Caroline Reigns as Homecoming Queen

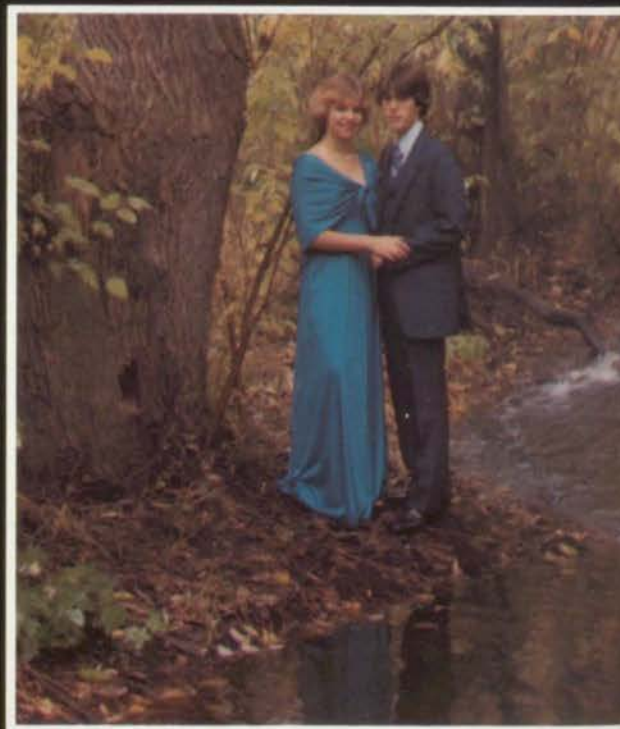

At an assembly in the MHS Gym the 1979 Homecoming queen and court were announced. There were cheers and claps as the names of the Freshmen, Stacy Kessling and Mike Vachow were called to represent their class. Sophomores Lori Young and Steve Johnson were then added to the court as their class' representative. As the excitement built Marie Themins and Phil Lasky were chosen as junior attendant and escort.

Senior attendant Sara Day and her escort Tom Gammon were announced. Then, the excitement came to a head and the moment arrived that everyone had waited for. The 1979 homecoming queen is Caroline Selee and her escort is Fred Bisel.

Selee Crowned Junior Miss

The Junior Miss pageant was very successful this year with Caroline Selee being crowned the 1979 Junior Miss. First runner-up was Alison Burris, second runner-up was Sara Day, while Alison also received the Jean Livingston Award for Creative and Performing Arts. Annette Zuehlke was named Miss Congeniality. Jenna Hindenach won the Scholastic Achievement Award.

Winners in the 1979 Junior Miss Pageant were: Alison Burris, Annette Zuehlke, Denise Rocco, Caroline Sellee, Jennifer Hindenach and Sara Day

A Nip of Winter in the Air

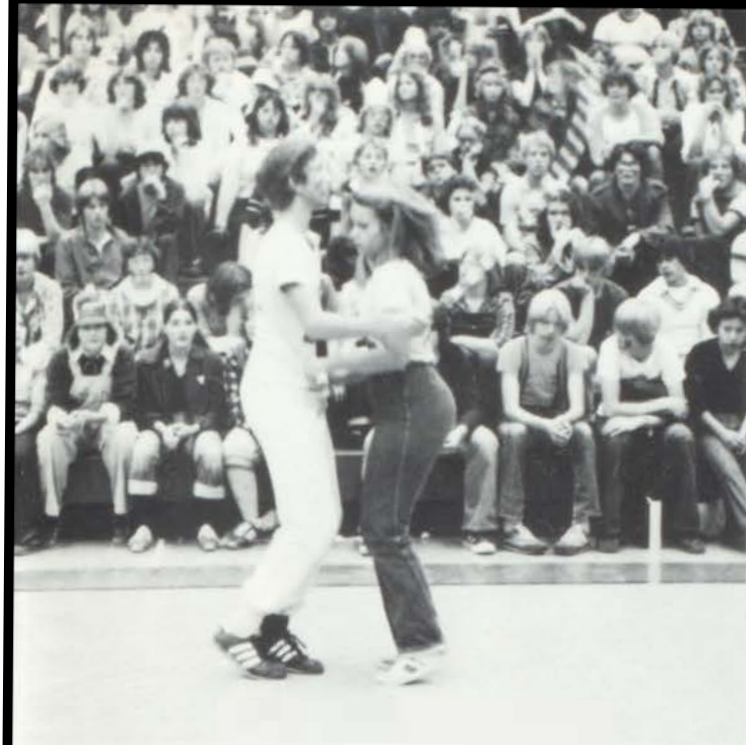

Homecoming '79 held a slight nip of winter in the air, which seemed to add to the good spirits and warmth that filtered through the halls of M.H.S. Classes were busy with preparations and anticipation of the week ahead and certain that they would finish victorious overall. The traditional excitement continued to build and strengthen until Friday. The day of decision was finally at hand and all the classes in victory. The gym filled with cheers and screams as the 1979 homecoming games began!

Far Away Friends

Let's face it, as students, our favorite pastimes are watching TV and seeing movies (after our homework is done, of course.) Everyone has their favorite TV shows, and also this year was a fairly good year as far as movies are concerned. Movies such as "10", "American Giggalo", "Kramer vs. Kramer", "Friday the 13th" and "Little Darlings" can be blamed for eating up our paychecks and consuming our spare time. But the time and money we spend on our entertainment is well worth it, the quality has never been better.

Bette Middler won an Academy Award nomination in her motion picture debut in "The Rose".

"Eight is Enough" finished its fourth season on network TV this year. The popular family comedy-drama shows no sign of losing popularity.

That arch-villain Darth Vader made a come-back this year in the "Star Wars" sequel, "The Empire Strikes Back."

John Belushi found fame on the popular TV show, "Saturday Night Live." The comic left the show this past year to pursue a movie career.

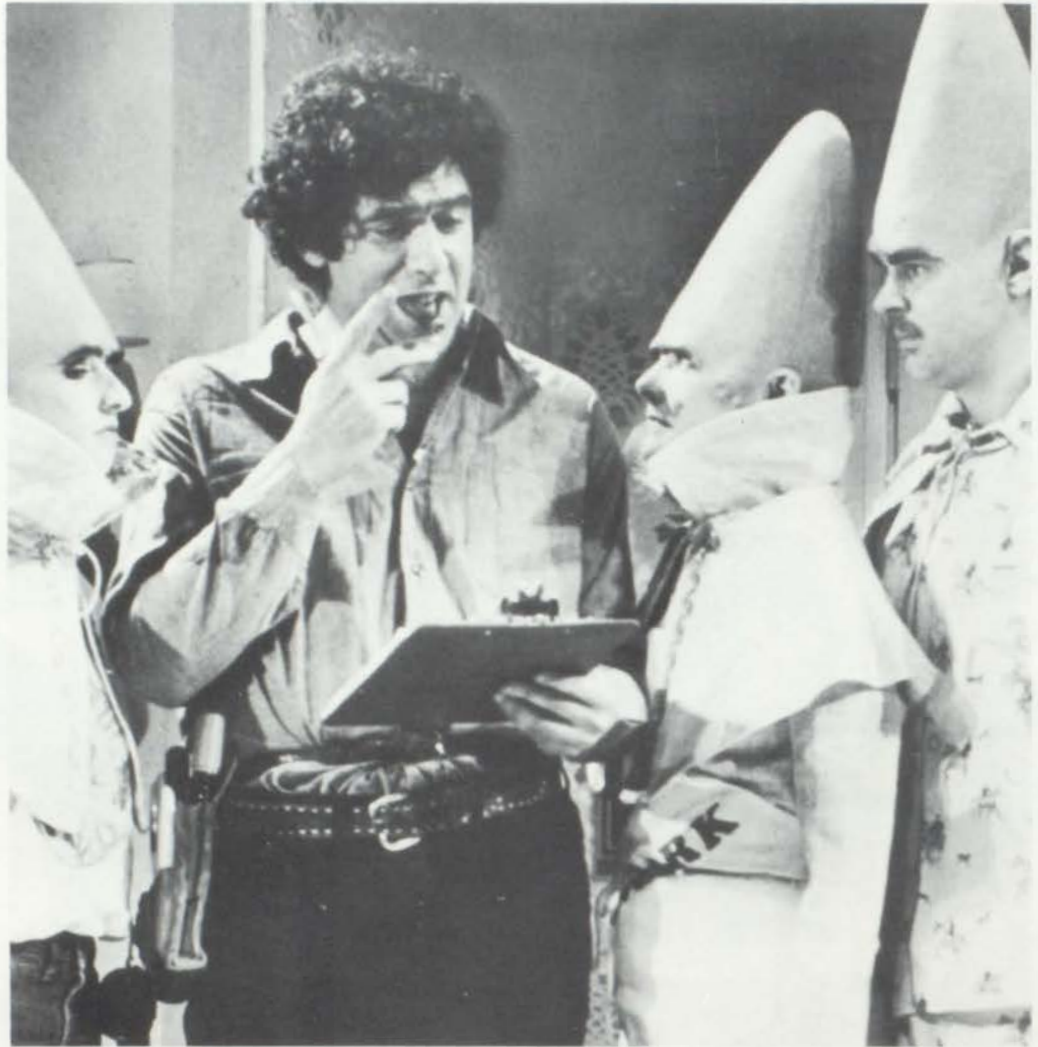

“Live — From Marshall High School”

A lot of Marshall High School students come home a little early on Saturday nights to watch the ever popular “Saturday Night Live” with their friends or dates.

