke even in the win-loss column for their remaining eight matches. Under head coach Jare T. Klein and assistant coach Stan Kendziorski the team received a sixth place in the Twin Valley and a tenth position in the regional tournament held at Comstock. Marshall's only regional place winner was Don Shamp who received a fourth place in the 103 lb. division. In order to improve their skills, several boys plan to attend the Michigan State wrestling camp to be held during the summer.

Marshall golf team captures state championship

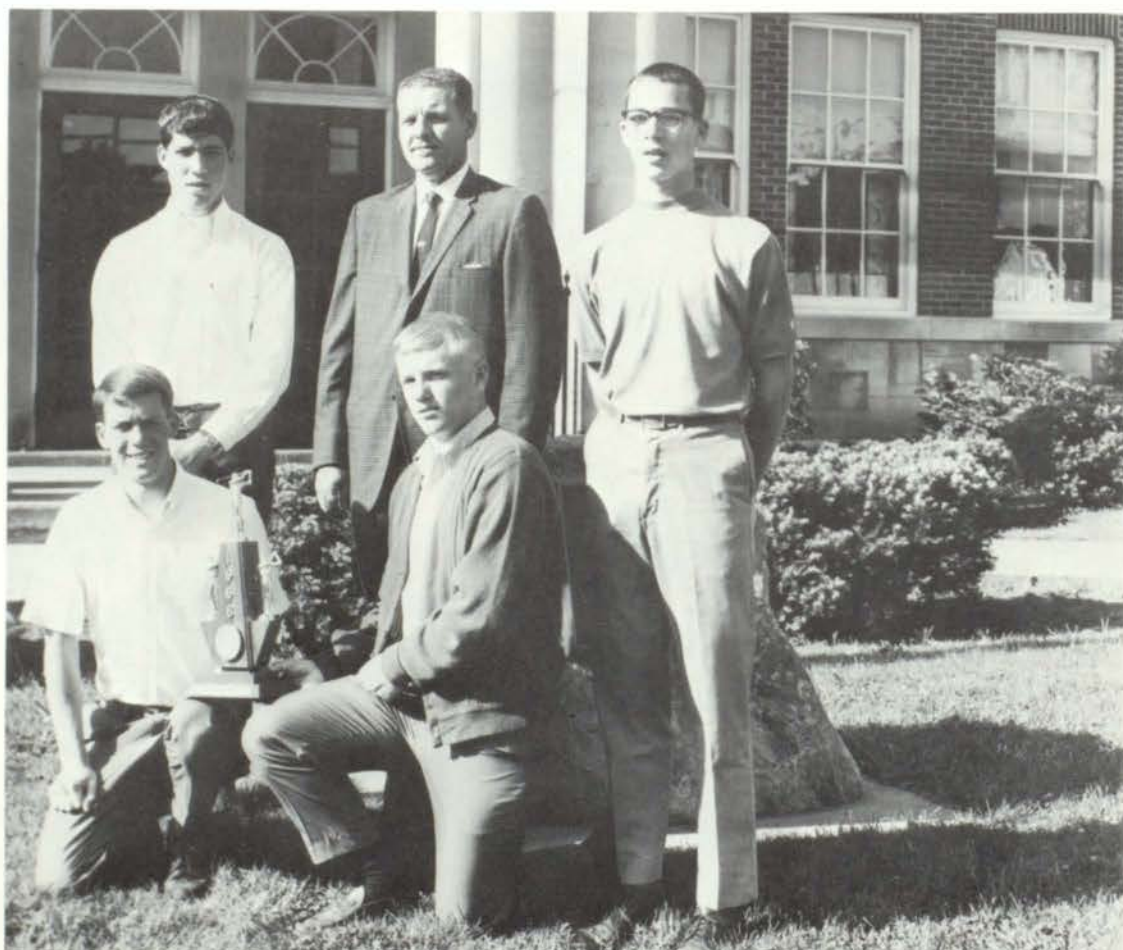

The 1968 golf team enjoyed a very successful season with a fine record of 15 wins and 4 losses. Going into the conference meet, Marshall was tied with Sturgis for first place in the Twin Valley, but overcame Sturgis to become the champions. Besides this very impressive record, the team won the regionals and tied for first in the state tournaments. No other Marshall golf team has ever performed so well in the state tournaments before. The team consisted of four returning lettermen Dave Soebbing, Steve Martin, Dave Harrington and Bill Hileman, coached by Mr. Donald VanderGeest.

