board of education

BOARD OF EDUCATION—160 words—C. Storr—Catch line

The Class of 1935 wishes to express its appreciation to the members of the Board of Education for their faithful service during the past year. Their interest in the progress of education has been an important factor in maintaining the phases of school life which aid in the fullest development of youth.

Marshall High School during the present times, has been able, under the careful management of the board, to maintain all of its departments while many schools have had to close some of their departments. The student body is most appreciative of this fact.

President Mr. E. B. More
Secretary Mr. L. W. Schroeder
Treasurer Mrs. L. C. Sherman

TRUSTEES

Dr. G. B. Gesner, Mrs. Herman Beuker.

The year 1934-35 brought many changes in the high school teaching staff.

At the beginning of the year six new teachers assumed their duties here with us. They were Miss Elizabeth Burgett, art instructor and a graduate of Albion College; Miss Mary McLin, English instructor and a graduate of the University of Missouri and the University of Michigan, Miss Jean Whiteley, physical education instructor, a graduate of Michigan State College; Mr. Durwood Moore, commercial instructor, a graduate of Michigan State Normal College and Cleary College; Miss Alice Thomas, home economics instructor, a graduate of Hillsdale College, and Mr. Merrill Hendershot, history instructor, a graduate of Alma College. The rest of the teaching staff remained the same.

At the beginning of the second semester Mrs. Carrie Belle Wright resumed her duties as Commercial instructor after a semester's absence and upon the resignation of Mr. Merrill Hendershot, Mr. Durwood Moore took over his duties and Mr. Creighton Coleman assisted him in the history department.

During the course of the year the teachers sponsored several social functions.

The Hall of Fame has as its candidates those students possessing fine school citizenship and who by virtue of high scholarship, all 'round participation and distinctive service in extra curricular activities are deemed worthy, by a secret faculty, to be placed in a position of honor.

The persons chosen for the Hall of Fame for the 1935 DIAL are ten senior students possessing all the qualifications listed above. They are, in alphabetical listing: Robert Anglely, Wilmot Bossard, Robert Brownlee, Isabelle Katz, Rosemary Leyden, Margaret Murray, Louis Salsburg, David Sherman, Arlene Thenen and Pauline Tolhurst.

Lack of space does not permit individual mention of all the accomplishments of the above group. But included herein are to be found the class valedictorian, Pauline Tolhurst; the salutatorian, Robert Brownlee; and Arlene Thenen pressing these former two for scholastic honors. All students chosen are to be found in the upper one-third of their class in scholarship.

But by no means is the ability of these people confined to distinction in scholarship. Listed in the group are Isabelle Katz, the winner of the D. A. R. medal for excellence in civics and citizenship; Louis Salsburg, president of the Science Club and the editor-in-chief of this yearbook; Wilmot Bossard, griddler, musician, yearbook business manager and editor of the school paper; Margaret Murray, G. A. A. president and associate editor of the paper; Robert Anglely, MESS president, actor, basketball and baseball player, and student council representative; David Sherman, football, basketball and track star and class officer; Rosemary Leyden, student council representative and student council election candidate, a moving spirit in the activities in which she participated, especially those of her class.

We congratulate them and wish them success in the future.

Faculty Committee.

senior class history

'Twas a bonny September morn, way back in 1931, when we, freshmen lads and lassies, tripped merrily o'er the threshold of this famed institution of learning. We were destined to become one of the peppiest, most spirited, successful classes ever to be graduated, but we don't wonder that our teachers and upperclassmen never suspected it. We must have been a fresh bunch of leery-eyed, frightened looking, dizzy-headed green-horns, as are all freshmen. We elected David Sherman president, and made some bold attempts to gain some attention and respect. However, the boldest of these was a high school dance. We ended the year with a picnic at Duck Lake.

With renewed hope and courage, we started our second year of high school life with Eugene Purcell as president and Miss Schertl and Mr. Clark as sponsors. That year two of our classmen showed talent in speech activities, and both earned letters in debate. Purcell, Sherman, and McKiver started to make names for themselves in football and basketball, and we also furnished material for the band and orchestra. The parties we sponsored that year showed improvement, and we again closed the year with a picnic at Duck Lake.

And then we were juniors! And as juniors we were some builder-uppers, we must modestly admit. Again Gene Purcell was elected president, and Miss Shoup and "Charlie" Carr were our honored sponsors.