Monday mornings are usually filled with talk of the last episode of “Mr. Bill” or “Samarai Dry Cleaner.” So in view of the popularity of this show the Journalism Department came up with the idea to sponsor a Saturday Night Live dance, the first of its kind at Marshall High School. March was the month and dressing up as characters from Saturday Night Live was the occasion. This dance turned out well and it included prizes given to winners of the dress up contest. Hopefully this dance will become a tradition.

The Saturday Night Live cast performs one of the many Students’ favorites, the coneheads.

The resemblance was uncanny when Breck Collyer and Rick Rachauskas gave their imitation of “The Conehead” Characters.

Entering the Saturday Night Live dance is the unknown student Beth Harinck.

Showing off their Conehead costumes are Nancy Senesa and Kim Johnson.

Attendance Drops Dramatically

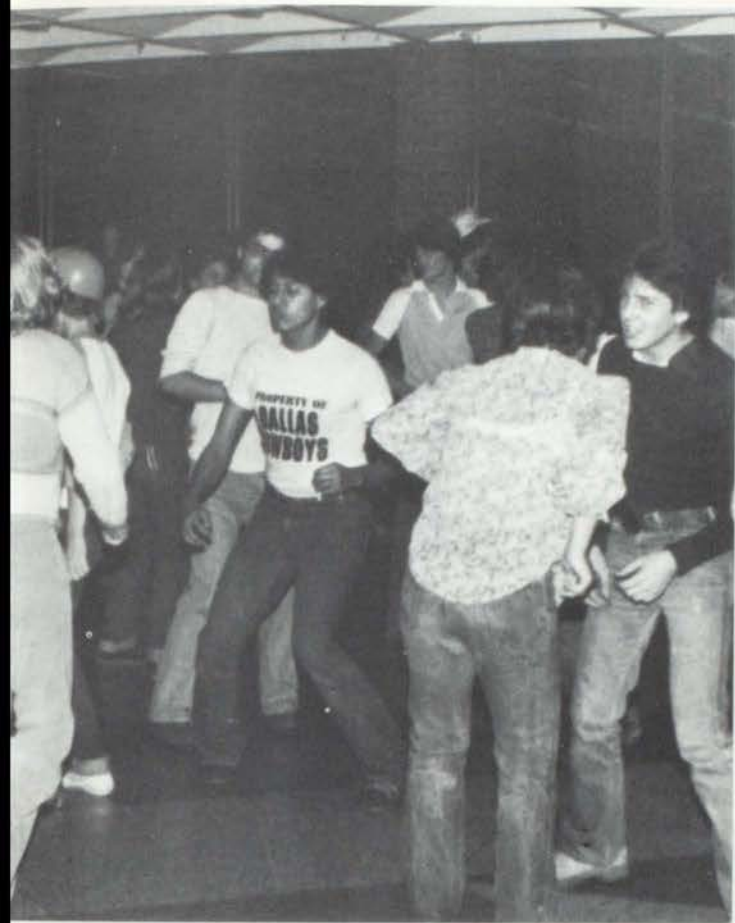

Student attendance at dances dropped dramatically this year. With the rising costs of bands and the drop in attendance clubs and organizations became more and more hesitant to sponsor dances for fear of losing money. Students who did attend the dances enjoyed music from "Northern Lights," "Deja Vu," and "Bentz." Dances took place after home games or on nights when no other activities were scheduled.

Hooray for Hollywood!

"Opening Night" Hollywood was this year's theme for the 1980 J-HOP. Old as well as new motion picture stars were seen on your way through the back stages of Hollywood. Many couples were seen living it up and dancing in front of the elegant "Brown Derby" restaurant.

There was a total of 156 couples that attended this year's J-HOP and many were overheard saying what a great job the Juniors had done on the reconstruction of "Good Old Hollywood." The junior class should be very proud of the work that they put forth. The night was a big success.

Godspell, Spectacular Production

On the evenings of February 15, 16, 22, and 23, the M.H.S. theatre group came through with yet another spell-binding production which yielded many a standing ovation. Godspell was an original rock musical that was a delight to watch and truly a spectacle not to be forgotten by all who attended it.

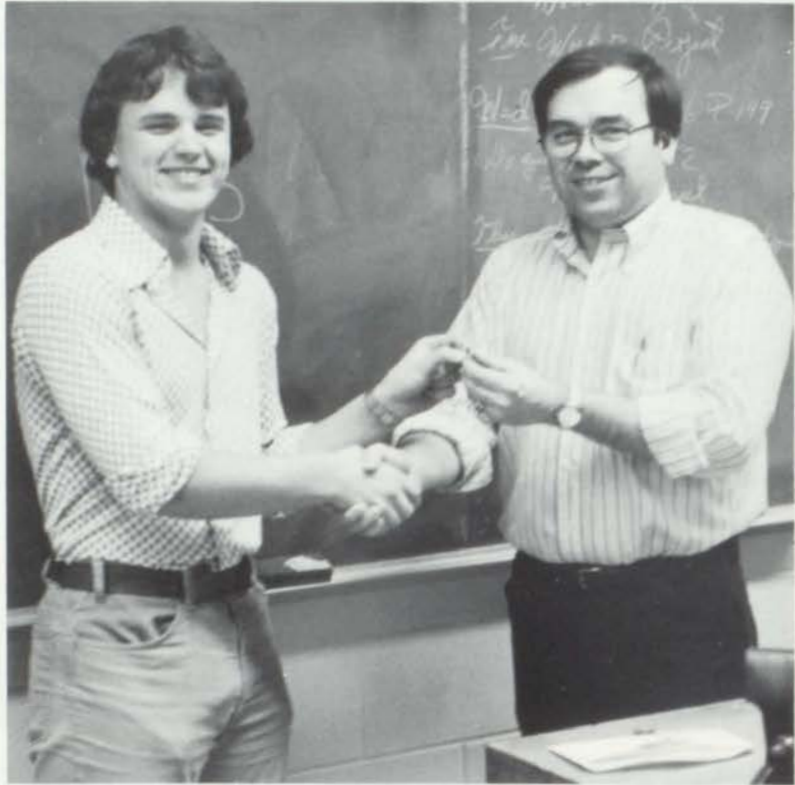

The talented cast filled the stage with spirited energy at all times from the song and dance numbers to the gravely serious finale.

JA Offers Students an Intro to Life

After High School, many people go directly to a full time job. Some go to College, some to the Military. Whatever a person's plans may be after graduating M.H.S., many people find that Junior Achievement is a practical introduction to real life. Junior Achievement provides high school students an opportunity to learn the operations of business on a small scale.

Students form their own companies; they design and manufacture their own products and sell them at a profit. They even pay their own workers.

J.A. companies can "go under" just like real corporations; however, care must be taken in selecting a company president as to avoid this. This year's JA presidents were Scott Hodoval and Doug Falk.

J.A. helps to prepare students for the real world by exposing them to the experiences of big business and corporate structures.

Hoppin' — N Boppin at the Hop

The Hop, Twist, Jitterbug and the Pony were a few of the dances that people participated in at the annual 50's dance held in the high school gym Friday night, April 18th.

If you didn't know better you'd think that Lynn Cain and Amy Cook were right from the 50's. Lynn and Amy won first place in the dance contest. Watch out Chubby Checker!

In the fashion department, Theresa Dunham, Ray Davis, Zoe Harrison, and Dave Flint were perfect models of the nostalgic 50's and 60's. All four were awarded best dressed prizes.

And let's not forget "Big Daddy" Armstrong. He was seen twisting and jitterbugging like no one had ever seen before.

When the night of wild dancing was over, and everyone had returned to the present, many people were overheard making plans for the next year's trip back to the 50's.

Many hours of work preparing for the 50's dance, seems to have paid off for Theresa Dunham.

These three bouncers, Ed Wilbur, Dean Hunt, and Steve Ruch, helped keep the rowdy dancers under control.

Several Fiftiers await their chance to twirl around the floor.

Doing one of the many dances from the 50's, Brad Petty and Debbie Wheeler seem to enjoy themselves.

Jitterbugging to one of "Big Daddy" Armstrong's favorite oldies, are Jill Beebe and Joe Kalisz.

Festival Is a Great Highlight

Even with a shaky start and the absence of a home basketball game, Spirit Festival turned out to be a great highlight of the 79-80 school year.

During the dull winter weeks of February, all the classes pulled together as one to create an air of excitement.

The class competitions started at the beginning of the week with the attendance competition. Points were given to the classes for attendance at various sport events during the week. The competition continued until Friday, where the famous afternoon assembly in the gym would reveal the victors of Spirit Festival.

Various events were competed in, such as, pizza eating, human bingo, and the class pyramid. This year was unique in that there was an upset in the final outcome. The result of the Juniors effort and unity gave the Juniors a victory over the Seniors by a small margin of three points. The Seniors were followed by the sophomores, then the freshmen.

Flying Circus Comes to the Zoo

To break up the monotony of school, aside from spirit festival and homecoming, MHS periodically has unusual assemblies that entertain MHS students. This year was an escape artist and magician. There was also a music army band, the Flying Circus. Students really Appreciate assemblies not only for good entertainment but it also gets them out of class.

The Show Must Go On!

The end of the year is here. One traditional activity sends seniors scurrying about getting ready for that night when they'll be able to show off their talents and/or make fools of themselves.

The traditional Class Night went on as scheduled despite complications. A change in directors and methods did not prevent the seniors from presenting a "class show".

Mr. Mike Casey and Mrs. Helen Selee served as directors of the program. They were assisted by three MHS faculty members, Ms. Ralston, Ms. Harting, and Mr. Sturdevant.

All-in-all the night was an emotion filled evening that will be remembered by all, particularly the Class of '80.

