WE HONOR

Walter Jenvey, director of music, who has been a faculty member of Marshall High School for the past five years, and who has devoted his time and effort to furthering the appreciation and interpretation of music in the School.

It is the hope of the Staff for 1936 that this yearbook will bring back unremembered pleasures to your mind, and that it will remain, in future years, a chronicle of the events that composed a happy portion of your biography.

Board of Education

The members of the Marshall Board of Education are Mr. E. B. More, president; Mr. L. W. Schroeder, secretary; Mrs. L. C. Sherman, treasurer; Mr. Alfred Nagel and Mrs. Blaine Hatch, trustees.

Mr. Nagel was appointed upon the death of Dr. G. B. Gesner, a prominent member for ten years. Mrs. Hatch replaces Mrs. Herman Beuker, who resigned after serving for one year. Both new members are Marshall High School graduates.

Among the most notable works of the School Board are: The sponsoring of such projects as building repairs, book binding and desk refinishing, the sponsoring of a good recreational program for adults and children, and the approved revision of courses of study in both the grades and high school, which gives Marshall a more progressive school program.

Grade teachers, with equivalent qualifications as high school teachers have been placed on the same salary basis. The School Board has given the public a substantial reduction in school operating costs without curtailing the school program. The teachers have been encouraged to attend professional meetings and summer school, for educational advancement. School activities that promote health, character, and citizenship have been encouraged.

The School Board has shown loyalty and support to the school by attending most of the student activities. We sincerely believe they have always been a progressive and fair minded board with the best interests of the school at heart.

Hall of Fame

The faculty committee on honors and awards is pleased to announce its selections for the Hall of Fame of 1936. The five persons chosen for the honor are five seniors who possess excellent school citizenship, high scholarship, and who have distinguished themselves by wide participation and outstanding service to the school in extracurricular activities. In alphabetical listing they are: Maxine Bails, Tommy Brownfield, Milton Eddy, Louise Hubbard and Naomi Reyer.

Maxine Bails achieved unusually wide participation in activities yet was able to garner for herself highest scholastic honors. She participated in girls' athletics, was a member of G. A. A. and became its president during her senior year. In dramatics she was a charter member of Players Club and appeared in its productions as well as in both junior and senior plays. She was extremely active in School Council, was student chairman of the assemblies committee and a study hall monitor. She was also a member of Usher, Science, Commercial and Typing clubs.

Tommy Brownfield distinguished himself particularly in literary and speech activities. An able speaker, he was for two years winner of the sub-district contest in speaking contests and in his junior year won the district contest in the same event. In his sophomore and junior years he was a debater and as a freshman participated in the declamation contest. During his senior year he was editor of the school paper and is editor-in-chief of this yearbook. He played the leading role in the senior play, "Kind Lady," was an honorary member of Players Club and acted for two years as stage manager.

