THE DUAL

1938

Mrs. Martha Parry

DEDICATION

The DIAL of 1938 is reverently dedicated to Mrs. Martha Parry, language instructor in the Marshall school for fourteen years, for her untiring services as student sponsor. Through her advice and friendliness, she has won a place in the hearts of the faculty and the student body, and her leaving this year is a source of regret to all.

FOREWORD

It is the hope of the Senior Class of 1938 that within these covers may be found a record of events, friendships, and achievements which in future years will bring back memories of pleasant times in Marshall High School.

STUDENT COUNCIL

After very stiff campaigning on the part of the four upper classes, officers were elected to govern the council through the sixth year of its existence. George Purcell, senior, was elected president, for the second consecutive year; Tom Wilson and Bob Miller, senior and junior candidates, were chosen as vice-presidents as a result of a tie; Eugene Moushey, freshman candidate, was made secretary-treasurer.

The intramural sports, school union, exchange assemblies, and school service commission were again taken over by the council.

Several new features marked its program this year. Marshall entertained the Twin-Valley school councils at a banquet January sixth, to which Albion, Lakeview, Sturgis, and Adrian sent representatives.

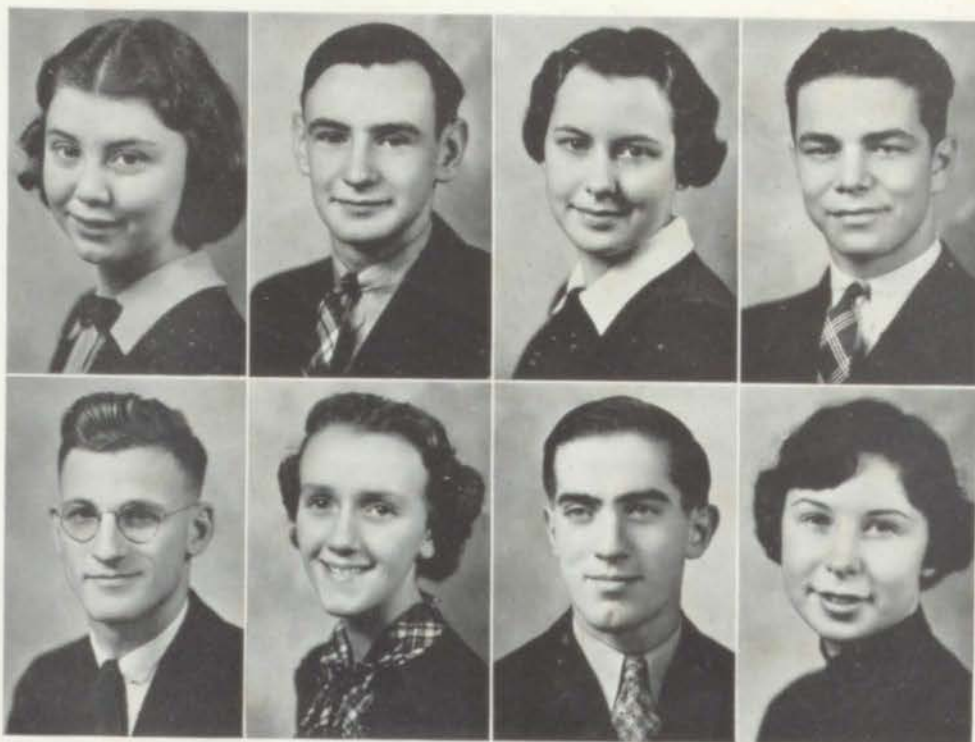

Representatives from the M. H. S. council went to the eighth district meeting of the Michigan Education Association, on March 13. In May, representatives again attended a meeting at Kalamazoo, sponsored by Kalamazoo College.

Mr. Rose acted as adviser to this legislature.

SENIORS

HALL OF FAME

J. Ruddock M. Maurer B. Harrison T. Wilson
 R. Van Voorhees S. Udell G. Purcell J. Smith

Personality, character, scholarship, and worth-while activity marked these students for the Marshall High School Hall of Fame, and their selection was by unanimous decision of the faculty committee.

Jeanne Ruddock, endowed with unusual ingenuity and clever ideas, was business manager of this ANNUAL. For the last two years she handled the business manager's post for G. A. A. She headed the J-Hop decorations committee in '37, and has been active in dramatics and club work. Her academic record is decidedly superior.

Max Maurer, blessed with great personal popularity among faculty and classmates, was president of the Class of '38, and ranked first in scholarship. He has contributed to both sports and cultural programs of the school. As a freshman, he was secretary-treasurer of the student council, and held the same office for his class during his sophomore and junior years. The DIAL was published under his editorship in '37-'38.

Barbara Harrison has helped engineer nearly every social and group activity of organizations to which she belonged. She was secretary-treasurer of the G. A. A. in '36-'37, and president in '37-'38. She served as assistant head usher her junior year, and head usher in '37-'38. The student-union chairmanship fell to her for two years, as well as membership in that group in her freshman and sophomore years. She acted as vice president of the sophomore class, secretary-treasurer of the art club, and art editor of the bi-monthly DIAL (newspaper). Her scholarship rates excellent.