Good Luck Reigned . . . on Friday the 13th

A lot of hard work, a lot of lost sleep, and a lot of sweat and tears went into producing Class Night '80. Many students were leary of going on stage on Friday the 13th. But a liability was transformed into an asset as emcees Cindy Meyers and Ray Davis tied their acts together into a smooth-running machine.

Fred Bisel was one of the musical stand-outs of Class Night '80. His mandolin added a country sort of class to the program.

The Senior Jam Band entertained the standing-room only crowd with two top 40 favorites.

Students Rewarded for Efforts.

Many students who have put forth a lot of effort and have studied their hearts out for the past 30 weeks have their accomplishments recognized at the annual award assembly.

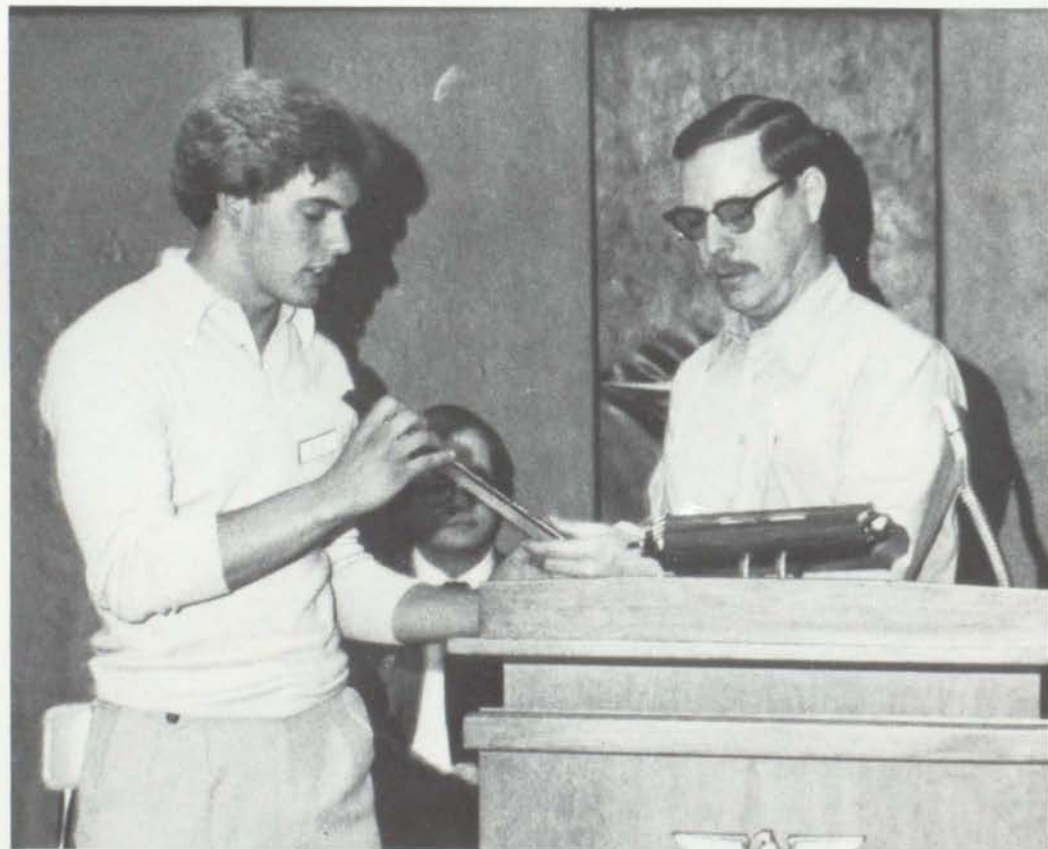

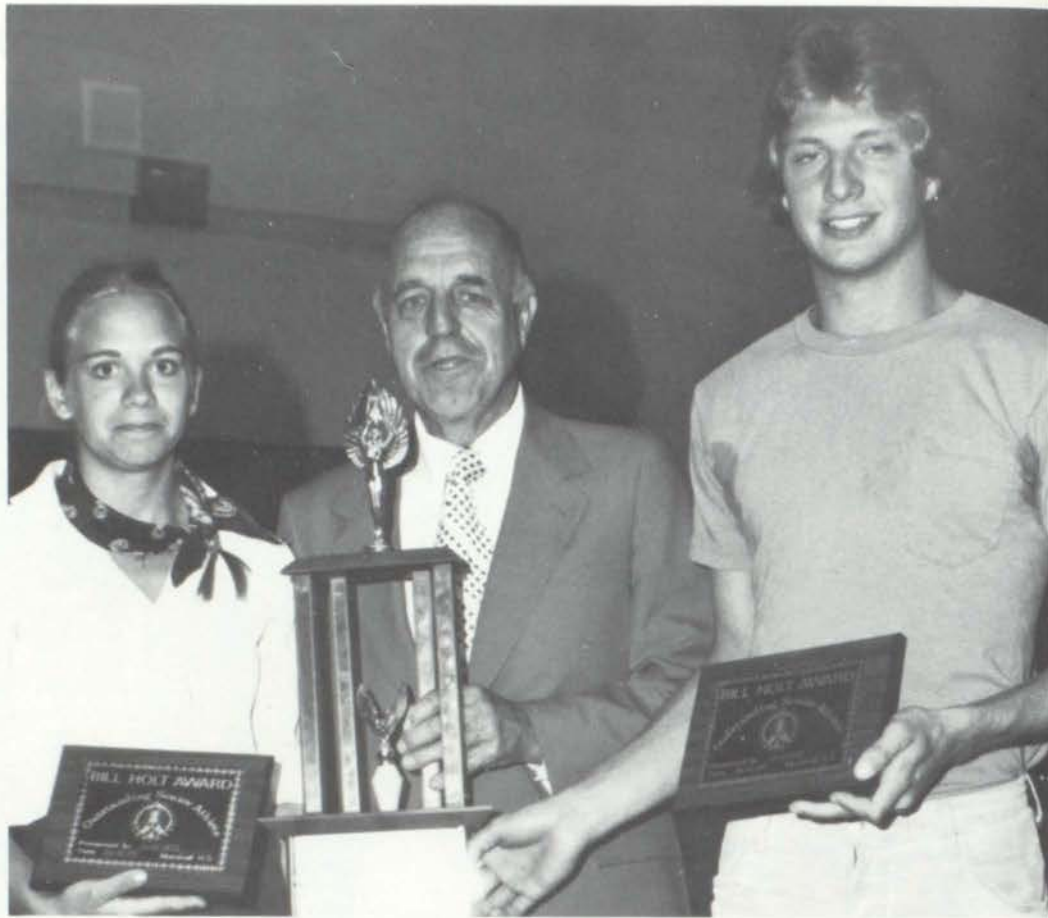

All of the M.H.S. student body sits patiently in the gymnasium waiting for the ceremony to start.

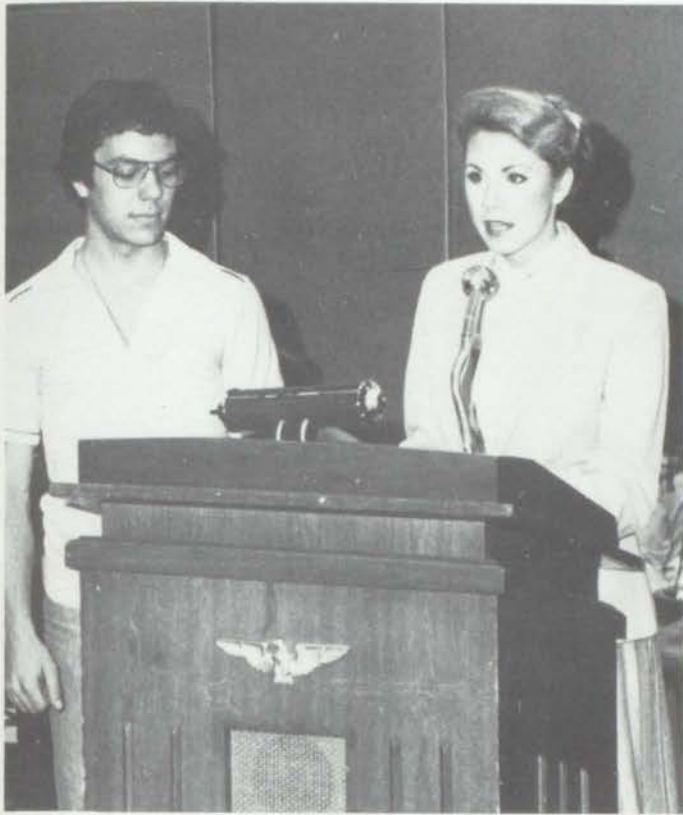

It is at this that members of the senior class are engulfed in their thoughts and memories of the past 4 years. They think of all their effort and late night studying that has gotten them this far. It is at the Awards Assembly that the seniors, as well as underclassmen, are awarded for their hard work.

Students aren't only awarded for academic skills, but also athletic ability, services lended to fellow students and various other organizations, some of which are the Steve Waseluski scholarship, Bill Holt Award, and the Susan Bonnel Scholarship.

Taking That First Step

June 17 was the day and the Marshall High School Athletic Field was the place for the graduation ceremonies of the Class of '80.

Graduation is the first big step in an individual's life and it is a great day of emotion and excitement. There are mixed feelings of happiness and sadness. The joy of graduating is sometimes overcome with the sadness of leaving close friends and realizing that it is time to face the reality of the real world. Suddenly the thoughts of college and marriage seem much closer than they ever have. Though their high school years are over the memories will live on in the hearts of students in the class of '80 and those who knew them.

Time flies fast for Seniors

In the fall of 1979, MHS reopened its doors, two weeks late, the Seniors entered for their last year of formal education. There were many changes in the school that the Class of '80 had attended, cared about and respected for three previous years; but despite these changes, the class of '80 pursued their education with the same enthusiasm as when they had entered the school as Freshmen.