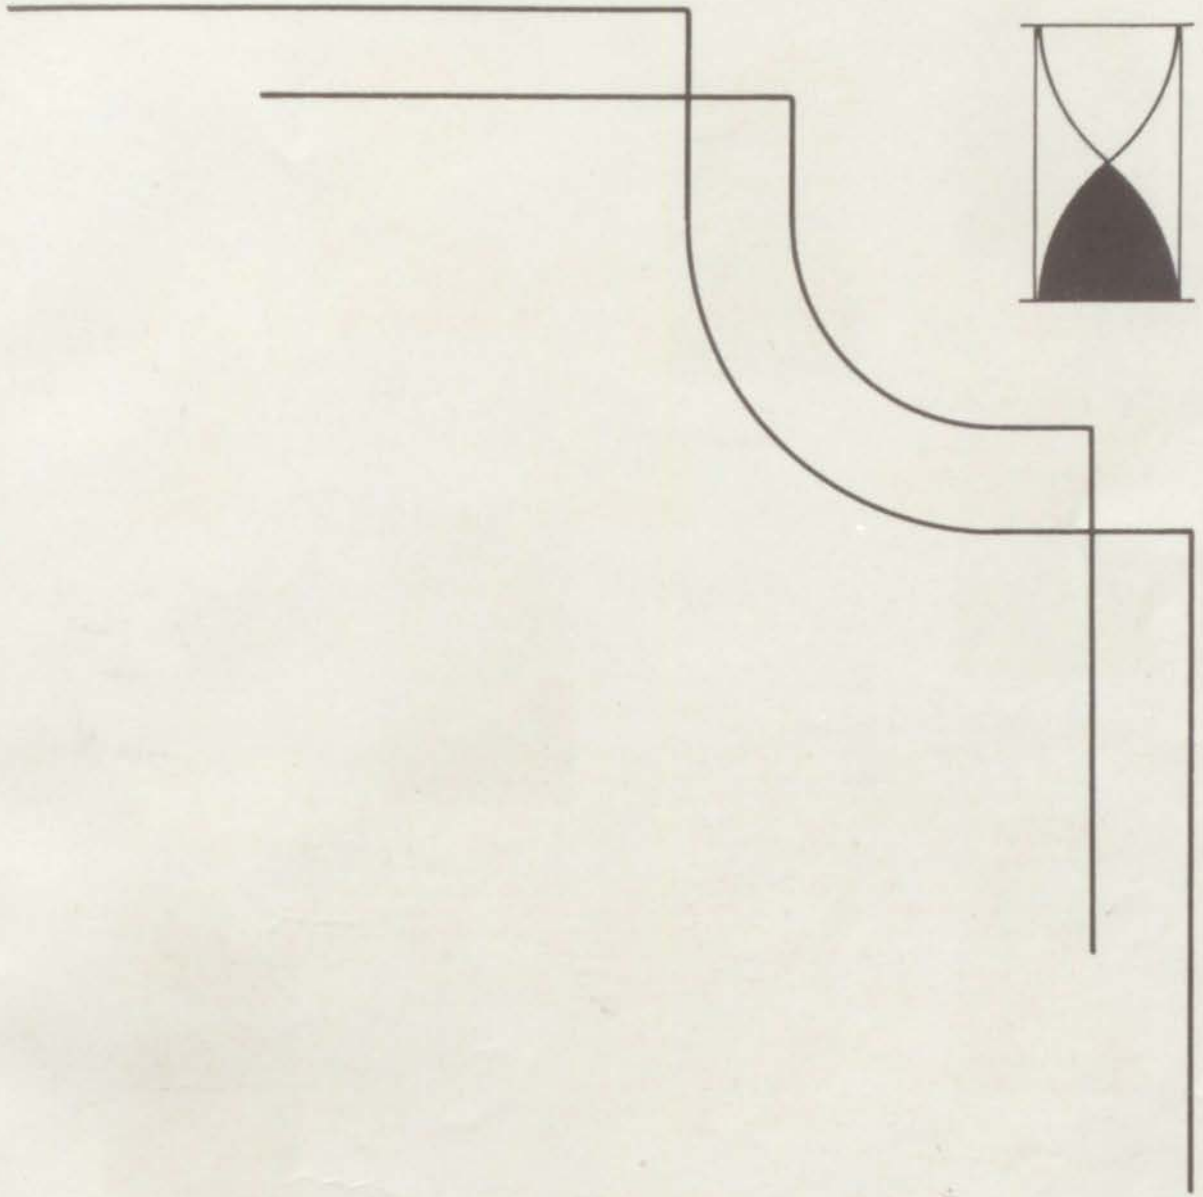

Milton Eddy was active in class affairs and in the affairs of School Council of which he was president his junior year. Under the council he became head of the committee of hall monitors. He was president of his class for two years. He played football for his first three years and became team manager and trainer during his senior year.

Louise Hubbard was president of her class during her junior year. She served as vice-president of School Council this year and for the past two years was student chairman of the important School Union committee. She was a helpful and cooperative member of several other organizations but will be best remembered for her distinctive participation in dramatics, particularly for her portrayal of Mary Herries in "Kind Lady." She also played leading roles in the junior play, Players Club productions, and assisted in the direction of "Tune-In" and other productions.

Naomi Reyer recently was chosen by the state organization of Daughters of the American Revolution for the "good citizenship pilgrimage" to Washington, the one girl of eighty-three candidates in Michigan to receive the honor. She was president of Players Club, appeared in its productions, in the junior and senior plays, and played a leading role in this year's operetta. In her freshman and sophomore years she was secretary of the School Council and as a junior was vice-president of that organization. She is president of the newly formed Typing Club and an officer of G. A. A. and a member of Commercial and Usher clubs.

Congratulations and wishes for success in life.

Respectfully submitted,
Faculty Committee.

SKIP-DAY BLUES

T'was the night before Skip Day,
And nowhere around
Could a valiant Senior be studying found.
When up from the wires there a-ROSE such a clatter,
They all rushed out to see what was the matter.
No Skip Day in Marshall, the principal said,
You're hatching a mess for the Black and the Red!
Call Charlie! Call Hubbard! Call Mumaw and Eddy!
Call Cortright and Reyer! Tell all to be ready!
The Seniors tomorrow must be in their places,
Or the Redskins will surely lose some of their aces!
Make haste and get out an emergency CARR,
And notify Seniors wherever they are!
So out in his V-8 rode Vigilant Verne,
Always prepared to do a good turn.
And the telephone wires were so busily humming,
That no one knew if he was going or coming—
And Seniors in Chevvy's dashed there and dashed here,
Like modern disciples of Paul Revere.
So Seniors DON-ned earmuffs to shelter their domes,
And Friday went all safely back to their HOLMES.

Junior Class History

When we entered the portals of our well known institution of knowledge in 1933 as Freshmen, we were as all Freshmen are, green (with envy) and with the hay seeds still in our hair, we blossomed forth on that sweet September morn, hardly realizing that we were destined to become an outstanding class and one to be long remembered.

We decided that Mr. Harrison and Miss Schertl could get our course over the rough and stormy sea, so we gave them a task for which they could hardly have thanked us. We elected Jack Craig president of our talented group and we were on our way. On October 26, we had a Hallowe'en Party which was a huge success, showing we had marked ability in that capacity.

The Student Council election was our first disappointment. After many political demonstrations and hard work, we were defeated for the position of secretary-treasurer, as some of our high minded students failed to see the outstanding ability of our candidate. However, we did not lose our spirit. As the year drew near the end, we decided to have our final "get-together" at Duck Lake. Everyone had a grand time and we departed for our homes, to await the call in the fall.

After a restful three-months vacation, we came back to school in September, greatly refined and ready for another outstanding year, and with a desire to show the world what a Sophomore Class can be.

Miss Mary McLin and Mr. Gerald Davis were chosen as our sponsors, and with Jack Craig again as president, we were on our way up the "Glory Road." Our party was a huge success with everyone having a swell time. Yes! Even the upper-classmen had to agree to that. When the time came for the school election, we put up our candidate, chose our speakers, and prepared to show the Juniors and Freshmen how it was done. But it seems something was wrong, for we did not reach our objective.

Both Jack Craig and Daniel Freeman received scholarship awards to the National Band Camp, being the first to receive such honors in recent years. We have contributed much outstanding talent to all of the organizations in the high school, having members in the band, orchestra, German band, dance band, and other school organizations. The year came to a close, leaving us a year older and soon to be Juniors, having great plans for that event.