Thomas (Tommy) Wilson, vice-president of the student council, served the junior class as president, and was the sophomore candidate for council secretary-treasurer. He has two years of football, four of basketball, and two of baseball on his sports record. As associate editor of the ANNUAL, he worked extremely well. His scholarship is far above the average of those athletically inclined, and his fitness for a college career is undisputed.

Robert (Seode) Van Voorhees, editor-in-chief of the ANNUAL, has an enviable record in dignity of character and in scholarship attainment. His ability and interest in science are notable. The Science Club made him their president. He was vice president of the newly-created Hi-Y Club.

Susan Udell, vice-president of the senior class and a natural leader, spent three successful years on the debate squad, helping to bring many victories to Marshall. She entered the declamatory contest as a sophomore; won the oratorical contest as a junior, and was president of the Speech Club her junior year. As a senior, she was vice president of the G. A. A. The D. A. R. selected her to represent Marshall at its state-get-together of candidates for a Washington trip. She is a close second to Max in the field of scholarship.

George Purcell, president of the Student Council during '36-'37 and '37-'38, has an enviable record. He was president of his freshman and sophomore class, and captain of the football and basketball teams of '37-'38; won the Cup in '37 for "putting Marshall on the map"; attained honorable mention three straight years for all-state football and two years for basketball. He has four years to his credit in these two sports, and in baseball. His scholarship record is near the top, and his popularity with the students immense.

Jayne Smith is among the select in scholarship, having won the medal awarded the best English student in 1937. She was secretary-treasurer of the Science Club, of the G. A. A., and of the Senior class of 1937-1938. She served as exchange editor, sports writer, and on exchange assemblies for the DIAL. Her constant activity in all organizations and athletics throughout the four years was enthusiastic and commendable.

The wide range of club and sports activities of this group is on record beside their names in the ensuing senior class pages.

CLASS HISTORY

As fearless, big, brave, bold freshmen, over one hundred forty strong, the class of '38 entered this institution of education. "Boy, are we ever grown up!"

We really didn't need any sponsor (we could take care of ourselves); but we finally condescended to elect Miss Jean Whiteley and Mr. H. H. Harrison. However, we were no trouble, no indeed!

We elected the biggest of "us big guys," George Purcell, president; Fairy Gauss, vice-president; and Joyce Bemis, secretary-treasurer. (It kept her on the go to keep account of our vast amount of dough.)

In the fall we threw a Bowery Party, more fun! "Highly successful," everyone said. When Student Council election came around we put up Max Maurer, who was elected — just like that — secretary — quite an honor for a freshman.

* * * * *

When we came back as sophomores we felt much, much, wiser; and say, did those freshmen look green! To advise us this year, we elected Jean Whiteley and Bruce Gray. Due to the fact that George Purcell had proved an excellent president, we re-elected him; with Barbara Harrison, vice-president, and Max Maurer, secretary.

This year part of the sophomore English classes dramatized and presented Silas Marner.

The annual class party took place in a gay Cabaret with a floor show, et al.

The year closed with the trip to Greenfield Village.

* * * * *

Entering the junior year, the class found that many more responsibilities rested upon its shoulders. As counselors, we chose Mrs. Parry and Mr. Fuog. To guide the class, we chose Tom Wilson, with Gail Reincke, vice-president; and Max Maurer, secretary.

This year the juniors were victorious in student council election, George Purcell winning the presidential office over the senior candidate.

Following the Marshall-Albion game, the juniors sponsored an Armistice football dance.

In the middle of the year we found ourselves in a dilemma. The entire class wanted to produce a play, but there were no teachers free to direct it. At last we secured Miss Ethlyn Sexton of Olivet and produced Just Out of College, a crazy comedy, full of laughs.

In the spring when everyone was singing, Sweet Lei-Lonic and Blue Hawaii, the seniors and juniors were dancing in the same atmosphere at the J-Hop.

One of the big victories of the year was the annual tug-of-war, when the juniors pulled the seniors into the creek — the first time in years!

* * * * *

The senior year started off auspiciously and we elected Max Maurer, president; Susan Udell, vice-president; and Jayne Smith, secretary. For guardians, we re-elected Mrs. Parry and Mr. Fuog.

The results of the student council election showed both the senior candidates victorious! George Purcell was re-elected president; and Tom Wilson, co-vice-president with Robert Miller, a junior.

The Senior Memorial committee, headed by Fairy Gauss, got busy and decided upon the gift; and Max Maurer presented the gift, sound-movie equipment and public address system, at an assembly.

In the winter the class presented A Murder Has Been Arranged. This play, directed by Mrs. Murray, was unusually good and unusually difficult.

In the spring the Seniors enjoyed a picnic at Pine Lake with the faculty as their dinner guests.