From the very beginning we had the other students, yes, even the seniors, looking up to us. Our two candidates, Junior McKiver and Marge Jones, beat the senior candidates for the cherished offices of president and vice-president of the student council. We also won five dollars in prizes on our campaign program and window display. The Armistice dance, which we sponsored after the Albion game, was a "swell" party, according to all those who attended.

Next came the savory odors of baked ham from yon cooking headquarters. Amidst much loosening of belts, the juniors were heartily proclaimed unexcelled cooks.

Then one night the auditorium was packed to capacity, and those famous juniors presented their class play, "Ghost Parade." Really, some wanted to know if we imported a sure-nuff danky straight from de Sunny South, or was that actually Jack Schnaitman? Anyway, the play was a knockout.

But the juniors had not displayed their very "special" talent yet. They saved that 'til last, when the strains of "The Little Dutch Mill" floated through the gymnasium. Yes, it was a grand J-Hop, and 'twill ne'er be forgot'. A bunch of happy juniors picnicked at Pleasant Lake that year, happy over the completed year, and looking forward to another just as successful.

Were we just a wee bit more dignified as we entered our dear old alma-mater in September, 1934, or was it our imaginations? At any rate, there was a noticeable change. Some friendly, familiar faces were missing, and here and there we found new ones. But we still were the same old gang, and hadn't forgotten how to throw a party, as we proved when we gave the first dance of the season, a real old get-acquainted party.

Then, in rapid succession, came the senior activities. Among them was a chicken-pie supper, by which we earned enough money to enable us to buy a piano and present it to the high school as our class memorial. Again the applause of an appreciative audience fell on our ears, as the curtain closed on "The Charm School," the senior play, presented in April.

After working for two years, earning money for our class treasury, we seniors deserved suitable reward, and we got it, too. The class held its senior party Friday night, May 3, when it attended a movie at the Post theatre in Battle Creek, and afterward enjoyed supper and dancing at the Lantern Gardens. Some party—so said we all.

And now, as we go to press, we are eagerly looking forward to Baccalaureate, our pageant, and the commencement exercises. After making this building our home for four happy years we're going to sorely miss it, but may we, as senior lads and lassies now, be long remembered for the records we have made here and for the good things we have done, as we shall always remember those with whom we have worked and played.

Marshall Freshman College wishes to thank the DIAL Staff for allowing the College to have a page in the DIAL, and to congratulate the staff for its fine publication.

This new educational movement was organized in Michigan in the fall of 1934, and has been so firmly established in many places that it is to be continued as a permanent part of the school system. In Marshall the school was organized with a group of forty-five students who entered into their first year of college work with an abundance of enthusiasm and a willingness to cooperate. The work is done under the supervision of Western State Teachers College, and the credits may be transferred to nearly any college in Michigan as Western State Credits. The subjects offered in Marshall have been algebra, American history, analytic geometry, biology, geography, music appreciation, psychology, rhetoric, Spanish, and trigonometry. The instructors for the first year were Creighton Coleman, Henry Harvey, Ellen Lardner, Bernard Wetherell, and Helen Purcell.

The outside activities include football, basketball, baseball, tennis, the publication of the college paper Neophyte, class activities, athletic association, dances, Astronomy Club, Spanish Club, chorus work, assemblies, and other minor activities.

The expenses of student activities have been taken care of by student organizations. The profits of the Neophyte have enabled this page to be devoted to the Freshman College. The athletic association has sponsored dances and financed all of the sports program.

The year has now drawn to a close. The students are ready to go on to higher and more far-reaching achievements. It is only fitting that this brief record be left for those who follow, and for those who look back to see what has been done before.

junior class history

Awed, but nevertheless determined to show those superior acting sophs that we had just as much, if not more stuff than they had, we embarked on our four year struggle for "edjycashun." Soon after we became accustomed to the rules and regulations, we had a class meeting, and elected Francis Walker president. Under his leadership we managed to finish the year in fine shape, ending with a picnic at Duck Lake.

After three short and carefree months we again tripped gaily through the stately portals of learning. One could scarcely have recognized us for the change that three months had brought about! As we wandered about the halls with an air of bored dignity, our young hearts thrilled to see the looks of admiration cast by those lowly frosh. To think that once we could have looked like they! Ye gods!