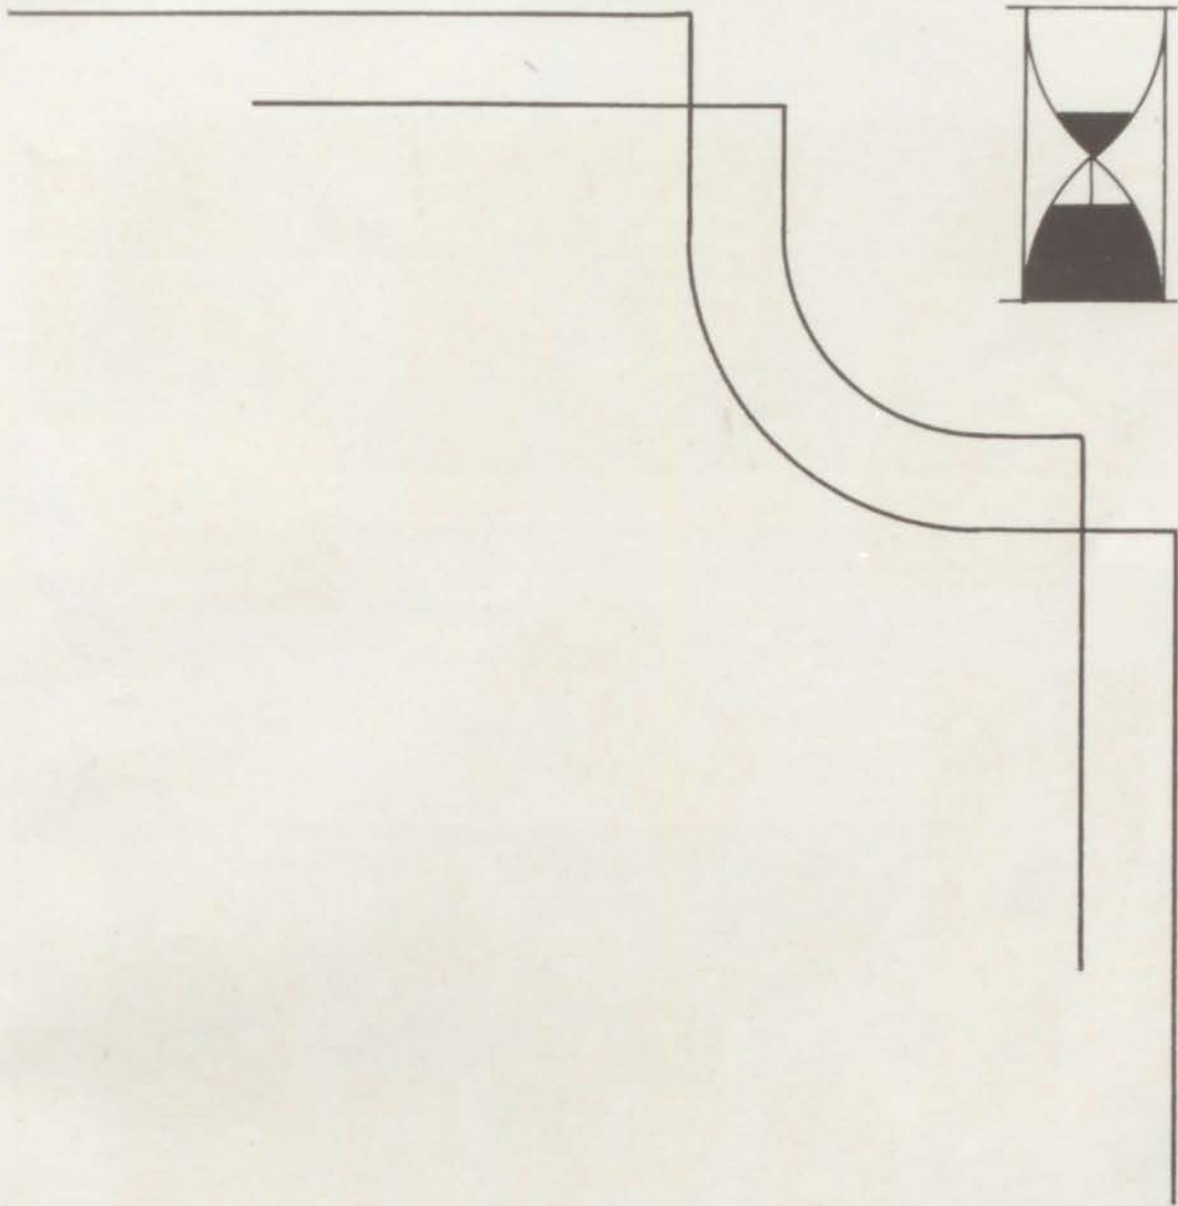

Our Junior year was what every class hopes for but seldom sees. With Miss Shoup and Mr. Carr as sponsors, and Richard Carver as president, we proceeded to make plans for the Junior Dance on November 11. The public was invited to this dance and everyone had a lovely time. This marked the first of the many achievements of the year that were soon to come to us.

With speakers, flags, and many other forms of political rally (with cigars the only exception), we elected I. C. Livingston president of the School Council, winning over the Senior candidate by but a slight margin. We failed to get our candidate for vice-president into office as we had hoped to, but we were well pleased at winning the other.

We have sponsored candy sales, ice cream sales in the school and operated a stand at ball games to raise money for our class. We had acquired a small fortune for the cause when spring came along and threw the J-Hop our way, as usual. Even the Seniors had to admit that we can surely throw a party.

We bid the Seniors a fond farewell and depart for our homes, looking forward to the coming year.

Senior Play

Editor's Note: The following writeup is the product of the pen of Richard Frankhauser, reporter for our local newspaper. This story appeared in the Marshall Chronicle on February 14. His review was so outstanding, from the Senior point of view, at least, that we couldn't resist reprinting it here.

"Attempts of high school thespians to handle so called 'heavy' assignments are not always crowned with success, but the presentation of Hugh Walpole's 'Kind Lady' by the senior class of Marshall high school last night at the auditorium was in a manner which delighted a capacity audience.

"The play, a mystery drama, showed painstaking work on the part of the cast and the director, Don Horton.

"After reading the play a few weeks ago, the writer freely admits that he was more than doubtful if 'Kind Lady' could be satisfactorily interpreted by other than professional talent. He knows better now.

"Louise Hubbard, in the title role, Mary Herries, did splendidly in an exceedingly difficult part. Unquestionably, Miss Hubbard and Tommy Brownfield, the latter in the male lead as Henry Abbott, were outstanding although all characters were well suited to their roles.

"Selecting the stars of a production which is well portrayed with no visible weak spots, is always risky business, although singling out Miss Hubbard and Brownfield for special praise cannot be avoided because they not only interpreted their characters expertly, but their very roles were constantly in the foreground.