Near the last of the year we find our class noted for its family atmosphere, several girls are already married.

Long may these highlights of '38 remain in our memories.

SENIOR PLAY "A Murder Has Been Arranged"

In a setting depicting a deserted theatre stage, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," the senior play, was performed with such uncanny effectiveness, February tenth, that it held the audience spellbound and sent many a chill shivering down spines. This, the first attempt by a high school class of Marshall to present a heavy murder mystery, was a spooky success.

Mrs. Wragg, a Cockney cook played by Jayne Smith, gave the play comedy relief. The frightened secretary, Miss Groze, was portrayed by Jeanne Ruddock. Lady Beatrice Jasper, the lovely young wife of Sir Charles Jasper, was enacted by Christa Costman. Helen Bolinger characterized Mrs. Arthur, Lady Jasper's overly-ambitious mother. James North was dramatized by Richard Huggett. George Purcell died well as Sir Charles Jasper. Robert Van Voorhees played the villainous part of Maurice Mullens. The mysterious woman was very effectively done by Esther Rich, while Wayne Bradley, in the role of Cavendish, led the orchestra.

The play was well performed under the guidance of Mrs. Bess Murray and with the kind assistance of Mr. Jenvey and his able musicians. James Baker and James Smyth, property men, took care of the special lighting; and Margaret Kraushaar and Bruce Bushre handled the prompting and the sound effects. Barbara Harrison and Elaine Bordeaux were in charge of costumes and make-up. Miss Thomas and her advanced sewing class made the effective costumes.

J-HOP, 1937

Swaying palms, leis, surf boards, flowers, vines, grass skirts, fish nets, a grass hut, a distant sail boat, and a large Hawaiian moon — all lent atmosphere to the Hawaiian setting carried out by the class of '38, at the 1937 Junior-Senior Hop.

Johnny Dexter's orchestra occupied the middle of the gym under a large palm tree, and the couples danced around them. The floor show consisted of: a group of Hawaiian guitar players, tap dancing, and singing. Refreshments of ice-cream and cookies were served.

The Grand March was led by Mr. and Mrs. Rose; Gail Reincke (vice president) escorted by Tom Wilson (president); Barbara Harrison and her escort, Max Maurer (secretary-treasurer). Committee heads for the reception were: Jeanne Ruddock, decorations; Joyce Bemis, refreshments; Fairy Gauss, orchestra; Susan Udell, entertainment; Barbara Harrison, games; Helen Bolinger, programs.

After three hours of "Marshall High School Gone Hawaiian" the couples, to the strains of Aloha, pushed off for lands of further adventure.

JOURNALISM

With the instruction from our sponsor, Mrs. Bess Murray, to "develop a nose for news," the '38 journalism class set out for "scoops."

To edit the bi-monthly, the class selected Max Maurer and his able associate editor, Marguerite Shaw. This proved to be a wise forward step. Other staff heads were: Barbara Harrison, art editor; Jayne Smith, exchange editor; and Martens Mueller, printer.

Football assignments went to John McCallum and Jayne Smith. Martens Mueller reported all the basket-ball games from the press box. All three did professional work at these posts.

We learned to rush assignments to reach the deadline, to make original leads, to "cut and cut some more," and, last but not least, not to use "trite" expressions.

By the end of the school year the class will have published seventeen issues of the DIAL. Many are its faults and virtues; but we hope that you have enjoyed it while we gained experience.

On March 25 Mrs. Murray and the journalism class motored to Ann Arbor and visited the Michigan Daily and the Ann Arbor News. The trip was profitable and the class gained invaluable experience.

The Annual staff included: Robert VanVoorhees, editor-in-chief; Tom Wilson, associate editor; Jeanne Ruddock, business manager; and Christa Costman, art editor.

During the year the dramatics class presented three series of plays for the benefit of the Annual; and so, thanks to them, we have four extra pages.

We are grateful to Mr. H. H. Harrison for his helpful suggestions concerning the Annual, and to Miss Burgett and Marian Murray for their assistance in the art work in this book, the latter having executed the frontespieces.

This class has been complimented on its harmony and smooth-working set-up. We only hope that this cooperation has made for a better book.

This comedy centered around Herbert Kalness and his long-suffering family, who constantly heard of his success as a self-made man.

Mrs. Kalness, in true housewifely fashion, objected to having a highly polished cuspidor and a crayon portrait of Grandpa Kalness in her parlor. The Kalness children all had modern ideas to which their father vigorously objected.

All worked out for the best, when Herbert invited some "plain folks" for a "plain meal" and got just what he asked for, including a centerpiece of celery, a cotton table cloth, and a most ill-mannered family.

When ordered to state the meaning of such actions, Mrs. Kalness announced that she was leaving Herbert. He, realizing the error of his ways, reformed, and the family was reconciled. Alice marries Andy, her true love, and Herbert Jr. goes to engineering school.