As the Seniors looked out over the year ahead, it seemed a vast amount of time lay between that first day back at school and eventually the gratifying moment of graduation. However as time went on the class of '80 discovered how fast time can fly.

Determined Seniors Win Homecoming

The Seniors, determined to go out victors, gathered up their class spirit and team effort and took the lead in Homecoming 1979. ... not just faces.

The Spirit Festival of 1980 descended upon us quickly. As the Seniors moved into February they began to prepare for their last battle with their fellow school-mates. The Student Body assembled in the gym anxiously awaiting the competition, by the time they emerged the Juniors were victorious, followed closely by the Seniors losing by 3 points. The Seniors who could take time from work and other outside activities, worked together on the Senior theme, "Class of '80 not just faces in the crowd."

Learning a new way

As Freshmen the class of 1980 were timid and unsure of themselves as all freshmen are.

Their first glimpse of high school life was different and changed from what they had known.

Before too long they began to fit in with the rest of the school.

Soon they were getting along fine as Freshman.

They had to learn the ways of the school and most of all how to stay out of the upperclassmens' way.

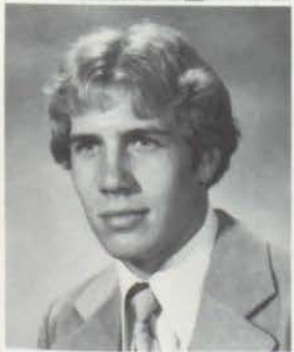

They made it through their first year with flying colors and many happy memories.

A time for change

Spirit Festival turned out some exciting results for the year of 1979. The Class of '80 then Juniors had put up an exciting fight during homecoming. In Spirit festival they proved victorious, to the surprise of the rest of the school. The biggest social event of the spring time is the J-Hop. Ben Armstrong the Junior class sponsor, helped them with the event.

The theme was "Tropical Paradise." It included such props as a small stream and bridge and even a grass hut.

Overall the Class of 1980's Junior year was a time for change and a time for them to prepare for the BIG SENIOR YEAR.

Seniors are fast learners

The Senior class of '80 turned out to be fast learners when it came to adjusting from being a second place junior, to the high and mighty position of a Senior.

They were quick to learn the so called "tricks of the trade."

During the first days of the school year they left many a freshman's head in mass confusion by giving lavish and contorted directions to a class that could have been found by simply pointing to the door across the hall.

Not all fun and glory

Being a Senior is not all fun and glory as many soon found out, for they noticed themselves confronted with the ever present questions and planning of post-high school preparations.

The responsibility of being a Senior turned out to be a fun and helpful learning experience that will prove to be a valuable time of lessons learned and fun times to reflect on.

The Senior year was spent preparing for the outside world, whether one was going to further their education at a big university, like MSU or nearby KCC, or preparing to enter the working world.

Together the class of '80 learned the knowledge of the world and developed a closeness that will never be forgotten.

Leaders and achievers

A Senior as defined by Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, is "a person with higher standing or rank." By the time the class of '80 became eligible for this title they had proved many times over that they were indeed deserving of this stigma. They had proven themselves both leaders and achievers by their many successes in community as well as school-related involvements. It is evident that Marshall High School has succeeded in yielding yet another highly competent group of up and coming citizens in the Class of '80.

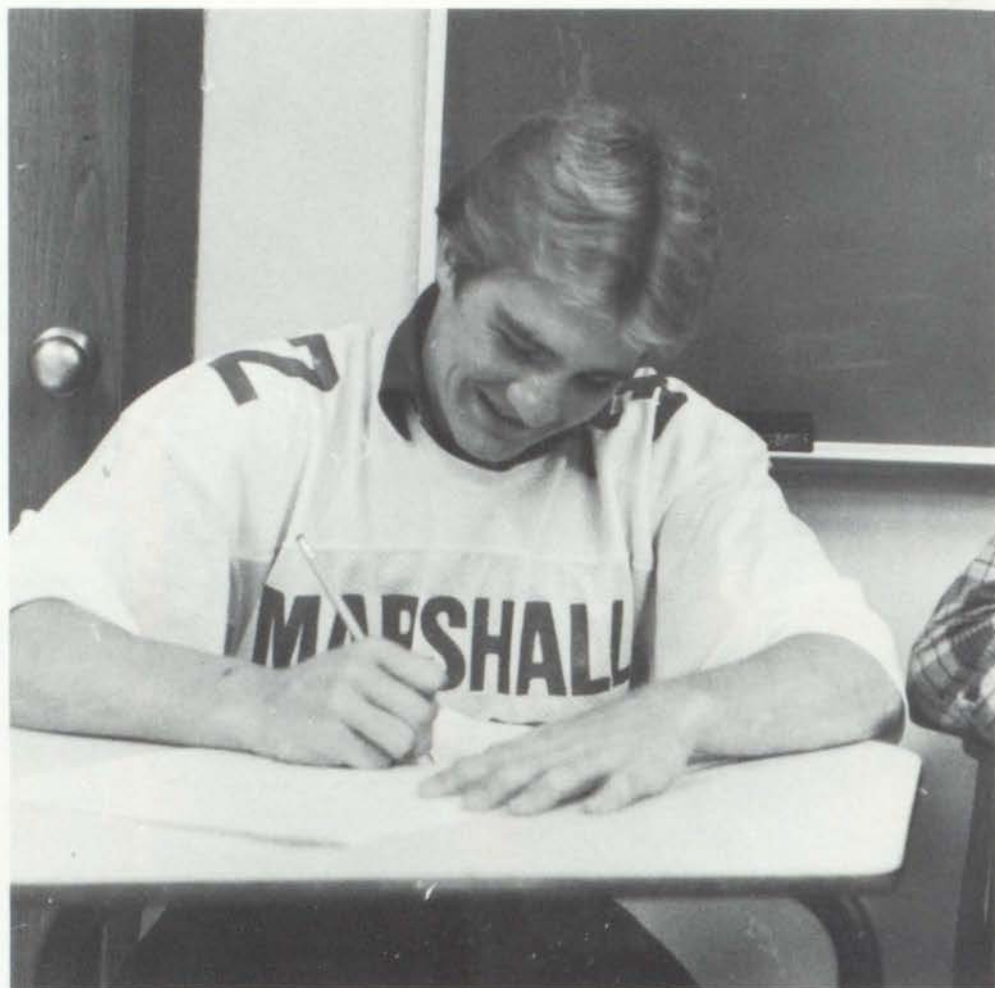

The end is here

As the Senior Year drew to a close, the Seniors found themselves fondly remembering many good times that they had shared together yet looking ahead expectantly toward their futures.

Redskins Place 2nd in T.V.

After a slow start the Marshall Redskins compiled a 7-2 record and placed second in Twin Valley. Seven players were chosen for the Twin Valley All-Conference team. Those Redskins were Seniors: Dave Meade, Bill Patterson, Dave King, Todd Clutter, Tony Dunham, Nick Wade, and Junior, Derek Vincent. This year Dave Meade was chosen to the first team by the UPI, as an all-state receiver. Tony Dunham was chosen for the all-state first team by the Detroit Free Press and the UPI as a defensive back. This year's Most Valuable player award went to Tony Dunham with the oil can award going to Dave Meade. Derek Vincent received the most improved player award.

Girls Tennis Has Spirited Season

The 1979 girls tennis team coached by Mr. Glenn Raught had a very good season with an 8-3 record. The team as a whole had a fine record also with many outstanding individual trumps. Amy and Beth Vogelreuter went to regionals and took a 1st place in mixed doubles. This year's team captains were Kelly Caron and Jenny Burns. The team will be losing many players next year; seniors Sue Tymkew, Sara Day, Deb Nantze, Chris Reed, Amy and Beth Vogelreuter. The girls should be very proud of their hard work this season, and looking forward to a next year's winning season.

Girls Never Give Up Teamwork

The girls swimming team, like all other athletic activities at MHS, is an excellent example of teamwork. The success of our swimmers is largely based on the closely knit characteristics of the team. No single athlete could have insured Marshall the successful season we experienced this year. Every victory was a team effort that the swimmers, as well as coach and assistant coach, worked very hard to achieve. Congratulations swimmers!

A Good Season for Cross Country

The Cross Country team ended up with an 8 and 5 record for the 1979-80 season. The ponies placed well at regionals with senior Fred Bisel qualifying for state. The returning lettermen were Fred Bisel, Dave Flint and Terry Mahrle, all seniors. The team will miss them next year, but will have a very strong team with six returning lettermen.

Girls Basketball Has Split Season

The girls basketball team as a whole did very well this year. They ended their season with an 8-11 record. Many of the girls had outstanding individual records. Sally DeGraw broke the most points in a game record and most rebounds. In total Sally has a total of seven broken records to her credit. Senior, Lil Smith was honored with most valuable player award. Junior, Sharon Davis received most improved player. In the 1979 season there were three sophomores who played varsity so they will have some experience for next year. All the members of this year's team were, Jodi David, Rose Lauzenhiser, Lil Smith, Jody Craig, Sal DeGraw, Carrie Overhiser, Lori Burns, Deb Theaker, Sue Love, and Sharon Davis.

You Win Some and You Lose Some

The Boys Golf team had a very good season this year, placing first twice, second three times and third twice in the Twin Valley. They also finished with 1-2 win-loss record in tournament play and finished second in the Twin Valley league over all. Great senior assets this year were Lee Silvers, Scott Moore, and Mike Petroff which will all be missed next year. Scott Moore was named Most valuable player and Jeff Eckhardt Most improved. Both were also named to the first team Twin Valley. "The team will be very strong next year" said coach Reynolds "with two returning lettermen and a strong junior varsity team."