Milton Eddy was elected president, and we started the year off with a bang by giving a dance on November 24. Everyone who came agreed that we knew how to throw a party, and even the aloof and dignified upperclassmen came out of their shells long enough to congratulate us.

To prove that we were able politicians as well as party slingers, we nominated Naomi Reyer for secretary-treasurer of the student council. After a hard fought campaign Naomi was elected. Just one of the many proverbial feathers soon to be stuck in our hat.

As the arrival of Old Saint Nick approached, we presented the play "Why the Chimes Rang." It went off capitally, until the end. Then the curtain stuck, and poor Jerry Hatch had to stand there with his hand held high until the curtain was fixed. Most embarrassing!

On November 11 we again burst forth with a dance. This one only served to increase our "rep" as party givers. We ended a most successful year with a picnic at Duck Lake.

Back once again, more dignified and cocky than ever, we elected Louise Hubbard president. On November 11 we celebrated the football victory over Albion, which by the way gave us the championship, by throwing an open dance. Did we celebrate!

Our political blood again surged forth in the annual student council election. After a hard and fierce battle (in which the seniors nearly won out) we placed our deserving candidates in office. Milton Eddy won the presidential honors while Naomi Reyer, that fair maid, took the vice-presidency.

Our ability as actors came to the front a short time later when we presented the play "Heart Trouble." We still have to laugh when we think of Rex Vernier shaving! Proving that our success as actors was not just a chance happening we again set forth and with speech activities, through much magic and hinduism won first in the Dial Variety Show contest. To think that Vern Salsburg would eat a poor little goldfish! My, oh my!

As this Dial goes to press we are preparing for the annual J-Hop. We expect it to be the best in many years, although we admit we will have to work some if we beat the one which the present seniors gave last year.

usher club

"Rise please, take the second seat from the left, please."

"Oh, Marian, what'll I do? I've parked all those people in the wrong seats!"

But these were exceptional occasions, because the girls did a very commendable job of ushering this year.

With Marian Walbeck as head usher and Jeanette Stealy as assistant, the girls donned their red and black uniforms and made their initial appearance at the production of "Crazy Politics."

The club also ushered at the junior play, "Heart Trouble," the senior play, "The Charm School," and at the grade operetta. Small groups of the girls also took turns ushering at less important events.

At the DIAL Variety show the girls represented a "ford," with Rosemary Leyden as the loose nut at the wheel. The result was much hilarity and several blow-outs as they rattled across the stage.

Twenty new members joined the club this year, and Miss Wagner was the sponsor. Although the club was not as active as it has been in some years in the past, still we feel it well represented the school at the various functions which took place in the auditorium.

Whiz! bang! pop! Don't look so scared, that wasn't fire works that was just the Girls' Athletic Association getting off to a good start with a brand new constitution, point system, sponsor, and officers.

The old members began the social functions with a chop suey supper early in the fall. The next important event was initiation night, February 7, when thirty-three new members were taken into the association, following a cooperative supper.

Other features of the year were a high school assembly in which all members took part, an open dance sponsored by the organization, and inter-class sports.

The grand climax was the Spring Formal held April 12, and which was, according to all who attended, bigger and better than ever before. The decorations were in a Japanese motif.

Last of all came the annual breakfast which was held at the Marshall Tavern. Honors were awarded to the girls and the cup was presented to the class which had won the most tournaments during the winter. New officers were then installed, and fond farewells were spoken. Everyone agreed that it was one of the most successful years yet.

library club

This year's Library Club was composed of seven work-worn librarians, the librarians finding themselves much in demand as there is only one each hour instead of two as there have been in other years.

The librarians are assigned the following periods; Marian Walbeck, before school; Mary Louise Butler, first hour; Arlene Thenen, second hour; Beverly Thompson, third hour; Martha Reincke, fifth hour; Rosemary Leyden, sixth hour; Catherine Storr, seventh hour.

Among the many duties the librarians have are: checking out books, checking out magazines, replacing magazines, weekly checkup of books, watering plants, keeping reference books straight, pulling shades, locking doors and making new arrangements for the display shelf. Do you wonder librarians look haggard and worn?

The librarians with their sponsor, Mrs. Parry, held a luncheon in the library during Christmas vacation. The day was spent checking and mending books, but fun was had by all. They will hold another party later in the year.