Throughout the year junior Dave Harrington was Marshall's number one golfer carrying an average of 38 strokes per match. Dave also captured medalist honors at Gull Lake Invitational over five other schools with a two under par 69.

Tennis team captures class "B" regional title

Although the Marshall Tennis Team, coached by Mr. Jare Klein, placed third in Twin Valley, they won the Class "B" Regionals held May 24 and 25 at Albion. Having qualified in this meet Ray Crull, Randy Aalbrejtse, and Roger Maisner traveled to Stowe Tennis Stadium at Kalamazoo College, June 7 and 8 to compete in the state tournament. Even though the tennis team did not place in the state, Coach Klein was pleased with their efforts throughout the year.

MHS track squads break four records

The Marshall track team, a relatively new team, coached by Mr. Barney Roy and Mr. Donald Bach, won three of its six meets and had the second greatest number of points against Sturgis, which placed first, next to Harper Creek in the T.V. Marshall placed tenth in the Albion Invationals, seventh in the Regionals, and eighth in the Sturgis Relays. Their final T.V. standing was a tie for fifth place.

A number of track records were broken during the year. Steve Redman set a new high jump record of 6'3". He also qualified for the state finals in the high jump and the high hurdles. Brian Smith set a new freshman low hurdle record of 23.2 seconds. The freshman mile relay team set a new record of 3 minutes 59 seconds. Mike Heatherly set a new pole vault record of 10 feet. There were 55 boys out for track of which 19 received varsity letters.

Baseball team has seven returning lettermen

Randy Aalbregtse, Dennis Crull, and Roger Maisner watch the activities on the field from the Redskin Dugout.

The Marshall High School baseball team began their 1968 season late in May, taking on three non-conference teams before the league games began. The team, coached by Mr. Steve Eckert and assistant coach Mr. Dave Harm- sen, featured seven returning lettermen: Don Bagi, Bill Bossard, Ray Crull, Jim Gabriel, Rudy Ramos, Willy Ramos, and Tom Schneider. Marshall again hosted the American Baseball Congress Regional and State tournaments.

Academic activities are a face of knowledge

Helping the student to grow mentally, physically, and socially, academic activities are the foundation of school life creating wisdom and knowledge.

The changing panorama of academic activities is portrayed in the faces of teachers as well as the students: the stress of a night with the school board; the few moments for relaxation; the sharing of experiences and problems between teachers and students; the willingness to do what has to be done no matter how unpleasant the situation; the consulting between two teachers in order to improve classes. Students can even find someone to listen to them at lunch time.

Mitchell, secretary to the superintendent; and Mr. George Brown, vice president.

Administration faces new problems

Many new problems faced the administration this year at Marshall High. The main problem was the lack of enough classroom space. This caused an overflow of pupils to have uneven lunch hours, which added to the traffic in the halls and the disturbance of classes. Also, an unusually long flu epidemic kept many students out of class. This hindered the administration, because three times the normal number of students were absent.

Mr. William Crumrine, principal, is carrying out one of his many duties—communication with the high school teachers.

As Guidance Director to the high school, Mr. Ivan Fleser handles many important phone calls.

As junior high principal, Mr. Kent Esbaugh must occasionally fill in for one of his teachers.

According to Mr. Joe Cooper, Assistant Superintendent of Education and Athletic Director, our team is on the ball.

Mrs. Vera Quick, secretary in the superintendent's office, does her book-keeping.

Mrs. Marilyn VanderGeest, secretary in the vocational department, checks over the department's crowded bulletin board.

Mrs. Kathy Bach, attendance officer in the student personnel center, checks the roll.

Mrs. Betty Westercamp and Mrs. Harriet Mains, secretaries in the superintendent's office, work on the impending millage election.

As secretary to the superintendent of schools, Mrs. Betty Mitchell, keeps a record of appointments for Mr. Gray.

Secretarial staff gains new members

New this year to the secretarial staff are Mrs. Betty Westercamp, filling a new position as secretary to the administrative assistant, and Mrs. Harriet Mains, occupying the vacancy left by Mrs. Hazel Rushford as payroll secretary.