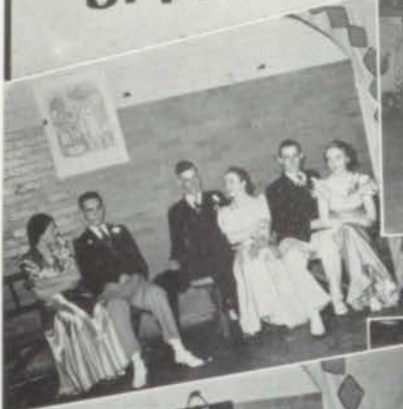

"Big Hearted Herbert," capably directed by Mrs. Murray, played to an enthusiastic audience of 500 and added $100 to the junior coffers.

FOOTBALL

Playing its hardest schedule in years, Marshall High finished a successful football season November 11 by defeating its traditional rival, Albion, by the same score as that by which they beat us a year ago, 7-6. This win enabled us to bring the H. C. Brooks Perennial Trophy back to Marshall, where we hope it remains for a few years.

The Redskins started the season with seven lettermen: Captain Purcell, Bushre, C. Coleman, Wheeler, Evans, Hazel, Chapman. Thus Coach Carr's outlook for a successful season seemed bright.

On September 17, the first game of the '37 campaign, we journeyed to Battle Creek and took it on the nose from our class A rivals to the tune of 13-0.

On September 24, Coach Carr's boys invaded Adrian and defeated the Mapleleaves for the fourth consecutive year, 20-6.

On October 2, the Flint Central Indians, another Class A aggregation, came into town and displayed some real power in setting our Redskins back, 20-0.

On October 8, the "Reds" went to Coldwater to play the Cardinals under floodlights. The game was hard fought with Marshall emerging victors, 6-0.

In the next two games, the Redskins ran into some tough competition in the Twin-Valley race and were defeated by Sturgis, 7-0; and by Hillsdale, 9-7. On November 5, however, the boys from Marshall nearly redeemed themselves when the highly touted St. Augustine team of Kalamazoo invaded Marshall and defeated us by only 20-13. St. Augustine scored 20 points in the second quarter and were held scoreless the rest of the game. Coach Carr's proteges really showed that they could play football in the last half by scoring 13 points.

In the conference standings, Marshall finished second with three wins and two defeats. Four boys from Marshall: C. Coleman, R. Coleman, G. Purcell, and J. Hazel were honored by positions on the All-Twin-Valley team selected by the coaches. Further honors were given these boys by honorable mention on Richard E. Remington's All-State Team, selected annually.

TWIN VALLEY CHAMPS

Rolling up the best record ever accredited to any Redskin team, the 1937-'38 squad won 15 out of 17 games. The last five of these, four of which Marshall won, were in state tournaments.

The Redskins started their regular season by defeating both Hillsdale and Lakeview before Christmas vacation. Upon returning to school in January, the squad played host to Adrian and Sturgis, defeating each quintet, the latter by one point only. Journeying to Coldwater and Albion, the Marshallites handed still more defeats to these strong rivals. At home again for games with Lakeview and Hillsdale on the second round, the home town boys repeated their early season feats without apparent difficulty. Albion invaded the home fort, but was entirely unsuccessful in routing the natives. Playing what proved to be their best game of the year, the Redskins trounced the Adrian Maple Leafs on their own floor, a feat accomplished only once by a local team.

As did Napoleon, Marshall met her Waterloo. Sturgis, in the role of Duke of Wellington, handed the Reds their first defeat in eleven starts. After tasting this by-no-means delicious fruit, the Redskins defeated the next four of their next five foes. This group consisted of Albion, Coldwater, Hastings, Plymouth, and Flint St. Michael. The latter defeated M. H. S. in Grand Rapids.

Having defeated them twice in Twin Valley competition, Marshall had no difficulty in defeating Albion, Coldwater, and Hastings. Plymouth, having been taken out of competition by the locals before, fought gamely to prevent a duplication. After a close score for three quarters, the Reds pulled out in front and clinched their final game in the last few minutes. The following evening the Reds attacked St. Michael in Grand Rapids, and were thrashed in a counter-attack staged by the rangy Flint team.

Although Fate was cruel in depriving Marshall of the State Championship, the record rolled up by the 1937-'38 quintet was the best ever amassed by an M. H. S. team; and much credit is due the boys and their coach.

This squad that the Messrs. Carr and Gray, coach and assistant respectively, trained to such perfection, consisted of six seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore. The seniors were: Capt. George Purcell, Tom Wilson, Bruce Bushre, Max Maurer, Charles Coleman, and Charles Clayborn. The junior group consisted of: Fred Kahler, Harold Lower, and Robert Miller. Les Hayes was the only sophomore representative.

The Reserve squad, without which no team can hope to win, had a successful year, topping seven out of eleven foes. The outlook for next year's team looks exceedingly bright; as four regulars will be back, to say nothing of the fine reserves that will be available. Kahler will be captain in '38-'39.

SKILL! TEAM WORK! ATTAINMENT!