The library has gotten a large number of new books this year, most of them fiction and biography. They also were presented with a very valuable set of Michigan manuals, by Mrs. B. K. Bentley.

commercial club

With a membership of forty, the largest since its organization four years ago, the Commercial Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Moore and Mrs. Wright, held several enjoyable meetings during each month of the school year.

During the first semester the club was sponsored by Mr. Moore and during the second semester Mrs. Wright resumed the sponsorship after a semester's absence.

Some of the meetings were in the form of cooperative suppers with much food and entertainment. The others were meetings of a more constructive nature. The meetings of other years had been held at the homes of the members but because of the large membership this year's meetings were held at school. At one meeting the club was given an interesting talk on business by Mr. E. B. More, president of the Board of Education. The last meeting of the year is to be the annual picnic. The place has not yet been decided.

The club was headed by the president, Donna Chambers; the vice-president, Adeline Bottoff; and the secretary-treasurer, Alice Cortright.

"Heart Trouble," a hilarious comedy of the Morrison family was a great hit when it was presented by the juniors on December 6 under the directorship of Mr. Horton.

The members of the Morrison family were ably played by Martha Katz as the mother and Fred Rushford as the very convincing father. The two daughters were Laura and Patricia. The part of Laura, whose love affairs were the central interest of the play, was played by Louise Hubbard. Patricia, the little sister, was played by Naomi Reyer, and Rex Vernier played the part of Junior, the unreasonable kid brother.

Conrad Tyler, the "city slicker", who held the heart of Laura until his demanding wife appeared, was played by Dean Mahrle. His wife was played by Bernadine Bushre. Jethro Appleby, whose main trouble was his daughter Lenore, was played by Philip Brown, while Maxine Bails took the part of Lenore.

Although Laura thought the home town boys were hardly good enough for her she decides she will put up with Tommy Caler, the energetic local boy, after all. Tommy Caler was played by Francis Walker.

The scenes of the play were all played in the living room of the Morrison home. Others who helped to make the play a success were Minard Mumaw, property manager and Verne Salsburg the stage manager.

This year's F. F. A. activities have been pushed forward with a great deal of vim and vigor both by Mr. Wilcox and by the members. With the initiation of six greenhands this year, the total membership has gone up to twenty-eight. The inspiring title of "State Farmer" has been bestowed upon one of their number, and delegates have well represented the Marshall chapter at the state convention.

The officers of the club are: president, Dean Mahrle; vice-president, Herschel Krebs; secretary, George Elyea; treasurer, Max Miller; reporter, Oscar Sommers; and watchdog, Joseph Grable. Herschel Krebs has been made State Farmer, which is the highest rank possible in the state, than which the only higher is the National rank of American Farmer. Herschel is the only one from Marshall to receive this honor. May 2 and 3, the two Marshall delegates attended the State Future Farmers Convention.

The group visited Olivet and were instrumental in the initiation of their greenhands to the rank of Future Farmers. The Annual Banquet of the Future Farmers was also a great success.

senior play

The dramatic ability of the members of the senior class was brought to a grand climax when they presented "The Charm School" in the high school auditorium on April 10.

Robert Angley and Pauline Tolhurst played the leading roles as Austin Bevans and Elise Benedotti. Austin inherits a girls school and decides to teach "his" girls to be charming. Much to the disgust of Miss Hayes, principal of the school, played by Margaret Murray, he gives teaching positions to his three friends, David McKenzie, Jim Simpkins and George Boyd, played by Harry Roberts, John Withee, and Jack Schnaitman.

However, Miss Curtis, the school secretary, (Ruth Hutchinson) and the senior students played by Virginia Clark, Isabelle Katz, Pauline Herman, Kathryn Marks, Marian Walbeck and Dixie Rickahaugh, thought the new teaching staff was a great improvement.

Difficulties arose. Homer Johns, played by Wayne Todman, the divorced husband of Miss Hayes, has a large mortgage on the school. When Elise falls in love with Austin, causing much distress and worry on Miss Hayes' part, he forecloses and turns the school over to her.

Austin then goes back to his old job in New York to wait for Elise.

The student council has been hustling and bustling around in a heavy of activity ever since school started in September. Its first big job was conducting the all high school election and campaign day activities. Right after, the Junior and Freshman candidates, Milton Eddy, Naomi Reyer and Max Maurer walked off with the offices of president, vice-president and secretary respectively, student council started work under its new management in earnest. At this time their main job seemed to be making tickets for the games and checking the Union collections as they came in regularly once each month.