"Let it be repeated that each young woman or young man, whether their roles were major or minor, were flawless."

(Signed) Richard Frankhauser.

The Dial Staff

The Dial Staff has completed another successful year, having been piloted over its rocky course by its faculty supervisor, Mr. Donald Horton.

Publication of the first of a series of monthly school papers, called "The Dial," was supervised by Tommy Brownfield, student editor, and his aides, associate editor, Rex Vernier, and business manager, Alice Cortright. This staff also conceived and published a Dial extra to announce the results of the Marshall-Hillsdale football game and of the School Council election. This edition "scooped" the town on both stories and was the first extra ever to be published by a Marshall High School newspaper staff.

Editor Brownfield was then chosen to edit this DIAL YEARBOOK, and Dean Mahrle succeeded him as editor of the school paper, aided by Alice Cortright and Martin Maurer as associate editor and business manager, respectively. Mahrle supervised publication of the final editions of the paper.

During the year, with the cooperation of, and under the auspices of, the School Council, a student handbook, The Chief, was compiled by the Dial staff and the council. The handbook staff was headed by Louise Hubbard, Minard Mumaw, and Virginia Wirtz as editor and assistants. This was the first student handbook to be distributed in the high school.

The staff of the DIAL YEARBOOK was headed by Tommy Brownfield, student editor, Martha Katz, his associate, while Verne Salsburg was elected business manager, and Philip Brown was chosen art editor.

Speech Activities

The debate squad this year, consisted of Kenneth Albaugh, Joe Schroeder, Susan Udell, Marcia Udell, Eleanor Rushford, Natalie Oversmith and Mr. Herrick, coach. The question debated on was: Resolved, that the several nations should make government monopolies of the manufacture and sale of all combat instruments of war. In the middle of October the debate season began with several non-decision debates with surrounding cities. In December the team entered the Twin Valley Conference Tournament, held at Albion College, and won three of the four rounds, to tie with Homer for first place. For winning first place the team received a plaque from the Detroit Free Press, and the right to enter the State elimination contest. In the State eliminations the team won its first two debates with Homer and North Adams respectively, but were defeated in the next by Waldron. During the year the team participated in more than forty debates.

In the local oratorical contest the orators were Ruth Meyers and Kenneth Albaugh. Albaugh, with his oration titled "Unfinished Business," won the contest. Four students took part in the declamation contest. The winners were Joe Schroeder and Joyce Marble. In extempore speaking Margaret Waid and Tommy Brownfield took part. Brownfield received first place.

The winners in the local contest represented Marshall in the sub-district contest at Hillsdale on March 26. Brownfield and Schroeder were victorious in extempore speaking and declamation while Albaugh took third with his oration.

Speech Club

A Speech Club was organized for the first time this year with the six members of the debate squad as a nucleus and Mr. Theral Herrick as sponsor.

The ideal of this club is for the betterment of all speech activities in the high school.

All of the charter members are office holders, the president being Kenneth Albaugh, vice-president, Eleanor Rushford; secretary-treasurer, Susan Udell; and the three remaining minor offices being held by Marcia Udell, Joe Schroeder and Natalie Oversmith.

The organization took in several new members from students doing something outstanding in the line of speech work. New members taken in were Joyce Marble, Elmer Carey, Ruth Myers, Alice Grandy, Geraldine Broughton, Margaret Waid and Mary Elizabeth McKinstry.

These members were admitted after having participated in either declamation, oratory, or extempore speaking. Names of persons who were qualified were submitted to the Speech Club at one of the meetings, and these persons were voted upon. If three-fourths of the votes were in favor of the person in discussion, he was admitted to the club.

The club has sponsored thus far this year, three debates before the assembly, the annual speech contest, and one college debate before the assembly between Michigan State College and Albion College.

The culmination of their successful year was a party at which the club entertained the coaches and participants of all speech activities in the Twin Valley Speech League.

Players Club

The Players Club was organized this year under the direction of Mr. Donald Horton for the purpose of studying dramatic art and first principles of stage craft. The charter membership included the cast of last year's Junior Play, namely, Louise Hubbard, Naomi Reyer, Martha Katz, Maxine Bails, Bernadine Bushre, Fred Rushford, Dean Mahrle, Rex Vernier, Francis Walker and Phillip Brown. The membership is limited to thirty. New members chosen from this year's Junior Play cast and from elimination tryouts were, Margaret Miller, Jane Cook, Jack Craig, William Voght, I. C. Livingston, Jane Smith, Alice Grandy, Jean Ruddock, Carolyn Paxton and Ira Herschberger. All members of the Senior Play cast, not in the Players Club, were taken in as honorary members, with restricted privileges.

The first meeting was held at Mr. Horton's home and the constitution drawn up. At the next meeting, a short comedy, "Farewell Cruel World," whose cast included Maxine Bails, Louise Hubbard and Phillip Brown, was presented. This bit of drama was later given as an assembly program and also played the exchange assembly circuit. The next play presented by the Players Club was an old-fashioned comedy, "A Proposal Under Difficulties." The cast included, Naomi Reyer, Martha Katz, Rex Vernier and Francis Walker. A nominal charge was levied and a considerable amount of money realized.

Another activity of the club took the form of a series of theatre parties at Kalamazoo and Battle Creek. Some of the plays seen were "Double Door," "Kind Lady," "Oliver Oliver," "Dover Road," "The Little Shot," "Yellow Jack," and others.

Science Club

The Science Club began its eleventh year under the direction of Mr. Hammond, with nine of its last year's members, Martha Katz, Louise Hubbard, Margaret McCaffrey, Alice Cortright, Jack Twist, James Walker, Francis Walker, Verne Salsburg and Dean Mahrle, present for the election of officers. Emerging with the laurel signifying officialdom were, Francis Walker, president; Martha Katz, vice president; Dean Mahrle, secretary-treasurer; Verne Salsburg, sergeant-at-arms. The initiation took place on the night of November 15th, with Mr. Hammond officiating at the dinner. According to the new members the initiation was a "shocking" success.