The secretarial staff has grown considerably. Only ten years ago it consisted of two secretaries in the administrative office. There is now a total of eight secretaries in the junior and senior high schools.

Mrs. Taylor, as secretary to the high school principal, must be capable of doing more than one thing at a time.

Mr. Houston's counselling continues even after a student graduates, as is shown by Dave Bailey receiving occupational advice.

As a part of her duties as a guidance counselor, Mrs. Jennet Storr handles many records for the student personnel center.

Mr. Eggleston is a new face in guidance office

Mr. Robert Eggleston, new counselor to the high school and junior class co-sponsor, is known for the cheery smile he has for everyone.

Mr. Robert Eggleston is a new counselor, part time, in our guidance center this year. He is carrying on his previous duties of teaching American History the other portion of the day. He, along with the other counselors, Mrs. Jennet Storr, Mr. Roy Houston, and Mr. Ivan Fleser, find that student problems are challenging, and they help advise the students with their classes, careers, and personal problems.

Library and Visual Aids expand their facilities

The Library expanded this year by introducing 200 new books, a special reference section, and planning rooms for teachers.

Visual Aids acquired three new projectors, 13 overheads, and 12 record players. MHS teachers now receive films directly from the County Instructional Materials Center.

Mr. Clytus Carr takes care of one of the 3 new Bell and Howell projectors acquired this year.

Mrs. Shirley Trylick, junior high librarian, is kept busy helping students find books and other materials.

"Remember you have to be quiet in the library," says Miss Eleanor Bullock, head librarian.

Assistant librarian Mrs. Shirley Goodwin spends a great deal of her time in the library office.

Mrs. Jane Thompson, who teaches French as well as English in junior high, finds that paper correcting is not always dull.

Mr. Wallace Spiegel, high school English teacher, lectures his fifth hour students about Poe's style of writing.

Mrs. Georgia Marsh is surprised with roses which her seventh hour English class gave her before her wedding.

English department gains new faces

The English department has added six new faces to its staff this year—Mrs. Rosemary Irving, Mrs. Georgia Marsh, Miss Mary Miller, Mrs. Jerine Paulin, Mrs. Karen Splittorf, and Mr. James Telfer. Four of these teachers have added responsibilities. Mrs. Marsh is in charge of the journalism department which publishes the Highlight, the school newspaper, and the Dial, the yearbook. Mr. Telfer coaches the debate squad and teaches speech and forensics. Mrs. Splittorf teaches special education, which is new to the high school this year. Mrs. Paulin also teaches art.

Mr. John Ickes finds all students enjoyable whether they are in his English class or roaming the halls.

Mr. James Telfer, newcomer to the Marshall school system, explains the timing procedure to these enthusiastic speakers.

Preparing her next day's lesson in the quiet of the library conference room is Mrs. Rosemary Irving, MHS English teacher.

Department acquires overhead projectors

Under the leadership of Miss Frances Merritt, chairman, the English department acquired two new overhead projectors and a new set of dictionaries. A collection of classical literary works was started. To explore the new teaching techniques and instructional materials, Mr. W. Wallace Spiegel attended sessions of EPIC's sensitivity training program.

Mrs. Martha Haroff, a Spanish as well as English teacher, occasionally uses comic books to teach her Spanish class.

Miss Mary Miller finds a moment to express herself while correcting her classes' English papers.

Mrs. Bessie Ivey, Special Education teacher in the junior high school, points out projects done by her students.

Mrs. Barbara Mauer takes time out from her junior high English and Reading classes to help students select books for their reading.

Mrs. Karen Splittorf, English and special education teacher, helps Chris Overly with a question he has on the spelling words.

Dave Engblom receives a pass from Mr. Dennis Bacon so he may obtain additional information in the library.

The antics of Mrs. Linda Hupenbecker's eighth grade English class are sometimes amusing and sometimes not.

Current events are vital to the study of history

Through current events students become more aware of the present. The social studies teachers emphasize current events in various ways. Some of the teachers set aside a certain part of the hour for discussion of current topics. One even designates one day a week for this purpose. Others integrate these events into their regular course of study.