The center trophy was won in Twin Valley competition, the first time Marshall earned this distinction in seven years.

The one on the left indicates a successful battle in the District Tourney. Marshall defeated two Twin Valley competitors to capture this crown.

The emblem of victory on the right is the final trophy won by the 1938 Redskins. They defeated two hard fighting contenders in this region to prove their seniority.

BASEBALL

Forty men, including seven letter-men, reported April fourth for the first baseball practice, promising a successful season for M. H. S. Bruce Bushre, a capable fielder and the best hitter, was appointed captain; and Harold Lower, trainer. The squad was weeded out until twenty-two candidates remained. At this writing, the batteries consisted of: Purcell, Hazel, Face, Hills, and Reeg — pitchers; Cosgrove and Zull — catchers. Backing up the pitchers were: Wilson, 1B; Maurer, 2B; Capt. Bushre, SS; Moushey, 3B; Kahler, LF; Bachman, CF; and Miller, RF.

New equipment was purchased this year, including: gray suits, black and white socks, black hats, and several new bats.

This year baseball has been placed on a league basis by the Twin Valley, whereby each team plays every other team once. Also, two non-league games were scheduled. The complete schedule was:

April 29	Lakeview	Here
May 3	Albion	There
May 10	Albion	Here
May 13	Sturgis	There
May 17	Coldwater	There
May 19	Hillsdale	Here
May 25	Adrian	There
May 27	Coldwater	Here

Up to May 10, two games had been played, the Redskins losing both. On April 29 the hosts lost an errorless game to the Spartans of Lakeview, 2-0.

A non-conference game at Albion ended in tragedy, 3-2, when the Redskins' last inning rally fell short.

We definitely believe that the promise the team has shown while losing, will come to the front and end the slump.

TRACK

Marshall, with an able coach and fine material, entered its fifth successive year of Twin-Valley track competition with new enthusiasm.

In the first meet of the season, held at our new athletic field April 28, Albion defeated the Marshall tracksters by a 59 to 35 count. The defeat was largely due to Marshall's having no entries in the high jump or pole vault events.

On May 4, the Homer High School thin-clads invaded our new field, for a practice meet, defeating us 50½ to 40½. This prepared our squad for the big event of the year: the Twin-Valley meet, held here May 14 in an all-day drizzle.

Charles Coleman splashed his way to victory in the 880 dash, finishing forty yards ahead of his nearest contender. His brother, Roosevelt Coleman, also took first in the 100 and 220 yard events. Billy McKinstry placed third in the mile run; and the relay team, composed of W. Barnes, A. Metzger, A. McPherson, and R. Coleman, won second place honors in that event. R. Coleman placed third in the broad jump. C. Coleman, in the high jump, tied with Cheek and Hunt to total Marshall's points to 20½ and give them last place. Adrian took first place with 32½ points, Albion second with 23½ points, and Coldwater third with 23 points. Lakeview, Sturgis, and Hillsdale did not participate in the meet.

The other local tracksters who did not win honors, but competed in this meet, were Joe Schroeder, in the low hurdles; Harlan Sholes, in the 440; and James Baker, in the half mile.

The season was well rounded out with the Coleman brothers and Billy McKinstry competing in the regional meet held at Kalamazoo, May 21.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association's seventh year, under the able guidance of Miss Whiteley, sponsor; Barbara Harrison, president; and the executive board—is memorable for its variety of social functions and sport activities. The executive board, consisting of Susan Udell, vice-president; Jayne Smith, secretary-treasurer; Jeanne Ruddock, business manager; Helen Mackey, sports manager; and four class representatives: Christa Costman, senior; Kathleen Francisco, junior; Marian Murray, sophomore; and Jane Arnold, freshman, helped to carry out the aims of the club.

A well rounded social program consisted of:

A hike to the fairground with supper and games for all G. A. A.-minded girls and the old members, October 13.

The sponsoring of a noon dance every Wednesday from twelve 'till one, to the melodious tunes of many new popular records.

A Christmas Tea for the mothers, December 21, in the high school lobby amidst a Yule setting of wreaths, candles, and evergreen boughs.

The donations of food, clothing, and toys to a needy family during the Christmas holidays to promote "peace on earth, good will to men."

The Big Apple Dance! An open dance after the Lakeview-Marshall basketball game, January 28, with a floor show, refreshments, et al!

G. A. A.—Continued

Then on February 16, the longed for initiation—both formal and informal—was survived by about fifty pale pledges. After a hectic day of proposing, singing, and giving definitions, the tired pledges shakily assembled for a banquet where the diplomas and numerals were presented. Dancing concluded the occasion.

At a Spanish fiesta, the lovely maids and their handsome escorts swayed to the music of Morris Style's Albion College Orchestra, April 22—namely, the annual spring formal.

This crowded year closed with the annual spring breakfast, June 10, when the new officers were installed, and letters presented to deserving members.