'Skins pull through; beat the odds

Things looked slim for the Redskins at the start of the season, but with fine coaching by Mr. Dick Hamilton, the Redskins pulled out a 13-11 overall record. With seven seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore, the team managed to take second in the Districts and tie for second with Harper Creek in the Twin Valley.

Brad Huffman, one of the leading seniors, made a name for himself in the MHS record books. Huffman, in addition to receiving All-State honors, broke the total school scoring record, and also broke the record for average points scored per game, averaging over 26 points per game.

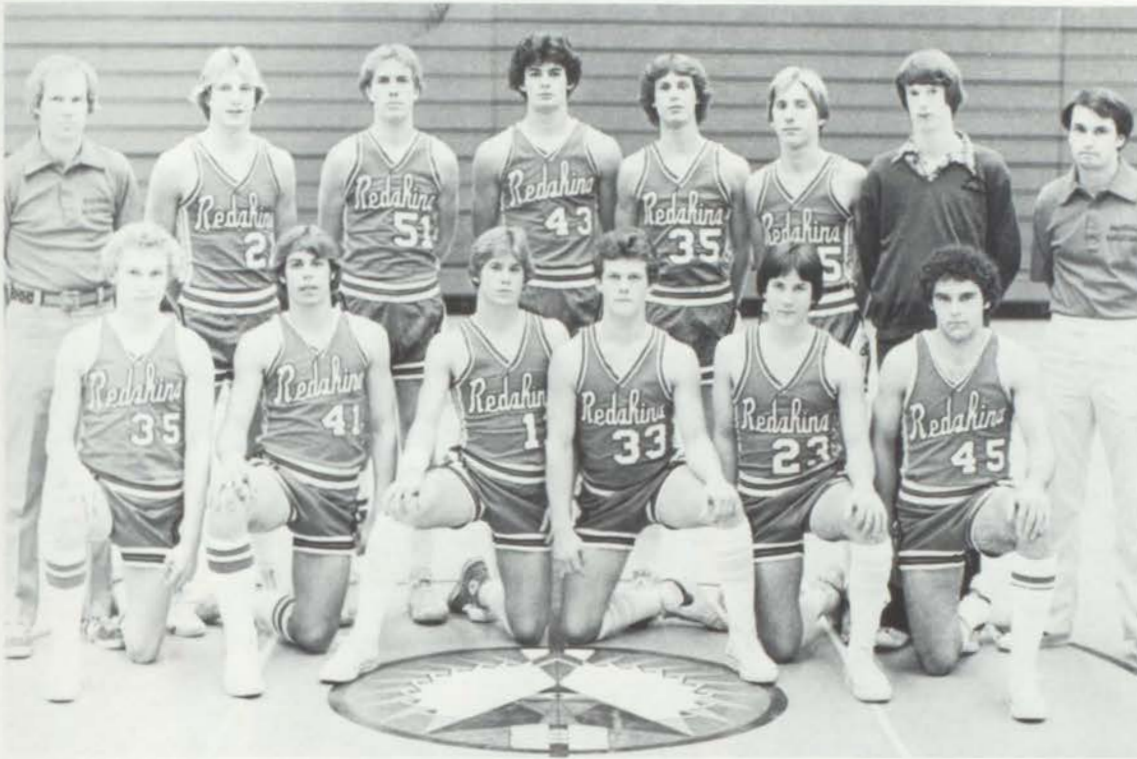

Next season will be tough considering the loss of many departing lettermen.

Skins of the Future

Head Coach Tom Sowles had his work cut out for him with a combined JV and freshman team this year. But, this seemed to be no problem for the young Skins. Made up primarily of sophomores, the JVs should prove to be a valuable asset on the varsity squad next year. Along with freshman, Brian Huffman, who will try to fill the shoes of his brother Brad, these players should be the strength of Marshall's varsity.

Three Seniors Lead Team

This season went down as one of the best wrestling seasons ever. The Coaching Staff is very proud of the effort and work by this year's team.

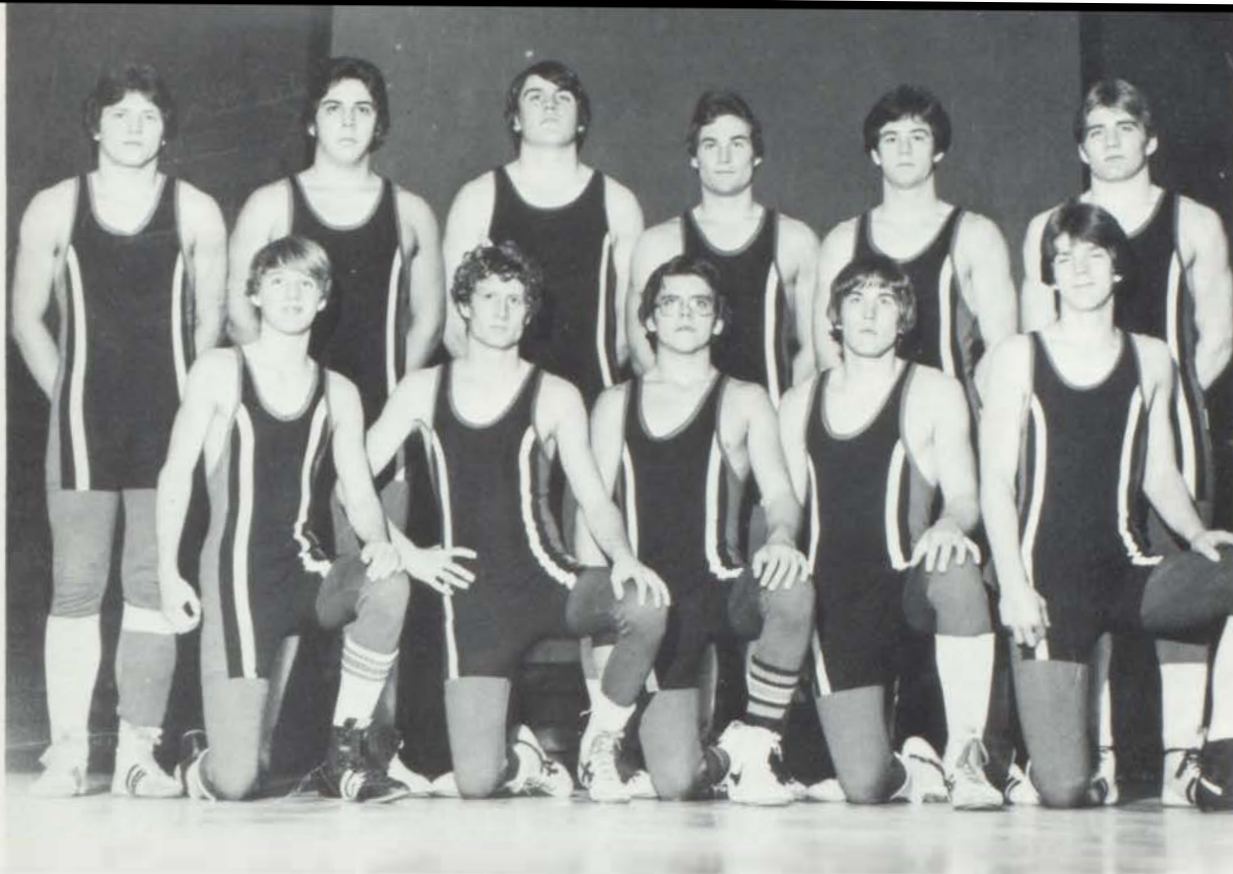

The leadership of the team was led by three Seniors. Tri-captains Terry Mahrle, Leigh lobe, and Bill Patterson.

Three wrestlers qualified for the 1979 State finals. They were Teddy Damron, Greg Mahrle, and Terry Mahrle. Teddy and Terry finished fifth in State. Terry set a career record for wins of 108. Congratulations on a fine season!

New Coaches For MHS Volleyball

Marshall High School's volleyball teams had new coaches this year. For the varsity team, Rick Nemi assumed the leading position. Rick had previous volleyball experience and was currently a teacher at Marshall Middle School.

Coaching the J.V. team this year was Ms. Christine Papes, the new business teacher at MHS. Both coaches became dedicated to a winning season next year, and this season has definitely shown improvement over last.

Contributing to yet another victory for Marshall are Debbie Nantz and Terri Barnes

Boys Swim to Victory

The Marshall Boy's Swim team usually has consistently good seasons, but this year we can really be very proud of them for their great job.

The swimmers put forth a tremendous effort which proved worthwhile at the end of the season. Seven of our swimmers qualified to go to the State Swim Meet. They were, Mitch Glanis, Ray Davis, Carl Augustine, Steve Ruch, Keith Kenyon, Eric Tribby and Mike Palmer.

Team Compiles Perfect Record!

The Boy's track team compiled a perfect record this year, attending eleven duel meets and winning them all. This performance is a highly commendable way to represent M.H.S.. Our winning season is directly attributable to the dedication and involvement of the athletes themselves as a team. Returning seniors Fred Bisel, Dave Flint, Mike Wynne, Ed Wilbur, Frank Harris, Jim Cipic, Kevin Estill, Nick Wade, Brad Huffman, Dave King, Jimm Aaron, and Scott Moore. Will Definitely provide a target for next years seniors to shoot for. Congratulations to all our other track stars, and good luck next year!

Netters Faced Tough Competition

The boys tennis team competed against some tough Twin Valley competition this year and compiled an impressive 8-6 record. The strength of this year's team lay in the hands of the doubles teams. At this year's Twin Valley tournament all three doubles teams placed second to boost Marshall's placing to third in the league.