The first all high school party of the year was in the form of a get acquainted dance and was under the auspices of the council. A series of six Lyceum programs were much enjoyed throughout the year. Several exchange assemblies with different schools in the twin valley league were arranged for us by the councils of the different schools.

Throughout the winter months intramural sports kept busy the boys who were not on the regular athletic teams.

During the last semester a boys' club, the first in four years, was organized under the supervision of Mr. Creighton Coleman.

The organization chose the name MESS and the aims and ideals of the club were as follows: 1. hold sportsmanship and fair play to a high level. 2. respect yourself and all others. 3. be gentlemanly and courteous at all times. 4. be democratic and give consideration to others at all times. 5. be honest and sincere with yourself and others. 6. learn to appreciate good literature. 7. be modern in knowledge and in spirit at all times. 8. be efficient in all thoughts and actions. 9. learn to conduct yourself, in meetings in an orderly and definite manner. 10. keep faith with MESS and its aims and ideals.

The requirements for membership are as follows: a member must be in one of the three upper grades and maintain a C average. The officers are to be elected each semester and they must maintain a B average.

As one of its activities the club sponsored a drive for money. The sum of ten dollars realized by the drive, was turned over to the hot lunch fund.

boys' glee club

Another year of successful activities is on record for the boys' glee club. They have carried forward all of the usual activities with enthusiasm, and have embarked upon at least one new activity.

Mr. Jenvey has been the efficient director and he has been assisted by the officers of the club. They are: President, Gaylord Smith, business manager; William McKee, secretary; Milan Beals, and librarian, Willard Miller.

The group has represented the school in several outside performances. They have sung at Ceresco, Partello Grange, the Three Quarter Century club, the Starr Commonwealth, along with several other engagements.

In conjunction with the glee club a male quartet has been organized. The quartet was instrumental in the success of the annual Exchange Assemblies, and have appeared at Camp Custer, the Dulcinea Home and Baart Hall. The quartet is composed of James Stagg, first tenor, Mr. Jenvey, second tenor, Gaylord Smith, baritone and Robert Brownlee, bass. This is the first time in several years that a quartet has been organized.

girls' glee club

The girls' glee club this year had a membership of fifty, the largest in many years. The club sang for an assembly, for the Music Booster Club programs, and for several community programs.

One of the features of the girls' glee club is the trio. It consists of: First soprano, Naomi Reyer; second soprano, Virginia Shanley; and alto, Mary Elizabeth McKinstry. They were selected for the exchange assembly and sang for the Parent-Teachers Association, Monday Club and the Music Boosters Club program in addition to other appearances.

Fifteen members were chosen from the boys' glee club and the girls' glee club for a mixed chorus which sang at several places in the community and also went Christmas caroling on Christmas Eve.

Letters were received by six girls, Bernadine Bushre, Naomi Reyer, Margaret Nelson, Alice Carpenter, Arlene Thenen, and Pauline Otney. In order to receive their letters they have to have been in the girls' glee club for two years, made favorable progress, sang the required number of places. Only juniors and seniors are eligible for letters.

The officers of the club are Bernadine Bushre, president, Gwendolyn Page, business manager; and Fairy Gauss, librarian. The pianists are June Lobig and Lucille Leyda.

With thirty-seven prospective musicians, Mr. Jenvey has this year built the finest orchestra that Marshall high school has had in many years. Although not as large as usual, the orchestra, with Jack Craig, president, Fred Rushford, business manager, Eugene Purcell, secretary-treasurer, Daniel Freeman, head librarian, and Eugene Rowland, assistant librarian, has had a more than satisfactory year.

The orchestra has displayed its ability at the physical education exhibition, both the junior and senior plays, the style show, the Music Boosters concerts and at the graduation exercises.

Only two members will be lost this year through graduation and since the orchestra has been greatly strengthened with the addition of younger members it can be expected to be larger and better next year.

This year the letter winners are: Fred Rushford, Wesley Zull, Lohrman Zerbel, Virginia Wirtz, Dale Horton, Hollis Kappis, Roscoe Preston, Dorothy Knapp, Dale Kirkland, and Wilmont Bossard. Only juniors or seniors who have played two years are eligible to win letters.

BAND

Second row: E. Rushford, Wirtz, Miller, Eaton, Murray, Stelplflug.