The first trip of the year, taken during Christmas vacation, was to Lansing. The Oldsmobile plant was visited and a tour of the Michigan State College Campus made. The next trip of the year was a jaunt to Battle Creek where the traditional visitation of Kellogg's and Postum's plants was made, the old members enjoying it as much as the new, even though they had journeyed there before.

The club also planned a trip to Greenfield Village for a spring vacation expedition. The bad driving conditions during the year were the reason for so few trips being taken, but for all the bad weather the attendance was almost one hundred per cent, a great improvement over former years. This shows added interest in scientific industry on the part of these members, and this, of course, is the aim of the Science Club.

Library Club

The Library Club is celebrating its sixth birthday under the supervision of Mrs. Parry and seven librarians: Ada Foss, Ruth Curry, Mary Agnes Hankinson, Nina Schwark, Margaret Nelson, Ruth Smith, and Donna Hamilton are its members.

The Library Club probably has more to do than any of the other organizations. Each period of the day there is one girl who fills the position of librarian besides watching the desk, keeping books in place, checking out books and magazines, watering plants, and seeing that the papers are in order.

In former years two girls have been in charge of the library each hour of the day, but last year a new plan was followed with one girl in charge each hour. This arrangement has proven satisfactory but entails an increase in work.

Every six weeks a new section is assigned to check so that the librarians become familiar with the whole library. All missing books are reported to Mrs. Parry.

This year more than one hundred new books were added to the library and all the old ones were repaired. The books are all in good condition for the next year.

F. F. A.

With twenty-two members back for the 1935-36 term the Future Farmers resume again their cooperative duties.

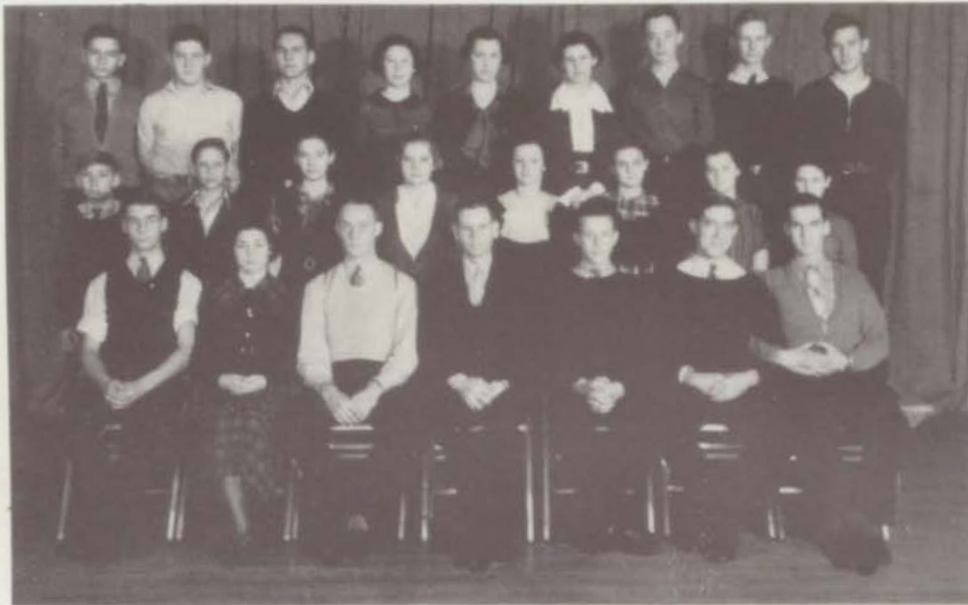

The local chapter of Future Farmers is a division of the state F. F. A., which in turn is a division of the national F. F. A. The total membership of the organization is estimated at 82,000 with 3,500 local chapters.

On September 25, 1935, the organization held its first regular meeting in the Agricultural room at which time the new president took over the duties of the chapter. Persons holding office for the current year are as follows: Max Miller, president; Maurice Eyre, vice president; George Elyea, secretary; Charles Cook, treasurer; Glenn Casey, reporter; William Ranger, watch dog.

Addition to the membership took place on December 6, 12, and 19 with a total of nineteen Greenhands initiated into the Club. On January 30, fifteen Greenhands of last year were raised to Future Farmers, which is the highest degree possible in any local chapter.

The banquet usually held during the last semester of each year was held this year on February 21. Seventy people attended despite the poor weather. The principal speaker was Professor George Brown, head of the Animal Husbandry Department at Michigan State College. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Helm, Miss Catherine Hallock and Mr. Burrell Henry, local club leaders, and Lyle Anderson from Lakeview.

With the closing of the school year preparations are under way for the summer program, during which is featured a project tour held in August.

School Council

A Junior president, I. C. Livingston, a Senior vice-president, Louise Hubbard, and a Freshman secretary-treasurer, Robert Miller, were the results of the School Council election in Marshall high school held on October 25, 1935.

Class representatives to the School Council were: Seniors, Larry Hazel and Maxine Bails; Juniors, Theobelle Gollmer and Maurice Eyre; Sophomores, Jane Smith and Junior Hazel; Freshmen, Junior Kahler and Bernice Van Zant.

The seventh and eighth grades are organized in home room groups instead of classes. Each group elects its own council representatives.

With these officers, and under the supervision of Mr. Rose, the School Council completed an exceptionally successful year, sponsoring a varied program of activities. Among these activities were the Exchange Assemblies program, an athletic program, and the publishing of "The Chief," a student handbook, which was distributed to all High School students.

The School Council is a comparatively new organization, having been in operation for only four years. It was known in the early years of its existence as the Student Council, but the name was changed at the beginning of the 1935-1936 school year to the School Council. The Council serves as a place for the expression of student opinion. The purpose of the organization is to consider and formulate policy pertaining to student affairs.

Art Club

The Art Club was organized this fall for the purpose of expanding knowledge in the arts and crafts through study and project work. The first meeting was held on October 1, and Gerald Hatch was elected temporary chairman. A committee was appointed to formulate a charter. This was approved at the next meeting and elections were held.