In order to be a G. A. A. member, one has to uphold a "C" average through the high school course, and earn one hundred points through any sports.

To remain a regular member, one has to earn one hundred points every year, fifty preceding the spring formal; and pay annual dues.

The awards are based on the following required points:

100 points, numerals; 500 points, small "M"; 1000 points, large block "M"; and for the highest award, 2000 points, a pin.

Besides being socially engaged, and furnishing well balanced sport activities, the organization has continued to promote the spirit of sportsmanship, and to heighten interest in girls' athletics.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Intramural sports, first introduced into the High School in 1932, are for the purpose of giving athletic participation to otherwise inactive students.

BASKETBALL

Basketball games were played each noon under the supervision of Mr. Carr and the managership of G. Purcell and M. Maurer. These lasted during the winter months, having six-minute quarters.

The Junior High is divided into nine teams, three in each grade, each team playing every other team once. The same procedure is followed in the Senior High, the games being played after the completion of the Junior High schedule.

The winning team in the Junior High was the 9-3, consisting of: R. Reed, D. Smith, J. Paxton, W. Morse, C. O'Leary, H. Groesbeck, and D. Roepke.

The Senior High champions were the 12-1, made up of: J. Hazel, M. Smith, W. Coleman, L. Rushford, J. Wing, and J. Baker.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

The basketball season was climaxed with the victory of the seniors over the freshmen, March 24, by a 28-17 score. This victory was the third time the class of '38 had captured the class championship in the same number of years. In two preceding games, the freshmen had walked away with the sophomores, 31-4, on March 22; and the seniors took a thriller from the juniors, 23-22, March 23.

SOFTBALL

Interclass softball again opened the spring athletic program of M. H. S. A team representing each class played six games, two against each opposing class.

The sophomores finished the season on top of the league with four wins, one tie, and one loss. The juniors secured second place; the seniors, third; and the freshmen were consigned to the cellar. The games moved along smoothly under the managership of Fred "Slugger" Kahler.

TUG OF WAR

This annual spring classic takes place each year the last week in May, at Rice Creek. In 1937 the juniors pulled the seniors in for the first time since 1926, and the second time in the history of our school; while, in 1938, tradition held its own and the same class won, though this time as seniors.

BAND

Boom! Boom! Bang! The crash of drums! Yes, our High School Band has had a smashing victory in the way of a successful year, under the capable direction of Mr. Walter Jenvey. Max Packard has acted as president; Mary Chapin, secretary; Billy Collins, business manager; Morris Stulberg, librarian; and Walter Heidenreich, assistant librarian.

The band stimulated enthusiasm with peppy music at the football and basketball games; and attended the tournament games at Albion. They have played at several pep assemblies and Music Boosters' meetings, and cooperated with all city activities throughout the year.

The band's goal and ambition has been obtaining sufficient funds to purchase uniforms. They had several benefit programs in this cause, and the Music Boosters' Club has loyally promoted it.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra of Marshall High School is a fine musical organization and has had a profitable year under the guidance of Mary Elizabeth McKinstry as president. Other officers were: Morris Stulberg, librarian; and Lucille Curry, assistant librarian.

The orchestra has played on several extra-school programs and has provided delightful music at the junior and senior plays, the operetta, and a series of dramatics class plays.

The ensemble, composed of Lucille Curry, piano; Natalie Oversmith, flute; Max Packard, clarinet; Mary Elizabeth McKinstry and Douglas Packard, violins, have made appearances at several organizational functions and assemblies.

The success of the orchestra is due to Mr. Jenvey's untiring efforts.

HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

"Something new and something different" seems to have been the motto of the Marshall High School Choir this year. After uniting the boys' and girls' glee clubs into one large choir, Mr. Jenvey was able to meet them every day in the week. Under this new arrangement, the choir furthered their talents in music and received more credit. The membership has greatly increased since the first of the year.

Earl Abendshein was elected president; Mary Chapin, secretary; Alberta Peck, business manager; Wayne Bradley, librarian; and Gwen Guile, assistant librarian—to perform the tasks connected with these offices for the choir.

Mr. Jenvey and the choir furnished entertainment on these various occasions during the year: Eckford Grange, Legion Supper, Teachers' Institute, Brooks Memorial Missionary Society, W. E. L. L. Radio Station, Rotary Club, Music Boosters' Club, rural party, exchange assemblies, Christmas carols at the Methodist Church, and for the assembly.

DEBATE — Champions Again, '37-'38

Marshall High School's debating team has been progressing steadily since 1935, when Mr. Theral Herrick joined the faculty as debate coach.

The 1937-38 season opened with twenty-six students eager to argue the state question: "Resolved that the several states should adopt a unicameral form of legislature." This squad was reduced to twelve within a few weeks.

This squad participated in one hundred nineteen debates and won twenty-two out of twenty-seven judged contests. They also enjoyed about forty trips during the year.

The squad's first conquest was in the Twin Valley, from which they emerged with four victories and no defeats, for first place.