SCIENCE CLUB

The forty-eight members of this year's band have comprised the largest and best band that Marshall has known. Mr. Jenvey has been very efficient as the director, cooperating at all regular school activities and lending musical color. Promises for next year are extremely encouraging as only two of the present members will graduate, while several new members will be brought up from the junior band.

Ten letters for music will be given to band members this year. The requirements for these letters are that one must play at least two years in the band or orchestra, and only juniors or seniors are eligible for the honor.

Four members were given one week scholarships to the American Band and Orchestra Camp, at Cheboygan this year and they will be members of an All-State high school band while there. Those who will go are: Jack Craig, trumpet, Daniel Freeman, trombone, Lohrman Zerbel, clarinet, and Wesley Zull, sousaphone. This is the first time that any members of the band have received this honor during the period of the last four years.

speech activities

This year's speech activities under the direction of Mr. Hendershot and Mr. Horton were well represented by the fourteen participants. The debates were under the charge of Mr. Hendershot and, while no records were broken, the debaters gained much valuable practice and knowledge. Mr. Horton assumed direction of all other speech activities and coached the entrants for declamation, oratory and extempore speaking.

The participants in declamation were Elinor Rushford, Edith Elsie, Marian Banfield, Valeria Stelpflug, Glenn Casey. First and second places were won by Edith Elsie and Glenn Casey, respectively. In oratory, Kenneth Albaugh and Ruth Hutchinson took first and second places, with Margaret Murray and Ellen Taylor as the other participants. Tommy Brownfield was the only one to qualify for extempore speaking.

In the sub-district contest Tommy Brownfield won first place in extempore speaking, and Edith Elsie took second in declamation. While in the district contest, held May third, at Homer, Michigan, Brownfield won first place in extempore speaking. A banner was presented to the school by the University of Michigan, for the school's victory.

science club

Under the combined direction of Mr. Hammond, the sponsor, and five experienced members, the Science Club got off to a flying start at the initiation ceremonies, held November 8. The pledglings were dined, fined and when they had completed the evening's activities they felt as if they had been wined.

Soon in full swing, they visited Battle Creek, the Gas Company and the Kellogg plant, to be exact, where they learned and looked with more or less results. Later, a full day was put in at Kalamazoo where the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Paper Company, Van Bochove's Greenhouse, and the State Hospital were visited. Many things were observed among them the fact that culled roses are really not so bad. The season closed with a trip to look over the Gage Printing Company, The Enquirer-News, and The Post plant during which souvenirs and an ever-so-slight bit of knowledge, were picked up.

The club fully utilized its two afternoons of school time, allotted for trips, and even went so far as to furnish some of its own. The trips were greatly appreciated and the club duly expresses its thanks for the courtesies shown it.

Nine members of this year's club will be left to assist Mr. Hammond in the 1935-1936 season.

The DIAL Staff, composed of the twelve members of the journalism class, published five editions of the school paper from October 24 to February 21, and climaxed a successful year with another successful (we hope) yearbook.

Lewis Salsburg was the editor-in-chief of the 1935 annual, Shirley Smith was associate editor, and Wilmont Bossard was business manager. Eugene Purcell and Jack Schnaitman were sports editors, David Sherman was feature editor, Margaret Murray, Catherine Storr, Robert Brownlee, Rosemary Leyden and Martha Reineke were literary editors, with Marian Walbeck as typist.