The club celebrated its organization, opening the season with a Hallowe'en masquerade party held at Phillip Brown's house on October 29, when the members cast aside their dignity and appeared in all guises, from ghosts to gangsters.

The first project undertaken by this group was a Christmas scene — an Old English village complete with the carolers, an innkeeper, one-horse sleigh, etc., the whole illuminated by a lighting system within the tiny buildings. This was used as the center piece for the annual Christmas party of the Teachers' Club and later as a window display in Kelsner & More's furniture store.

The project for the second semester brought also a variation from the usual line of dramatic art displayed in the school. A puppet show, "Little Black Sambo," was worked out by this group. The preparation of this kept the class busy for many weeks making dolls, costumes, the stage, and also learning lines and dialect.

Phillip Brown, Owen Gaskill and Alice Cortright filled the offices of president, secretary-treasurer and social chairman, respectively. The membership is restricted to students in the Advanced Art class and the club is sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Burgett.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association was organized in 1930 by Miss Schertl, girls' athletic director at that time. The aims of the organization are: to promote the spirit of sportsmanship among girls and to heighten interest in girls' athletics.

This year's G. A. A. is bigger and better than ever before. One hundred and ten members are organized, with Miss Whiteley as sponsor, Maxine Bails, president; Beverly Thompson, vice-president; Naomi Reyer, secretary-treasurer; Gail Reincke, sports manager; Louise Hubbard, Bernadine Maurer and Jean Ruddock, representatives.

An active campaign has been carried out this year with the main activities a breakfast hike to Stuart Lake on October 24, and a Christmas party December 18 with a cooperative supper and an exchange of gifts.

In the month of February thirty new members were initiated, pledges looking their best with hair tied up in ribbons and clothes on backwards, and each pledge carrying a hot water bottle to school for a whole day. For their supper, the first course consisted of crackers and vaseline, followed by macaroni and castor oil, and for dessert they ate grapes and hair tonic. After this luscious repast, the pledges were given a job of counting stairs, windows, etc. They then received a good paddling by the members. Real sport —

Third row: Schnaitman, Udell, Jenkins, McKinstry, Hayes, McClure, Beattie, Cooley, Smith, Pratley, Richardson, Vernier.

All G. A. A. members are required to enter into at least two sports. Soccer was played during September, October and November, tenequoit through December and January and basketball in February and March. This year golf, tennis and baseball were also offered, golf and tennis having never before been offered as G. A. A. credit activities. For each of these sports each class has from three to four teams.

Numerals and letters are awarded for earning a given number of points. For soccer and tenequoit, the first teams receive 75 points, and the second team, 50 points. For basketball, twenty-five points are awarded for being on a team, plus 10 points for each member of the winning team per game. Points are also given for roller skating, ice skating, swimming, skiing, horse back riding, hiking, bicycle riding, etc.

For numerals, 100 points are required. First letter is given for 500 points, while the highest honor letter, a large block "M", is given for 1000 points. These letters and numerals are given out at an annual spring breakfast, at which time new officers are installed for the coming year.

As the crowning activity of this organization, a Spring Formal is held, this year on May 1, in the girls' gym, for all members and their guests. Selected committees on refreshments, amusements, and decorating, successfully arranged the program.

Next year we hope to have a still larger organization to carry on the aims of the G. A. A. and to promote the spirit of sportsmanship among girls.

Commercial Club

The object of the Commercial Club is to further promote interest in commercial education in the school. It was first organized in 1930 and is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Wright. The membership is restricted to the students in the elementary and advanced shorthand classes, and to former students in these classes.

The first meeting of the season was a weiner roast held at the home of Mrs. Wright, and the following officers were elected to serve during the school year: Dale Horton, president; James Moses, vice-president; Virginia Shanley, secretary. Hallowe'en was appropriately observed with an evening of games and other jollity, including a repast of cider and doughnuts, at the home of Jean Bossard, who is chairman of the refreshment committee.

The club celebrated the Christmas holidays at Lavinia Nelson's home with a chicken-pie supper (chickens guaranteed by William Ranger and Max McCaffrey). Theobelle Gollmer invited the group to her home on January 30. A sleigh ride was planned but a lack of horses necessitated a change and a bunco party filled the date to every one's enjoyment.

The organization's program was completed by parties held every month throughout the school year, the business meeting always followed by a social hour, under the direction of Theobelle Gollmer, chairman of the program committee. The annual club picnic was held in May.

This group also prepared and sold score-sheets at the Albion-Marshall football game the proceeds of which were put into the department fund.

Usher Club

The Usher Club, with Miss Wagner as the sponsor, has made its eleventh consecutive year one of the most successful that the club has ever known.

This club was organized in 1925 for the purpose of assisting at the various school activities and is made up of twenty girls, half of whom are chosen from the senior class and the remainder from the next two lower grades. It has been in existence longer than any other organization in the high school.

Since there remained only ten old members, the girls were forced to add ten new members to the group early in the year, two from the Senior class, six from the Juniors, and two from the Sophomores. They chose Jeannette Stealy for the position of head-usher and Virginia Stealy to be her assistant.

The ushers made their first appearance of the year in October when moving pictures of the school room activities were presented to the public for the first time. On November 22, the Usher Club rendered their services again at the annual Junior play "Dulcy."

The next appearance was made at the Senior play on February 13, where in spite of the fact that many ushers appeared in the play the crowd was easily and quickly accommodated.

The group appeared for the last time on April 17, at the all high school Operetta produced by the Music Department.

Band

A shrill whistle!

A roar of drums! And the band breaks into the familiar strains of a well known march.

That is the high school band at football games, basketball games, and other public performances. It played at assemblies, meetings of the Music Boosters Club, and followed the teams on trips; went to Hillsdale with the football team and to Albion with the basketball team.

The 1935-36 school year found us with the largest and finest band in the history of the school, it contained forty-nine members. Though seven Seniors will be lost through graduation, there are some fine prospects in the Junior Band who are expected to fill the vacancies competently, next fall.

The department wishes to express its appreciation to the members of the Board of Education for their successful efforts in securing a new sousaphone for them and for the interest they have shown in them.

We compliment Mr. Jenvey and his band on their fine work.