In state competition Marshall defeated Plainwell, East Lansing, and Paw Paw; but alas, Big Rapids doomed Marshall in the quarter-finals by a 2-1 decision.

Marshall received a wall plaque given by the Detroit Free Press to the teams which enter state debating competition. Susan Udell, Billy McKinstry, and Joe Schroeder also received individual awards from the Free Press.

On April 29, the debaters attended the state championship debate at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor. Big Rapids was awarded a unanimous decision over the affirmative team of Flint Central.

With all of the squad members having their letters this season, the 1938-39 season should prove as successful as this year with nine of the squad returning.

The 1938 season has been Marshall's most successful year. Perhaps the horse shoe which accompanied the team to the crucial contests had something to do with the achievements.

SPEECH CLUB

The M. H. S. Speech Club has for the third year proved a success, with Mr. Theral Herrick as sponsor. The fundamental purpose of this club is to promote better public speaking by sponsoring speech activities in our school.

The speech club sponsored the following activities this year:

Debate: Twenty-six students went out for debating, with a squad of twelve chosen. The question debated was "Resolved: That the several states should adopt a unicameral form of legislature." The debate squad was successful, winning the Twin Valley Debate Championship. Big Rapids defeated Marshall in the quarter-finals of the state elimination contest.

Oratory: "Marijuana, A New Menace," presented by Leslie Connelly, won first place in the local contest, bringing the honor of second place in the sub-district contest, April 23. Twelve tried out for oratory, with Leslie Connelly, Jesse Stage, and Glen Barber as local competitors.

Extempore Speaking: In the preliminary contest in extempore speaking, Joe Schroeder and William McKinstry participated, with the latter the winner. "Billy" represented Marshall in the sub-district contest, April 23, bringing back honors of first place; and as Twin Valley representative at the district contest, May 5, he won this final event with nine of fifteen votes for first place.

Declamation: "The Liberty of Man, Woman, and Child," delivered by Helen Face, rated first place in the local contest, and second place in the sub-district, April 23. Others participating in the local contest were: Martha More, Wilma Loh, Douglas Packard, and Richard Hale; chosen from a total of twenty-one students out for this activity.

Marshall won the Twin Valley Championship in all speech activities, with a total score of twelve points out of a possible fourteen. This total consists of: debate, 5; declamation, 2; oratory, 2; and extempore, 3. As a result of this victory, the M. H. S. Speech Club brought home the 1937-38 Twin Valley Championship cup.

The school and all those who have been active in speech activities owe a vote of thanks to Mr. Theral Herrick for his brilliant work of coaching the speech department.

ART CLUB

President—Owen Gaskill
 Vice President — Billy McKinstry
 Secretary-Treasurer — Helen Schnaitman

The Art Club again weathered the hard knocks of a typical school year and succeeded in mixing both business and pleasure to good advantage.

The club's season was officially opened with a rip-roaring initiation which brought in fourteen budding Raphaels to swell its diminishing ranks.

Under the inspiring influence of the sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Burgett, the Art Club wended their way through the M. H. S. corridors, caroling to call the school to the annual Christmas Assembly.

Another worthwhile project sponsored by this enterprising association was the rotating art exhibit. All the Twin Valley schools participated in this plan, each composing an exhibit which was sent to every school, where it remained a week for inspection.

On May 21 the group visited the art centers of Detroit.

Here's to the Art Club and may it continue to be an active figure in our school organization.

USHER CLUB

The Usher Club, one of the most purposeful organizations in Marshall High School, can boast of ten years of willing service to its Alma Mater.

Dressed up in their new red and black taffeta uniforms, the members have assisted at all school functions held in the auditorium.

Yearly two sophomore, six junior, and two senior girls are chosen to take the place of the ten seniors who left the preceding year. Also, are chosen each year, a head and assistant-head usher. Those serving in these capacities this year have been Barbara Harrison and Doris Holmes, respectively.

Under the capable supervision of Miss Wagner, sponsor, the 1937-38 club have had an exceptionally satisfactory year, and have proved their worth to Marshall High School.

F. F. A.

The Marshall Chapter of Future Farmers of America has functioned for the ninth successful year, with Earl Abendshein as president.

The purposes of the F. F. A. are: to develop leadership and confidence, to improve rural homes and surroundings, to advance the cause of vocational education, and to promote cooperative living.

They participated in activities including: essays written for the Swift and Co. contest, annual banquet, and basketball with the F. F. A. chapters; acted as host at the F. F. A. State Fat Lamb Show; and tested soils, milk, and marl with scientific methods, for farmers in this community.

Also through the help of our F. F. A. chapter and several others, a county chapter including: Tekonsha, Lakeview, Kellogg's Consolidated, and Marshall, was organized and named "Kelhoun County F. F. A." with Earl Abendshein, president. This organization helped promote cooperation between the several chapters, and sponsored a cattle and grain judging contest; and a public speaking contest, with Richard Evans representing Marshall.