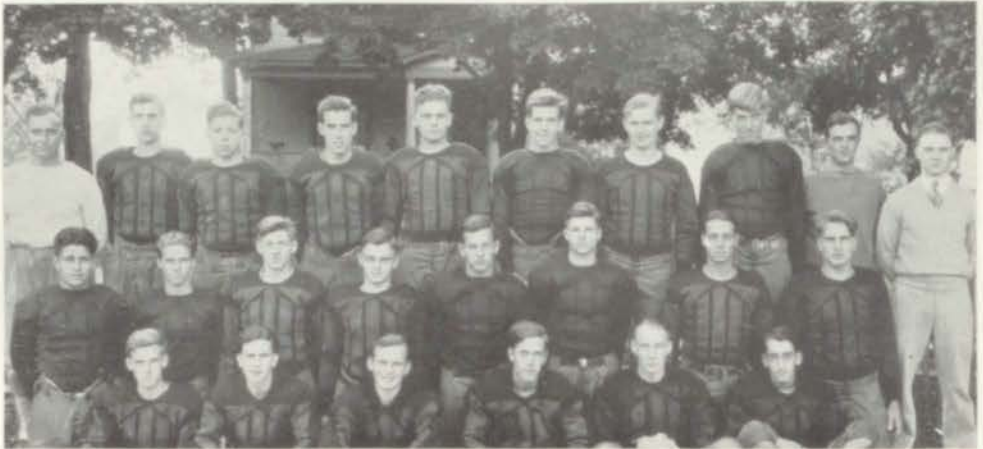

Wilmont Bossard and Margaret Murray headed the staff as editor-in-chief and associate editor, respectively, for the publication of the school paper. The other positions were changed at intervals, to give each person an opportunity to do several kinds of writing.

Early in the fall the twelve "journalists" motored to County Park to enjoy a steak roast under a starlit sky. But as fate would have it, rain came down in torrents just as the steaks were getting nice and sizzly. So the heart-broken journalists beat a hasty retreat to their cars, and the rest of the feast was partaken of in Leyden's kitchen, where the boys dried their shoes and the girls remembered all the things they had forgotten to bring home.

The twelve amateur news-writers have thoroughly enjoyed their year of work (and fun) which has been done under the supervision of Mr. Horton, and believe they have well cultivated their noses-for-news.

Football

Marshall High School completed its first undefeated, united football season under the directorship of Coach Carr and his assistant Gerald Davis, and by accomplishing such a feat the Redskins were crowned CHAMPIONS of the Twin Valley League.

The season opened September 21 at Parma, where the Carrmen had an easy time defeating the smaller school 38-0. On September 29 Adrian journeyed to Marshall and were downed 38-7. The feature of this game was G. Purcell's accurate passing. The day of October 15, Coldwater paid us a visit and went down in defeat to the tune of 13-2. Marshall showed a stonewall defense throughout the game and held Coldwater practically helpless.

Marshall then played Sturgis October 19 on the latter's field when they defeated them 14-7. The Marshall boys really showed that they were a fighting team. Trailing the Sturgeons until the fourth quarter they really opened up. E. Purcell and L. Hazel started ripping off long gains and through G. Purcell's accurate passing Marshall managed to eke out a victory. Marshall's next victim was Hillsdale on October 27, Marshall defeated them 13-7, the game was rather slow due to a wet field.

On November 12 Marshall journeyed to Albion to play in the annual Armistice Day clash. This was an important game because Marshall had lost no games up until this time, and Albion had only lost one, that to Adrian. The game turned out to be one of the most exciting games ever played between Marshall and Albion. When the final gun sounded Marshall was the victor with the score 15 to 12.

We, the students of Marshall High School, are very proud of the men on our 1934 grid squad. Those who saw regular service were: E. Purcell, G. Purcell, Bayley, Hazel, Banks, Hopkins, Neuffer, Groesbeck (Capt.), Livingston, Banfield, Caines, Goodwin and Sherman.

basketball

After enjoying a successful football season Coach Carr turned duties toward making an equally successful basketball squad. The Redskins did well by winning eight out of their fifteen games.

Marshall won their first three conference games. They journeyed to Adrian and were set down to their first defeat of the season. Marshall lost their next game to Coldwater. They then journeyed to Albion and played what we thought was the most exciting game of the schedule. The score was 16 all at the end of the regular playing time. They lost out in the overtime when Albion scored five points and Marshall was unable to tally. Marshall fell in a slump and only won one of the remaining four conference games.

The Redskins entered the Regional tournaments at Albion as the underdogs, but it turned out to everyone's surprise that Marshall was the Regional Champ by defeating Coldwater, East Lansing, and Hillsdale. Coldwater, who was the Twin Valley Champion, was favored to win, but they were greatly outplayed due to the fact that Marshall plays better in a large gym.

Marshall, by winning the Regional, entered the State Tournament. They won their first game from Adrian only to lose out in the semi-finals to Grand Haven.

Nineteen thirty-five marked the second year of baseball at Marshall High since its resumption under Coach Davis. Also in line with the growing interest in baseball was the inauguration of a four team conference in the Twin Valley circuit with a trophy to be presented to the winning team. Marshall had scheduled non-conference games with Vicksburg and Tekonsha besides the regulation frays with Sturgis, Coldwater, and Hillsdale.