Orchestra

In appreciation to the Music Boosters Club for presenting the department with a new viola and cello, the high school orchestra has made a showing for which it might well be proud.

The orchestra has appeared at assemblies, class plays, as well as many outside programs, and will make its final appearance at the graduation exercises on June 9.

Of the thirty-six members, only five will be lost through graduation. Although some of the vacancies will be difficult to fill, it is expected that those receiving private training from Mr. Jenvey will be taking their places next fall. There are some very promising "fiddlers," all of whom are greatly needed.

The orchestra will take part in a broadcast program to be sponsored by the Music Boosters Club, the time and place of which has not yet been determined.

Although it is not the largest orchestra the department has had, it has accomplished fully as much as those in the past, and Mr. Jenvey and his department are to be complimented for their splendid success.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club has completed another successful year under the direction of Mr. Jenvey, for which both the school and department might well be proud.

The girls have taken part in assembly programs, Music Boosters meetings, and many other programs. They took part in the radio broadcast that was sponsored by the Music Boosters Club.

Of the entire forty-three members, only six will be lost through graduation, thereby promising another successful year to come.

The Girls' Trio, composed of Naomi Reyer, Virginia Shanley, and Mary McKinstry, has become a very popular group and receives many invitations to sing. Their presence at assemblies and other programs are always greeted by appreciative applause.

"Tune In," the high school operetta was presented by the music department in the spring under the direction of Mr. Jenvey and Miss Whiteley. Most of the Glee Club members participated. Participation was not limited to members of the Music Department but was open to the entire high school.

Junior Play

"Dulcy," a comedy play written by George F. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, and directed by Mr. Horton, was successfully produced by the Junior Class on November 22, 1935, with Margaret Miller playing the title role.

Gordon Smith, Dulcy's husband, a manufacturer of imitation jewelry, played by William Voght, is attempting to effect a merger with C. Roger Forbes (I. C. Livingston). He invites him to his home for a weekend, planning to discuss the business with him. Dulcy, though she means well, manages to pull so many social "boners" that Mr. Forbes decides against purchasing Gordon's business. However, the timely intercession of Schuyler Van Dyke (played by Thomas Orn), who intimates an intention of purchasing an interest in the business, causes Mr. Forbes to change his mind, and in spite of the well-meaning Dulcy, the merger takes place.

A romantic interest is interposed in the characters of Angela Forbes (Jane Cook), Mr. Forbes' daughter; Vincent Leach (Arthur Goodwin), a movie scenarist; William Parker, Dulcy's brother, played by Glenn Casey, Jr.; Tom Sterrett, an advertising man (Jack Craig, Jr.). Angela finally elopes with Leach, but surprises everyone by becoming Parker's wife instead.

Members of the cast not heretofore mentioned were Henry, the butler, played by Mart Davis, Mrs. Forbes, played by Eleanor Rushford, and Claire Patterson, portrayed by Carolyn Paxton.

The play was excellently produced, and was pronounced by all a great success. Players and class are to be complimented on the high quality of their production.

Football

Marshall with a veteran squad of ten letter men back from the 1934 championship squad had a great season predicted for them, and with Coach Clytus Carr showing them how, they fulfilled this prediction.

On September 14, Marshall started the season off with a bang by swamping Battle Creek by a 20-7 score in the Bearcat's own back yard. Adrian was next on September 27, and took the count to the tune of 27-0, without the regular line-up on the field for Marshall. East Lansing, champions of the Little Seven, gave the Redskins their first defeat in two years, final score being 20-13. October 11 found the "Redskins" trampling Coldwater 27-2, in the first night game ever participated in by a Marshall team. Sturgis furnished the opposition for the "Redskins" third Twin Valley win on October 18, taking a 35-6 drubbing. Hillsdale took it on the chin October 25, with Marshall chalking up a 33-0 victory.

November 11 rolled around with the "Redskins" needing only a win over the traditional foe, Albion, for their second Twin Valley championship in a row. The first quarter ended a scoreless tie, with Albion doing the better on a gridiron covered with mud and water. Sibal of Albion, in two plays, lugged the ball eighty yards to Marshall's two yard line, where he smashed through Marshall's line for the first score of the game. The try for extra point failed. Score: Albion 6, Marshall 0. A few minutes later a poor punt gave Marshall the ball on its own thirty-five yard line, and in three plays the "Redskins" had a touchdown on a pass, Purcell to Hazel. Purcell plunged for the extra point. Purcell passed to Hopkins for the third and last touchdown of the game. Purcell plunged for the extra point. Final score: Marshall 14, Albion 6. Marshall's "Redskins" were again "tops."

Mr. Gray (assistant coach).
Lower row: Goodwin, Hazel, Hopkins (captain), Purcell, Mumaw.

Basketball

The Marshall High School Basketeers opened a very successful season by downing their first three conference opponents, namely, Albion, Hillsdale and Adrian, by respective scores of 23-13, 27-12, and 22-20.

Sturgis handed the Redskins their first setback of the season by virtue of their strong last half rally which enabled them to down the Marshall quintet 31-26.

Our boys journeyed to Coldwater where they successfully downed the red and white by an overwhelming 29-16 score but Albion upset the apple cart by meeting our boys on an off night and drubbing them 19-16. In their second battle with Hillsdale the Redskins again defeated them by a 20-13 score. In their game with Sturgis which had to be decided in an overtime period the Marshallites eked out a 26-24 victory. The Redskins traveled to Adrian and lost their previously postponed game by 26-24. The Redskins playing their last Twin Valley Conference game on their home floor defeated Coldwater 30-24.

In the district tournament held at Albion, Marshall defeated Albion, Coldwater and Hillsdale on successive evenings by scores of 27-17, 29-14, and 25-21, respectively, to capture the championship.

In the regional tournament, also held at Albion, Marshall defeated Mason and again Hillsdale, by scores of 23-13 and 22-18 to capture their second successive regional championship.

By winning the regional tournament the Redskins became eligible to enter the quarter finals of the State tournament. In their first round of play Marshall drew Adrian and defeated them 40-29. The next day they journeyed to Grand Rapids and were defeated by Petoskey 29-28 by the point system.