In Regional play the second doubles team of Bob Vincent and Jeff Filbrandt and the third doubles team of Scott Hodoval and Rob Dostal took another second place in a field of 13 teams. This year's netters were dominated by seniors and there will only be three returning lettermen next year. Final standings for the tennis team include a third at Twin Valley, a fifth at Regionals, and a fourth place in the league.

Another Year Another Coach!

The 1980 Girls Golf team had a super year with a win lose record of eleven and three and a Twin Valley record of six and one to put them second in their conference behind Strugis. The girls had another new coach this year, Mr. Thomas Duffey who also teaches seventh grade math at Marshall Middle School. The Coach was happy to have two of his girls make the all conference team; Tina Silvers a junior with an average of 7.0 and Terry Barnes a senior with an average of 12.5. Mr. Duffey says that next year we will be very strong with seven returning lettermen: Mary Samson, Kelly Caron, Rhonda Coats, Joanne Kinney, Jolene Allen, Kathleen Moore, and Tina Silvers, along with five J.V. players.

In Which Direction Are We Headed?

Each action in our lives has a purpose. The purpose, however, may not be known at the time the action takes place. Eventually, the reason becomes clear. The value of our education sometimes is clouded and may not have a clearly defined purpose in the beginning.

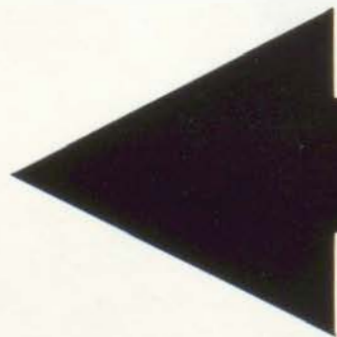

The high school student is sometimes caught in the middle of indecision about his or her future. Life offers many roads from which to choose and the decision making process may be short or lengthy.

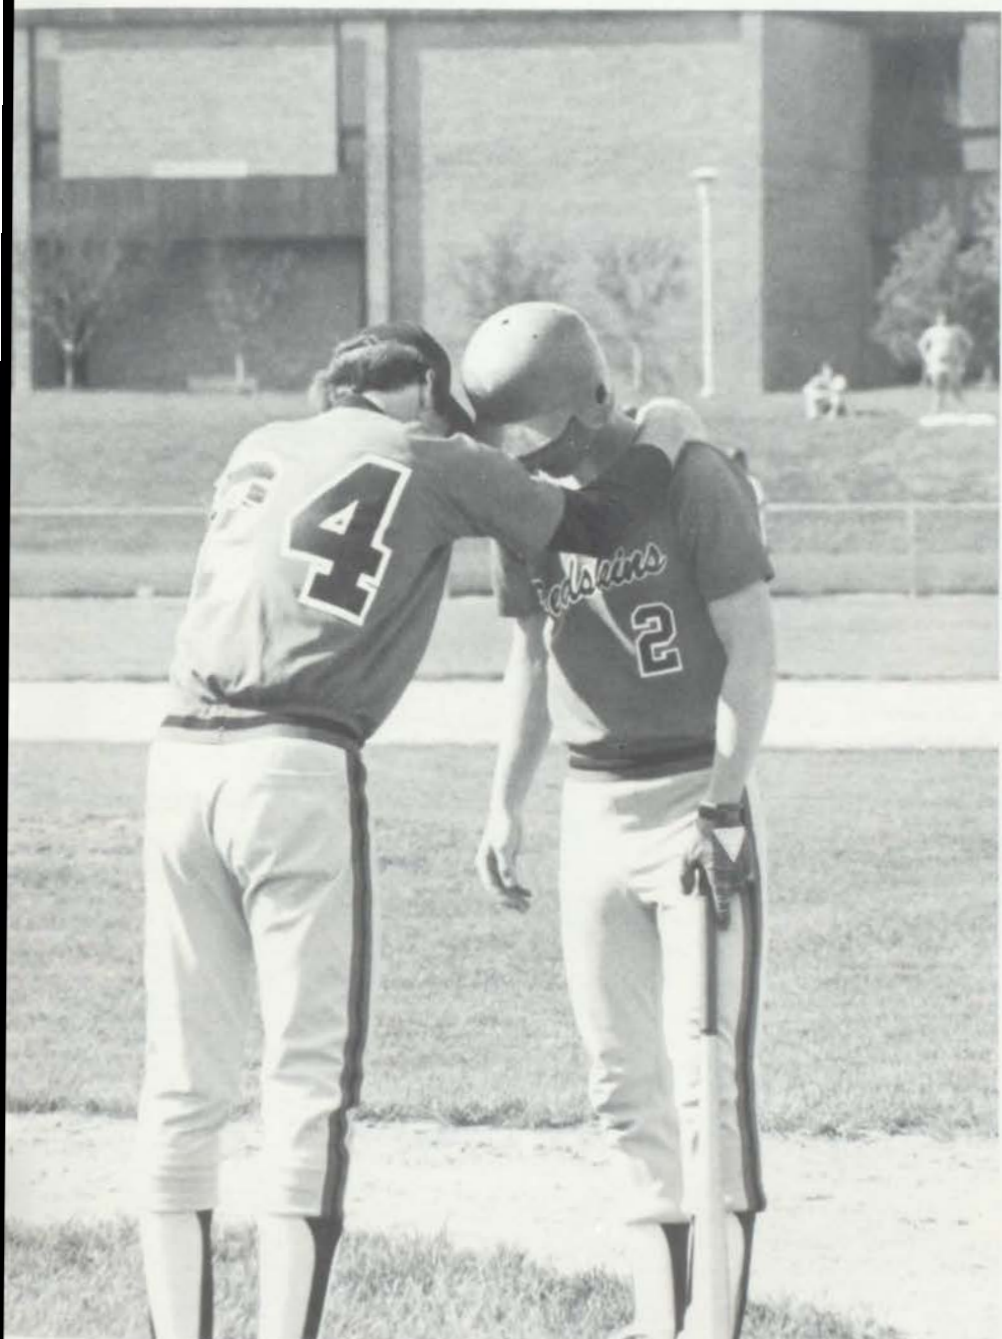

During the high school years students are maturing and often experiencing new situations. The changing atmosphere promises adventure and challenges as each day draws anew.

As the high school years end, the graduates' hopes and fears of a promising future draw them closer to their memories, for once the memories are collected and stored away in the back of their minds, the path is cleared for future experiences, as new memories take up the gap that was once reserved for MHS.

This year Patty Ramirez chose to direct her energies to the Calhoun Vo-Ed Center. Here she works on her secretarial project.

Working to Get Things Done

When students want to organize an activity, solve a problem, or merely "shoot the breeze" about a concern they let the Building Council know and they can be certain the activity will be discussed at the next meeting.

Each year classes choose student representatives to serve with faculty representatives in formulating policy.

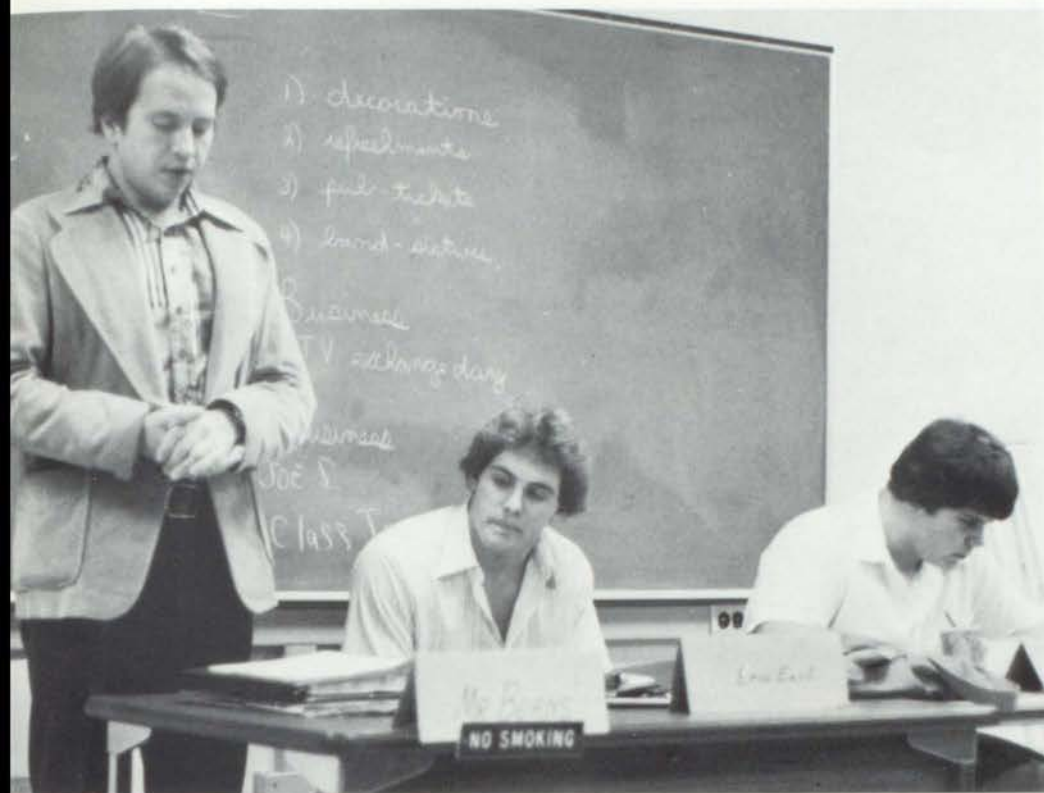

This collection of talents, sponsor homecoming, spirit festival, and the Christmas Semi-Formal. Without Mr. Brian Burns, faculty chairman, and Eric Earl and Jeff Filbrandt, student chairmen, the students could probably not organize and implement these events.