In the first game Marshall bowed to Coldwater by a score of 12-6 although out-hitting the Coldwater aggregation 13 blows to 7. The second game, with Vicksburg, was strictly a pitcher's battle, with Marshall coming out on the short end of a 4-2 score. Rapid defeats followed at the hands of Sturgis, Hillsdale (twice), finally breaking into the win column taking the measure of Coldwater 6-5. Sturgis again whipped Marshall, however, 7-0.

As we go to press, we have one game yet to play with Vicksburg, here on May 17.

Track entered its second year as a spring sport in Marshall this spring under the directorship of Coach Carr. The Twin Valley has made it a regular sport this year and probably in years to come. Albion was the only Twin Valley school that did not enter track and baseball as regular sports.

The first meet of the year was held with Battle Creek on May 9 at the Food City school track. Marshall although beaten by the larger school 62 to 24, showed up very well. "Scode" Van Voorhees showed that he was a real high jumper by tying for first in this event. Kempf and Sherman finished first and second in the pole vault. Sherman also scored points in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bob Caines set a new Marshall high school record, when he threw the shot thirty-nine feet two inches to gain third place in the event. The record was held formerly by Ross Snyder. Elyea, Boos and Grable also showed up well in the running events. As this book goes to press there it to be a triangular meet held with Coldwater and Lakeview at Marshall on May 15. The regional meet this year is to be held at Kalamazoo on May 19. Marshall may claim some new champions.

The members of this year's track team and the events in which they entered follow. The men in the 100 yard dash are: Sherman, Kempf and Boos; 220 yard: Sherman, Kempf and Boos; 440 yard: Grable, Withee; 880 yard: Harry Elyea, George Elyea; Mile: Bentley, Harry Elyea; Relay: Kempf, Sherman, Boos, Grable. The broad jumpers are: Sherman, Van Voorhees; pole vaulters: Sherman, Kempf, Withee, and Trupiano; high jump: Kempf, Sherman, and Van Voorhees. Grable and Caines threw the shot.

The intramural sports for grades seven through twelve were carried out during the noon hour, and one game was played each day, five days a week. Nine games won for each team counted ten points, and a tie counted five points, the team with the highest number of points was to be called the winner.

The teams this year in the Junior High were evenly matched and it was a good noon's entertainment watching them play. The nine three's won the championship by winning eight games and not being defeated. The eight one's were in second place winning seven games and losing one. The season started November twenty-six and ended February first.

The Senior High season opened up the first part of February and continued through March. The teams were as well matched as those in the Junior High and the games were as equally interesting. There was a nip and tuck race between the eleven one's and the twelve one's for the championship. Each team defeated the other once, and, therefore it was necessary to have a playoff game. The seniors then showed their superiority by setting the junior team down to defeat.

Class softball has been started and these games are played also during the noon hour. Each class is represented by two teams and they play until they are eliminated. The team lasting through this series of games is the winner.

This program has furnished an activity for the students who do not participate in high school sports. The games this year were in charge of Mr. Carr who was ably assisted by Dick Kempf.

girls' athletics

For the first time in several years a definite program of girls' sports has been followed during the past year. It included soccer in the fall, volleyball and basketball in the winter, and baseball in the spring. All the sports activities of this year were sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association, and were under the direction of Miss Jean Whiteley, our new physical education instructor.

A team for each sport was chosen from each high school class by Miss Whiteley and the G. A. A. sports manager, who this year was Maxine Bails. Each team elected its own captain, and the captain appointed the positions on her team. In order to make any first team, a girl was required to attend a specified number of supervised practices, and to know the rules and regulations of the game being played.

After a given number of practices had been played off, the classes engaged in a tournament, and at the end of the year the class having won the most tournaments was awarded a silver loving cup.

A new point system was initiated at the beginning of this year. 100 points are given to a girl playing on a winning first team, 75 to a girl playing on any first team, and 35 to a substitute on a first team. A girl playing on a regular second team receives 50 points, and a sub receives 25. Points are also given for tennis, golf, roller and ice skating, tobogganning, hiking, swimming, and other individual sports.

Class numerals were awarded to a girl earning 100 points, and a letter "M" is awarded to a girl earning 500 points. A special letter is awarded for the earning of 1000 points.

Besides the inter-class games, golf and tennis were taught in the gym classes this spring. Tumbling and pyramid teams were also organized, and they performed at several entertainments.