Thus the Redskins ended another grand season winning 12 games and losing only 4.

Intramural Sports

Intramural Sports were first introduced into the High School during the spring of 1932. Since that time changes and improvements have been made in the regular lineup of activities.

Baseball and track in the Senior High and Junior High softball constituted the initial program. Basketball was added the following winter and comprises most of the present setup. Baseball and track were dismissed after two years of existence.

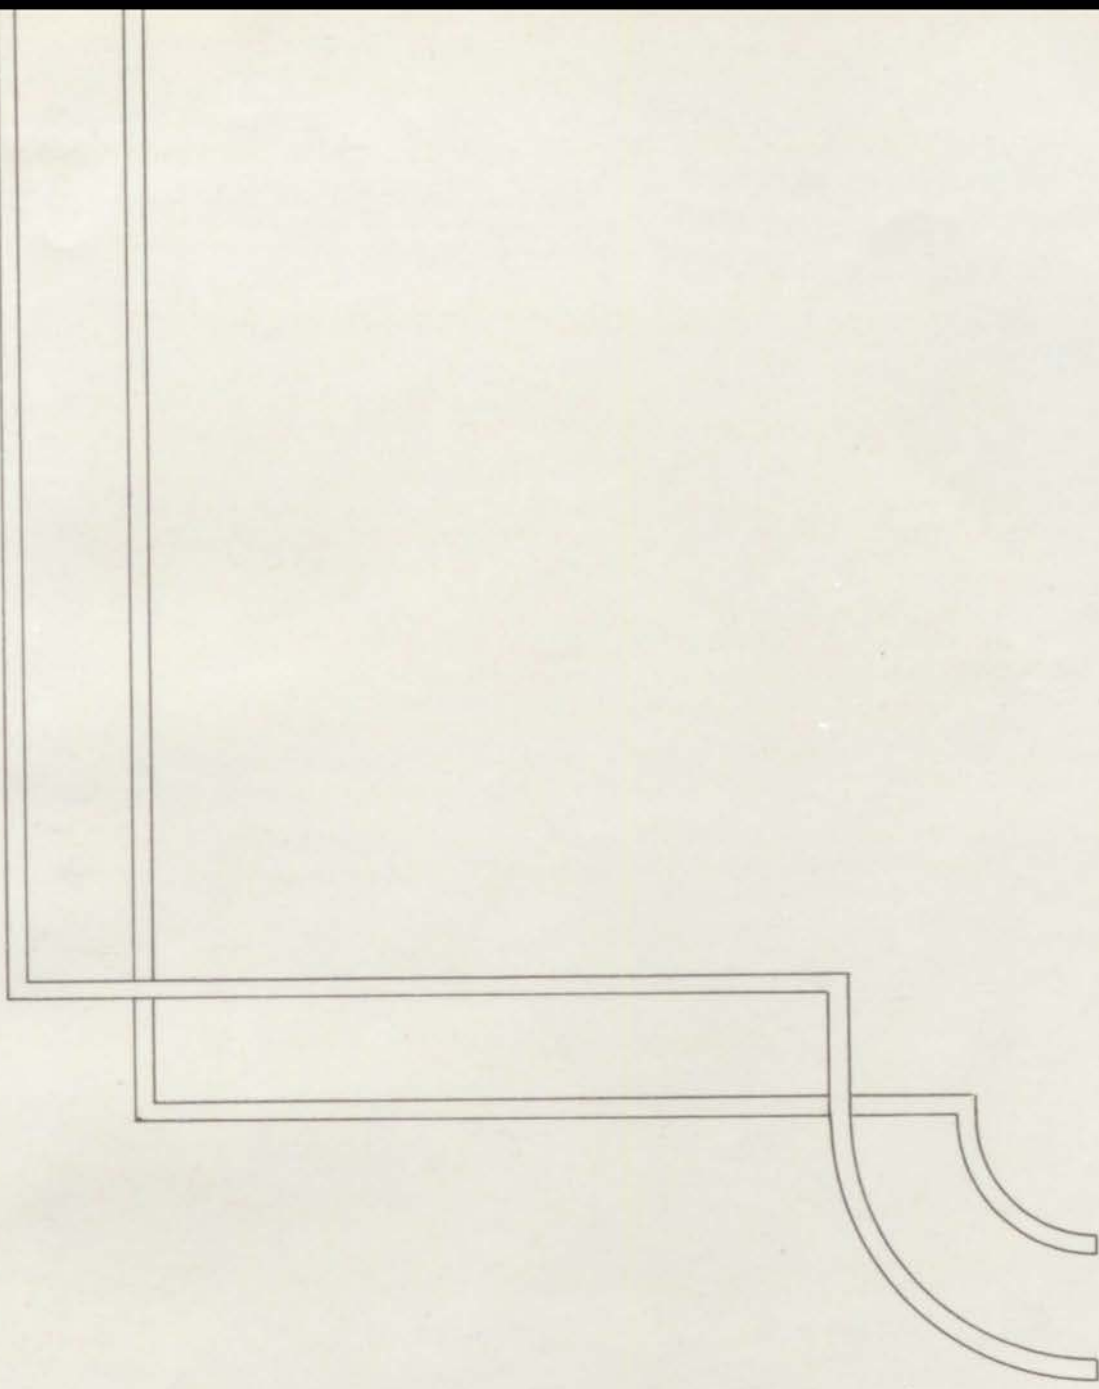

In this winter's Junior High Basketball League the 9-2 team walked off with the championship cup. Their record contained seven wins and one defeat. The members of the team were Thompson, Sholes, Corrigan, Schroeder, Britton, Hoyt and Beattie.

The 12-3 team was victorious in the Senior High League with a record of seven victories while dropping a lone contest. Caines, Beals, Lindholm, Yaudes, Maurer, Miller, Bentley and Marple made up the winning aggregation.

The School Council sponsors the intramural program. Mr. Carr and Larry Hazel, chairman of the athletic committee of the School Council, were in charge.