Representatives and officers share in the benefits too. They learn the responsibility of leadership and the mechanics of parliamentary procedure.

Membership Based Upon Several Qualities

All Marshall High School juniors and seniors with good academic performance and leadership qualities are potentially eligible to be members of the National Honor Society. Four M.H.S. staff members review each qualifying students application on the basis of academic achievement, community service, and leadership ability to determine his participation in the National Honor Society. Marshall has had a National Honor Society Chapter since 1955. The National Honor Society is a nationwide organization. This year nine juniors were accepted for membership out of eighteen applicants, and 15 seniors were selected out of sixty. Although being a member of the National Honor Society is a great honor, it does not contribute to eligibility for college scholarships or even acceptance, which are based on standardized examinations such as the ACT.

Journalism Pleased with Results

When 11:30 comes rollin' by in the school day, Chet Strudeviant's fourth and fifth hour journalism class is anxiously waiting to go. Members of the Yearbook and Newspaper staff never knew what to expect upon entering room 217. There was a surprise every day.

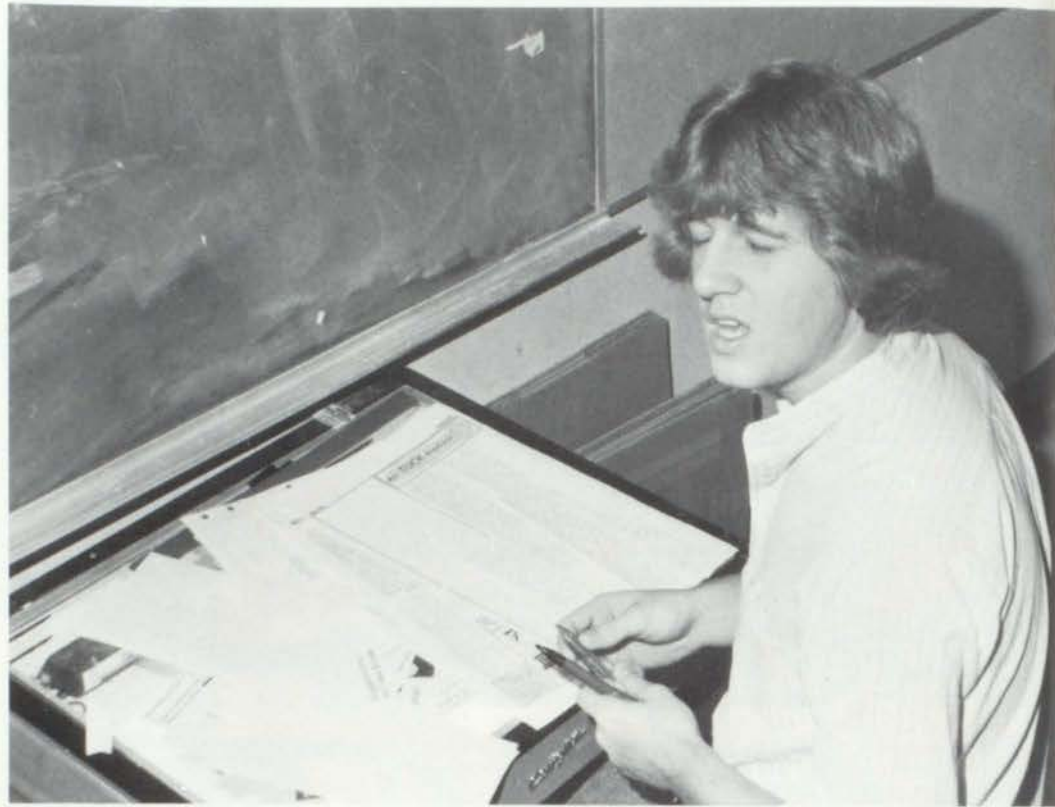

With the help of Mr. Strudeviant and editors, Francie Russell and Mary Samson, our great bunch of kids worked hard together to prepare this yearbook. The members were constantly busy trying to keep control of things going on around the school. Designing layouts, cropping pictures, and writing copy were all part of the responsibilities of the yearbook staff. The underclassmen pictures were taken faster and more efficient this year thanks to the National School Service. Seniors had their choice of photographers this year which was also a new thing.

Also with Mr. Strudeviant's help the high school produced a newspaper, the Interchange. Written bi-weekly it informs students of things going on in and around the community and the school.

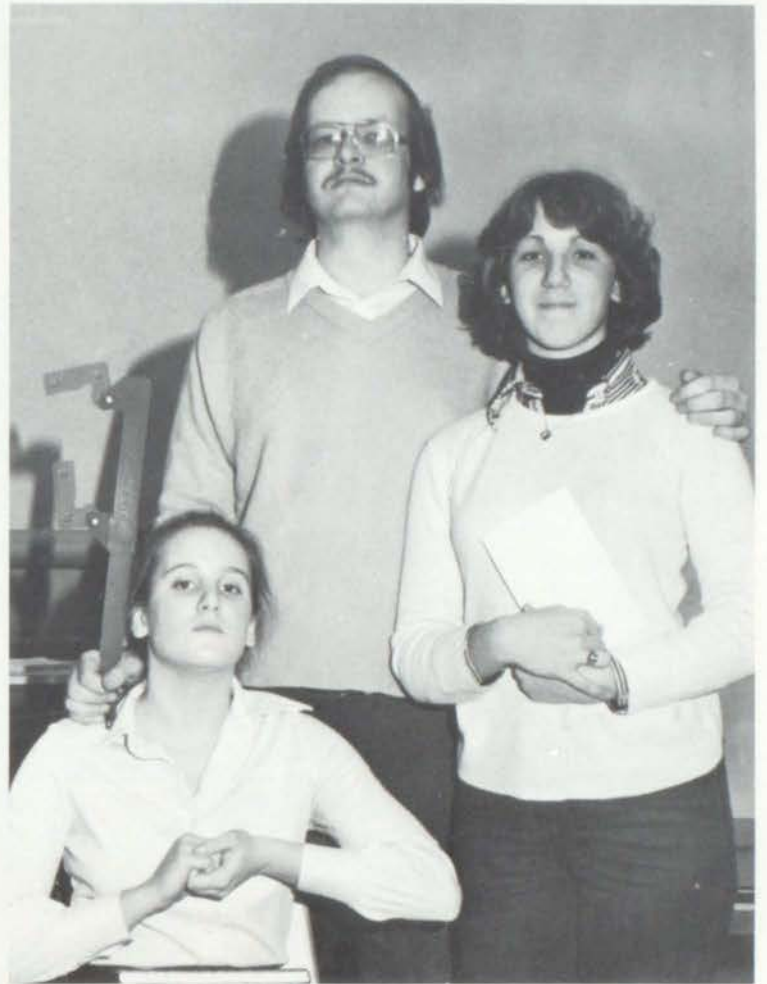

The students on the newspaper staff considered the Interchange this year the best it's ever been thanks to the good reporters, photographers, Tim Goheen's humorous drawings and editors, Doug Falk, Matt Tuck, Michelle Wentz, and consulting editor Julie Vandy Bogart.

The first week in May found the journalism department at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant for a journalism conference. The Michigan Inter-scholastic Press Association sponsored this and we all had a good time.

"Don't be a Spaz," is a famous saying around the Journalism room. Interchange Co-Editor, Matt Tuck has a tendency to use this famous war cry when laying out his newspaper column.