Teachers are also using more visual aids in presenting their subjects. The new Instructional Material Center makes these materials readily available to the teachers.

Mr. Barney Roy asks Alvin Fox to take one of his chairs down to the maintenance department to be repaired.

Ann Leyden, secretary, stands by as Mr. Phil Wuori, sponsor, checks the political club's minutes.

Two new history teachers join staff

Mr. J. Thomas Trantum traces the route of the Yellow River of Mainland China in his International Relations class.

This year two new history teachers, Mr. Burton O'Dell and Mr. Stanley Kendziorski, joined the social studies department. Mr. O'Dell previously taught elementary physical education in Marshall, but Mr. Kendziorski is new here. Mr. Kendziorski teaches both senior and junior high, whereas Mr. O'Dell teaches junior high students.

Teaching social studies and coaching seventh grade basketball take up a good deal of Mr. Nicholas Timmer's day.

Miss Jessie Truesdell shows deep interest in her American History class as she explains major events to them.

Mr. Burton O'Dell, eighth grade history teacher, discusses the events leading up to the War of 1812.

Mr. Ken Machata returns to his class after a short coffee break in the teacher's lounge.

"Very nicely done," says Miss Ruth Ann Erskine complimenting one of her math student's board problems.

Mr. Donald Bach solves one of the more difficult problems for his Algebra I class.

Mrs. Esther Moss awaits the ringing of her alarm clock to begin her general math class.

Mr. Larry Glynn checks the attendance before getting down to the algebra assignments.

Math department gains new text and new teacher

The math department had three new additions this year. New general math textbooks were added, and Mrs. Phyllis Kendzioriski replaced Mrs. Georgia Aldrich, who retired after the first semester, as a junior high math teacher. Also, Mr. Raymond Miller replaced Miss Elinor Reese at the beginning of the second semester.

A complete curriculum in mathematics was offered the students. The department, headed by Mr. Kenneth Machata, provided courses ranging from general math to a fifth year math course for advanced senior math students.

Mr. Steve Eckert takes life easy as he explains problems to his second hour students' general math class.

Mr. Ray Miller—after compiling mid-quarter grades to let the students know where they stand—passes them out.

New laboratory facilitates the learning of languages

French, Spanish, and Latin were the foreign language courses offered to students this year. Spanish classes, taught by Mrs. Martha Haroff and Mr. William Haroff, strived for a more practical application of the language. In Mrs. Marsha Wood's Latin classes the students learned about the culture, mythology, and history of past Latin speaking civilizations. Also included was their study of the Greek language. Miss Susan Isaac taught the French language through the use of oral drills and informal speaking.

Mrs. Marsha Wood, who has a busy schedule teaching both Latin, and geography in the junior high school, takes a moment out to relax.

Grants provide new equipment for science students

This year the MHS science department received two grants of $5,000.00 each, which were used to purchase new laboratory desks for the combined chemistry-physics laboratory and the biology room. The Marshall division of Eaton Yale and Towne provided the first grant which was then matched by the federal government under the National Education Defense Act designed to promote scientific studies. The new desks complete with sinks, drawers for equipment, and various attachable accessories, provide the students with better conditions under which they can experiment.

Being caught with a spare moment is a rarity for Mr. Bruce Roe, as he teaches general science, chemistry, and physics.

Valerie Hubbard inquires about a corrected test question from Mr. Michael Stockford, general science teacher.

Members of the "weaker sex" bravely study the white mice in Mrs. Joyce Twist's junior high science class.

Mr. John Barnes, who teaches junior high science and civics pauses a moment before replying to a student's question.

Mr. Richard Kelly of the science department demonstrates the use of an autoclave to lab assistant Barb Hindenach.

Miss Elizabeth King, high school art teacher, wonders which paper sculptures her first year students made to display in the show case.

Art department acquires new skills and ideas

The Art Department has obtained two new teachers, Miss Elizabeth King and Mrs. Jerine Paulin. They brought with them many new ideas and skills. Introduced for the first time this year was silk screening. Other projects included ceramics, batik (which is the process of dying cloth with waxes), copper enameling, and sculpture work. The students also learned about the history of art, which led them to a better understanding of the course.

Birgit Heusinger, an exchange student from Germany, takes a moment to relax, while busily working on her Christmas decorations.