In the Swift Essay Contest, Marshall was well represented by winning four of Michigan's five prizes. Hans Sievers won second place and a check for $60. Russell Bates took one of the third prizes of $35; Dale Walbeck received a check for third prize money, $25; and Charles Knapp won a fifth place, with a prize of $5.

This is history repeating itself; as every year brings two or more of these "corn-fed, milk-fattened" checks to Mr. Wilcox's boys.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club, which has been under the direction of Mr. Hammond for twelve consecutive years, was ably assisted by Robert Van Voorhees, president; Marguerite Shaw, vice-president; Jayne Smith, secretary-treasurer; and George Purcell, sergeant-at-arms, in carrying us through another successful season.

On December fourteenth, the scientists journeyed to Lansing to the Oldsmobile plant and watched the Oldsmobiles in the making. The trip proved interesting and educational.

December fifteenth the traditional Science Club dinner for the initiates took place and the evening provided amusement, thrills, and embarrassment.

During spring vacation, sixteen of the Science Club members drove to Jackson and visited the Sparton Radio Company and the Macklin Grinding Wheel Factory, bringing the season to an end for future Edisons and Einsteins.

The Science Club complimented Mr. Hammond with a gift as a token of their appreciation for his guidance as sponsor of the club, for this, his final year at M. H. S.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

President—Doris Holmes
 Vice-president—Marie Zull
 Secretary-treasurer—George Nelson
 Sponsor—Mrs. Wright

The Commercial Club, in its seventh year under the guidance of Mrs. Wright, continued to combine business and social affairs once a month, where many helpful things in the business world were discussed. All students taking shorthand are eligible for membership. The last meeting of the year is always a picnic.

Several meetings were held during the year and those of mention occurred at the homes of Bernice Van Zant and Maxine Sayers. After delicious dinners, the members took part in the games and fun. The party in the girls' gym will long be remembered by the Virginia Reel and The Big Apple.

Officers for the next year are elected in the fall so that the new shorthand students can participate in the election.

Mrs. Wright says, "The Commercial Club is a worthwhile organization. The members are constantly requesting more meetings; but because of the great number of activities in school, once a month seems sufficient."

LIBRARY CLUB

"Sign your name here, please."

"Have you the last issue of the Readers' Digest?"

"Where are your fiction books?"

Such are the questions heard from day to day by the librarian.

Under the able guidance of Mrs. Parry and Mrs. Frances Miller, the librarians fulfilled their responsible duties such as: watching the desk, checking out books and magazines, distributing book-due warning-slips, weekly checking of books, keeping books in order, and opening and closing the library.

A different girl was in charge of the library each hour.

About four hundred dollars worth of books were added to the library this year.

HI-Y

Marshall High School, following the lead of a number of other Twin Valley schools, organized its first Hi-Y Club in January, 1938. The organization, under the direction of Mr. Moore and Mr. Fuog, is affiliated with the Y. M. C. A., and is composed of boys from grades 9 through 12. The first meeting saw Robert Miller elected president, with Robert Van Voorhees, Charles Clayborn and Harold Lower vice-president, treasurer, and secretary, respectively. At the second meeting the State Hi-Y Constitution was approved and adopted. Their next get-together consisted of a sortie to Battle Creek, where they enjoyed a talk by Dr. Samuel Grafflin, and later a swim followed by a basketball game, which Marshall lost by one basket. Numerous similar jaunts came later at monthly intervals.

Keeping up their good work, the Hi-Y was largely responsible for bringing Dr. James Naismith, the founder of basketball, to speak at an assembly here. This summer the chapter will sponsor a softball team in the city league, in lieu of their regular monthly recreational meeting.

APPRENTICESHIP

The Apprenticeship Training Program was inaugurated in Marshall High, July 1, 1937.

This is an all-year program, open to juniors, seniors, and people out of school who are sixteen years of age or over; whereby the members attend school regularly each morning, and work outside at other periods.

This plan of apprenticeship training is a cooperative arrangement between the school and business concerns of the community to assist young persons to learn a trade, occupation, or business.

The length of an apprenticeship varies with the trade or occupation for which the training is given. In all cases a minimum period of 2,000 clock hours of combined school and work experiences is required.

With the consent of the employer, all apprentices are given a probationary period of from six weeks to three months, according to the length of the apprenticeship.

The apprentice has the status of a non-competitive worker, neither displacing nor substituting for a regular worker. The apprentice must be paid while employed.

The apprentice will be granted a trade diploma upon satisfactory completion of his apprenticeship. The diploma is granted jointly by the State Board of Control for Vocational Education and the local school board.

The regular high school diploma will also be granted to those who complete the required work.

Due to his constant work and unusual ability as an organizer, Mr. Harrison has made the 1937-38 year successful beyond hope, and plans for 1938-39 are already operating.

At the present time there are twenty-two apprentices, seventeen boys and five girls, on the program. Of these four are juniors, seven seniors, and eleven post graduates. These students are placed in sixteen different trades.