Strings and winds receive two new teachers

Mr. Ross VanNess displays with vitality the ability he has to lead the Marshall High School Band.

Mr. Barry Osborn, who teaches beginning elementary and junior band, the junior band, and the concert band; and Miss Jeannine Horton, who teaches beginning strings and the junior high orchestra, are new teachers in the music department. Mr. Ross VanNess, head of the department, conducts the high school orchestra and band. Mrs. Ardath Deming teaches the Marshall Singers, the girls glee club, and the high school and junior choirs.

Miss Jeannine Horton, junior high orchestra conductor, stands by to offer assistance to Regina Kuschmann and Margaret Dunn.

Mr. Barry Osborn rehearses the junior high band in preparation for the district festival.

Mike Brown, accompanist, practices as Mrs. Ardath Deming chooses music for the high school choir.

Vocational department is continually growing

The vocational department has grown this year. Mr. William Josephson joined the staff in the new position of Co-operative Occupational Co-ordinator for Distributive Education. In addition to the three classes of Retailing and General Distribution, he has co-op co-ordinating duties.

New equipment has been obtained through the National Defense Education Act. This has enabled the school to purchase new electronics equipment as well as some industrial drafting machines. Going into it's third year the electronics program is experiencing a rapid growth.

Mr. Floyd Beneker, FFA sponsor and agricultural teacher, gives individual help to Steve Schieck during class time.

Electronics teacher, Mr. Paul Rauth, checks Jack Ballard's work in his electronics class.

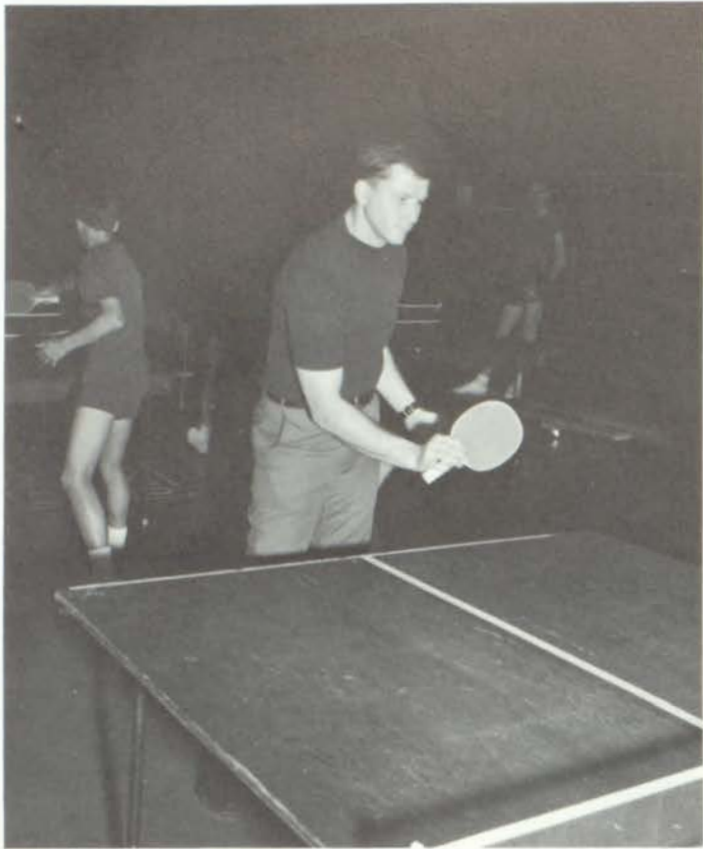

Shop students rely on Mr. Stanley Carlyon for instructions on how to operate the drill press.

Mr. Ray Davis inspects one of his student's drawings, along with some of the other students.

Wrist action is important in ping pong as shown by Mr. John Hamilton, new physical education teacher.

P. E. dept. introduces two new instructors

Introduced this year in the girls physical education department were the fundamentals of golf and handball. The boys learned cricket and paddle tennis for the first time. Both the boys and girls participated in co-ed classes where volleyball was played.

"You gotta be tough," says Mr. Jare Klein, as he tests leg muscles in second hour gym class.

Mrs. Carol Velasco, new physical education teacher, explains a trampoline routine to Becky Murphy and Sue Waidelich.

Miss Joyce Kohlhoff explains the proper procedure for sewing seams to Sue Genest.

Department gains new kitchen appliances

This year the Home Economics Department staffed by Mrs. Lynnette Hostetler and Miss Joyce Kohlhoff tried several new approaches in teaching their classes. Guest speakers, including Mrs. Nancy Schuler and Mr. Ben Lark, spoke to the girls about good grooming and insurance policies. The classes also took field trips to Fox Florist, Wolf's Floor Covering, and Consumers Power Company where they picked up many useful household tips.

New equipment acquired this year included a refrigerator, range, and sewing machine.

Panel boards donated to business department

This year's curriculum of the Business Education Department was established to develop a basic understanding of everyday business activities. The department, headed by Mr. Fred Chaney and staffed by Mrs. Elizabeth Rhinehart, Miss Carolyn Reiger, and Miss Regina Titta, taught students typing, accounting and the use of business machines. Timed writings, used in the typing classes, helped the students gain greater speed and skill.

New equipment added to the department were panel boards which fit the accounting machines and were donated to the school by Eaton Manufacturing Company.

Mary Marshall receives help on her shorthand from Mrs. Elizabeth Rhinehart, who also teaches typing.

Miss Carolyn Rieger "keeps her eyes on the copy" during a class timed writing.

Mr. Fred Chaney instructs his students on the proper procedure in filing an income tax return during his Accounting II class. Mr. Chaney also teaches business, office machines, and Accounting I.

Service staff keeps school clean and tummies full

Mrs. Emily McMurtrie works at night to provide a clean school for the following day's use.

The kitchen staff's burden is eased somewhat this year with the introduction of the split-shift lunch system, whereby some students eat lunch during fourth hour instead of noon hour. Often working late into the night, the janitors polish, dust, and sweep each room as well as the halls. The separate maintenance personnel have the responsibility of general repair, and often are called to adjust and maintain the variety of school equipment.

Either touch-up painting or Miss Erskine's charming personality has put Mr. Kirk Neuser in a jolly mood.

The maintenance staff consisted of Mrs. Arora Luna, Mr. Jack Myers, Mr. Graham Brott, Mr. Karl Doher, Mr. Paul Thomas, Mr. Kirk Neuffer, Mr. Milt VanAuken, and Mr. Herm Murray.

Mrs. Bessie Gollmer, Mrs. Elizabeth Dunn, and Mrs. Joyce Carver made up the kitchen staff this year.

Two students perish in tragic truck-train accident

Gerald Mix

Death comes to all men and ends each man's contribution to his world. Death is little understood but generally accepted as the end of man's earthly existence. When a man dies at the end of a full life, his death is accepted as an inevitable occurrence in the natural course of events. But death becomes tragic when it ends the existence of those whose lives have not been developed completely, whose goals have not been reached, and whose contributions have not been fully realized. Such were the deaths of two of our national leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King and Senator Robert Kennedy, whose losses, felt not only nationally, but universally, will never be requited.

The death of a classmate, however, is a more painful loss than that of a national figure, for it is the death of a daily associate, a companion, a friend. The deaths of Gerald Mix and Winston Glen were met with much bewilderment and sorrow, and this sorrow is representative of their value as classmates and friends.

Merchants support education by advertising in Dial

In addition to the regular advertising that has previously appeared in the Dial, a patron section has been added in the interest of the professional business men who have a very personal contact with the youth of Marshall. The business community cooperates with the school in advertising, supporting the athletic program with a boosters page in the local paper, and employing students.

THE ORDER OF THE GOLDEN RULE

You, the high school students of today, are confronted with more major decisions than any other young people in the history of mankind. In making them, weigh the facts carefully. Be neither ashamed nor afraid to ask the advice of your parents, your clergyman, your instructors. These are people who are interested in what is best for you.

There is one basic principle of human nature that should play a prominent role in any decision you make: if your actions reflect respect for other people, you almost certainly will be respected in return.

“As we leave . . .

A yearbook may be compared to the four years of high school, for both hold many memories, and as we, the Dial staff, complete our yearbook, so do we complete our high school years. In finishing high school we begin a new phase of our lives, and as we leave, others enter, and the cycle begins anew.

. . . others enter.”