Cedar Point Highlights Year

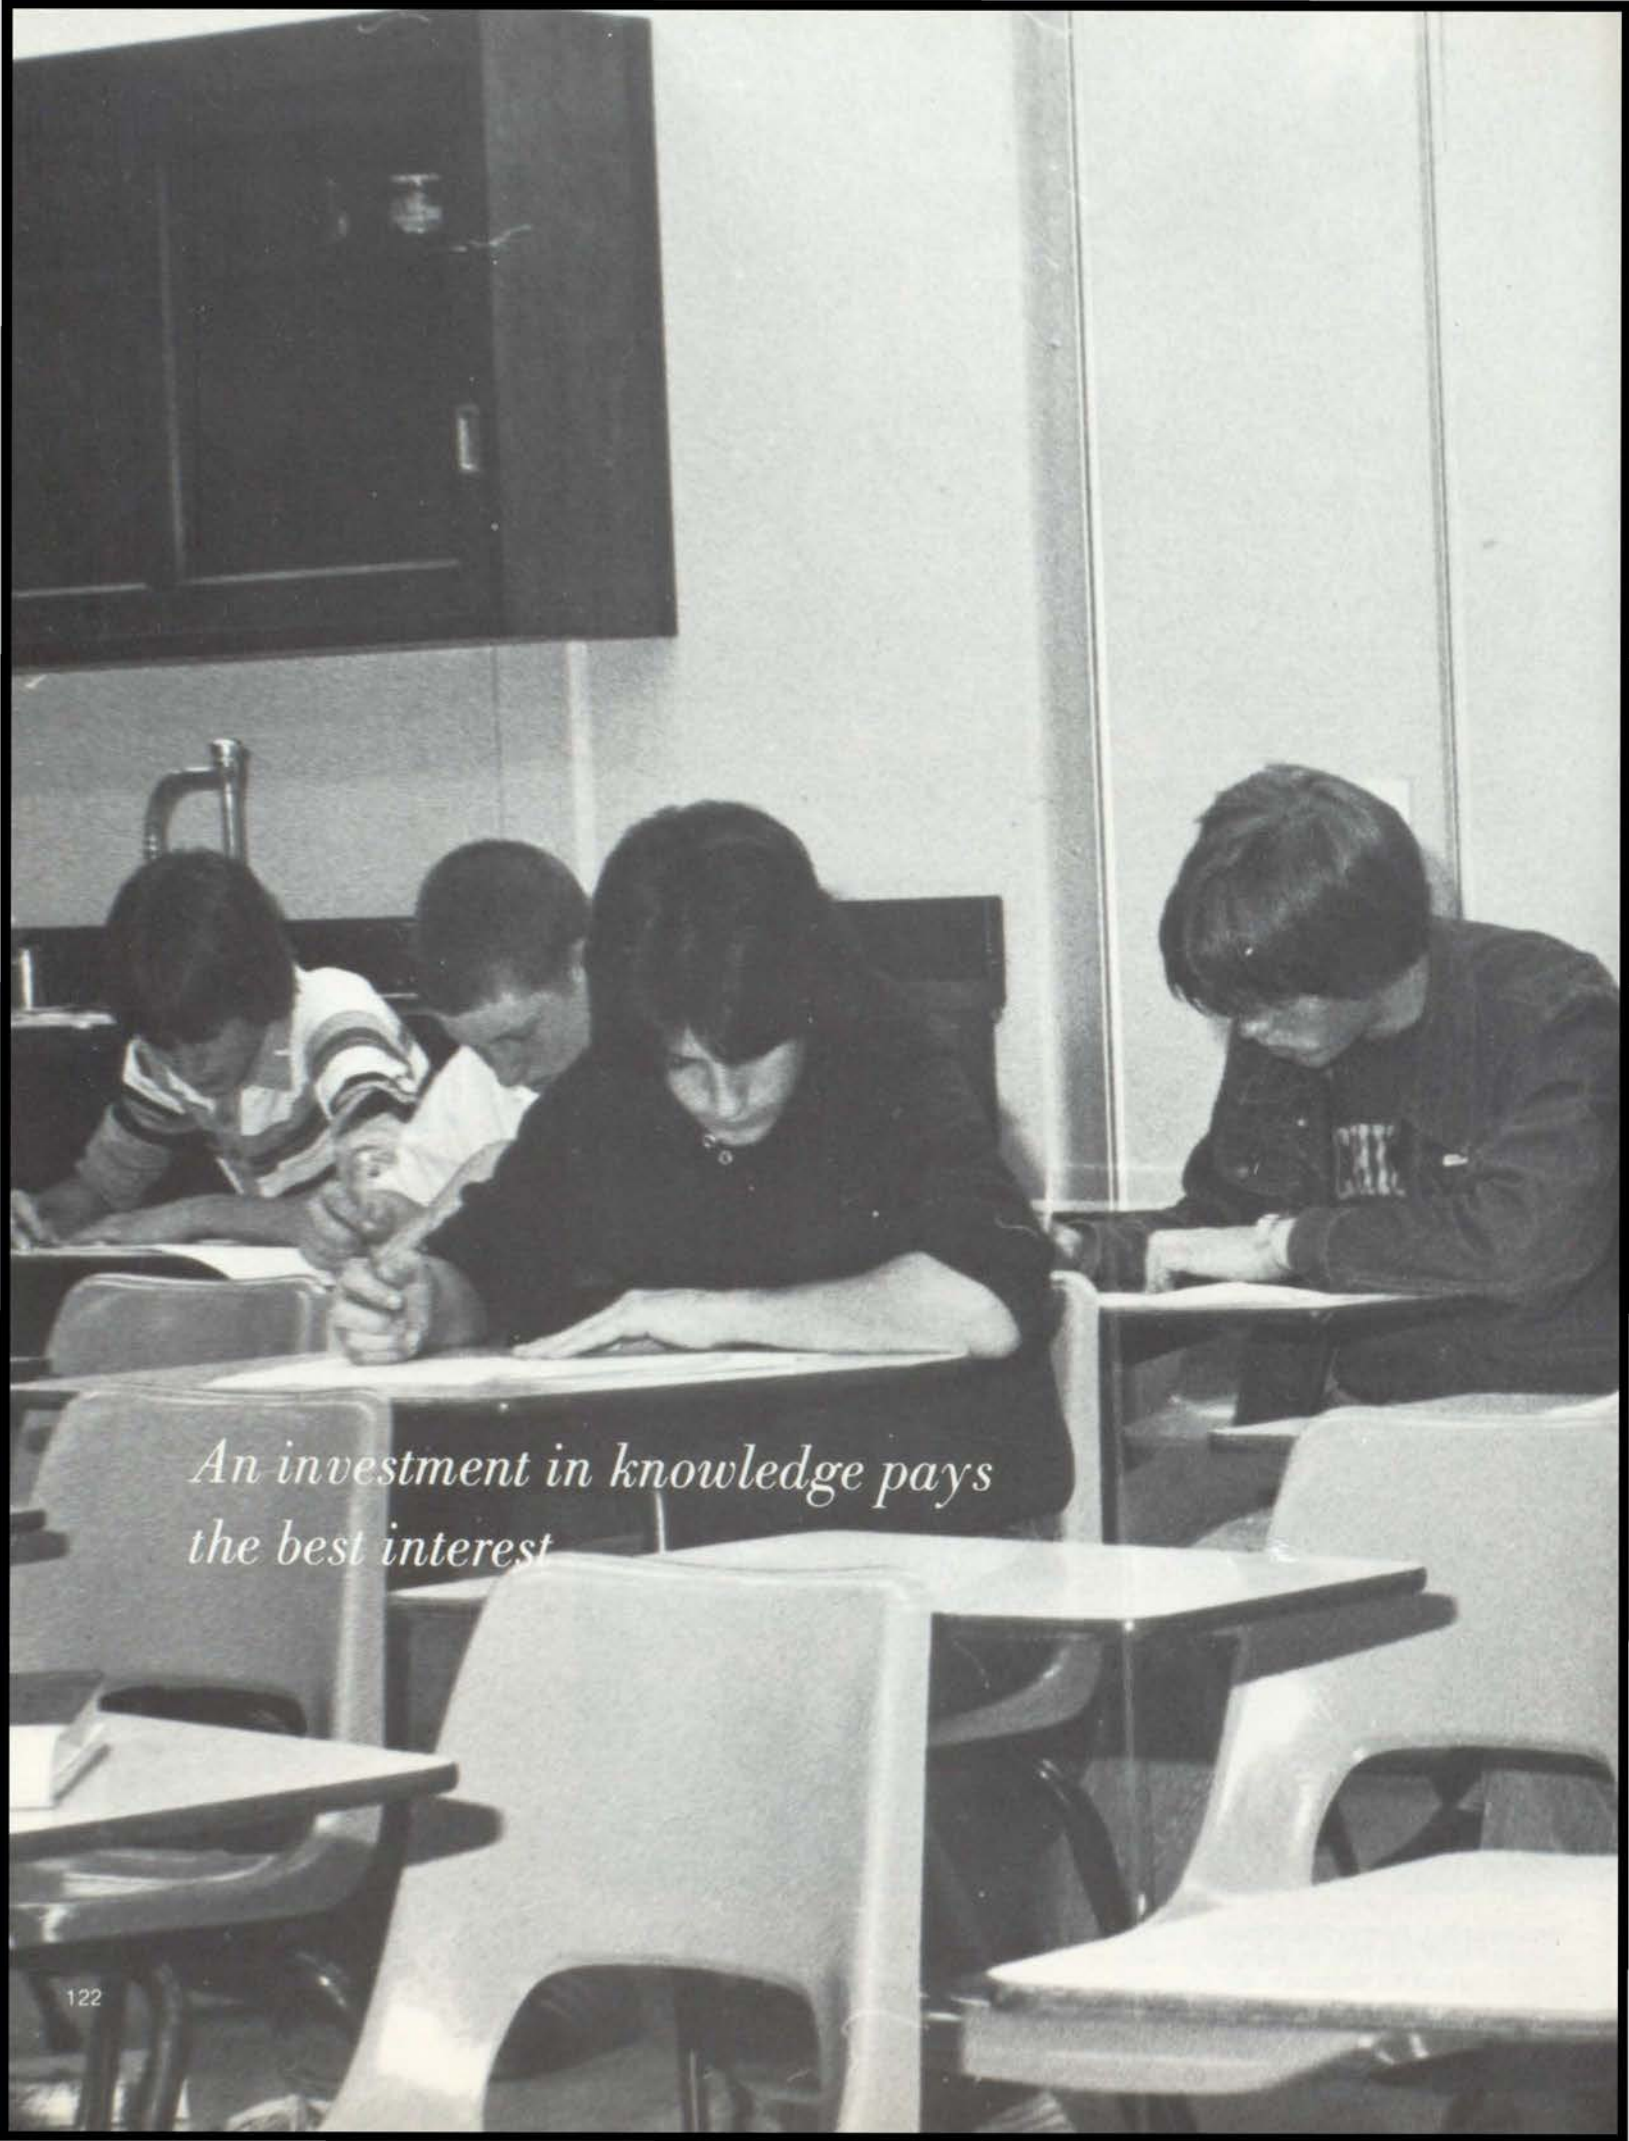

This year again, the M-Club has had a very successful year under the guidance of Mr. Ben Armstrong. There are about 76 members in all and at one time or another everyone participates in various activities. The largest money maker for the M-Club was the Concession stand at basketball games and wrestling tournaments. A car wash, a bottle pick-up and a jog-athon were some of the things M-Club did this year. Mr. Armstrong is very proud of all the hard work everyone in M-Club had put in. At the end of the school year, M-Club traveled on a trip to Cedar-Point, a reward for their hard work.

Lori Yost, Carmen Beck and Carolyn Bedford get things ready before the hungry crowd comes in from the game.

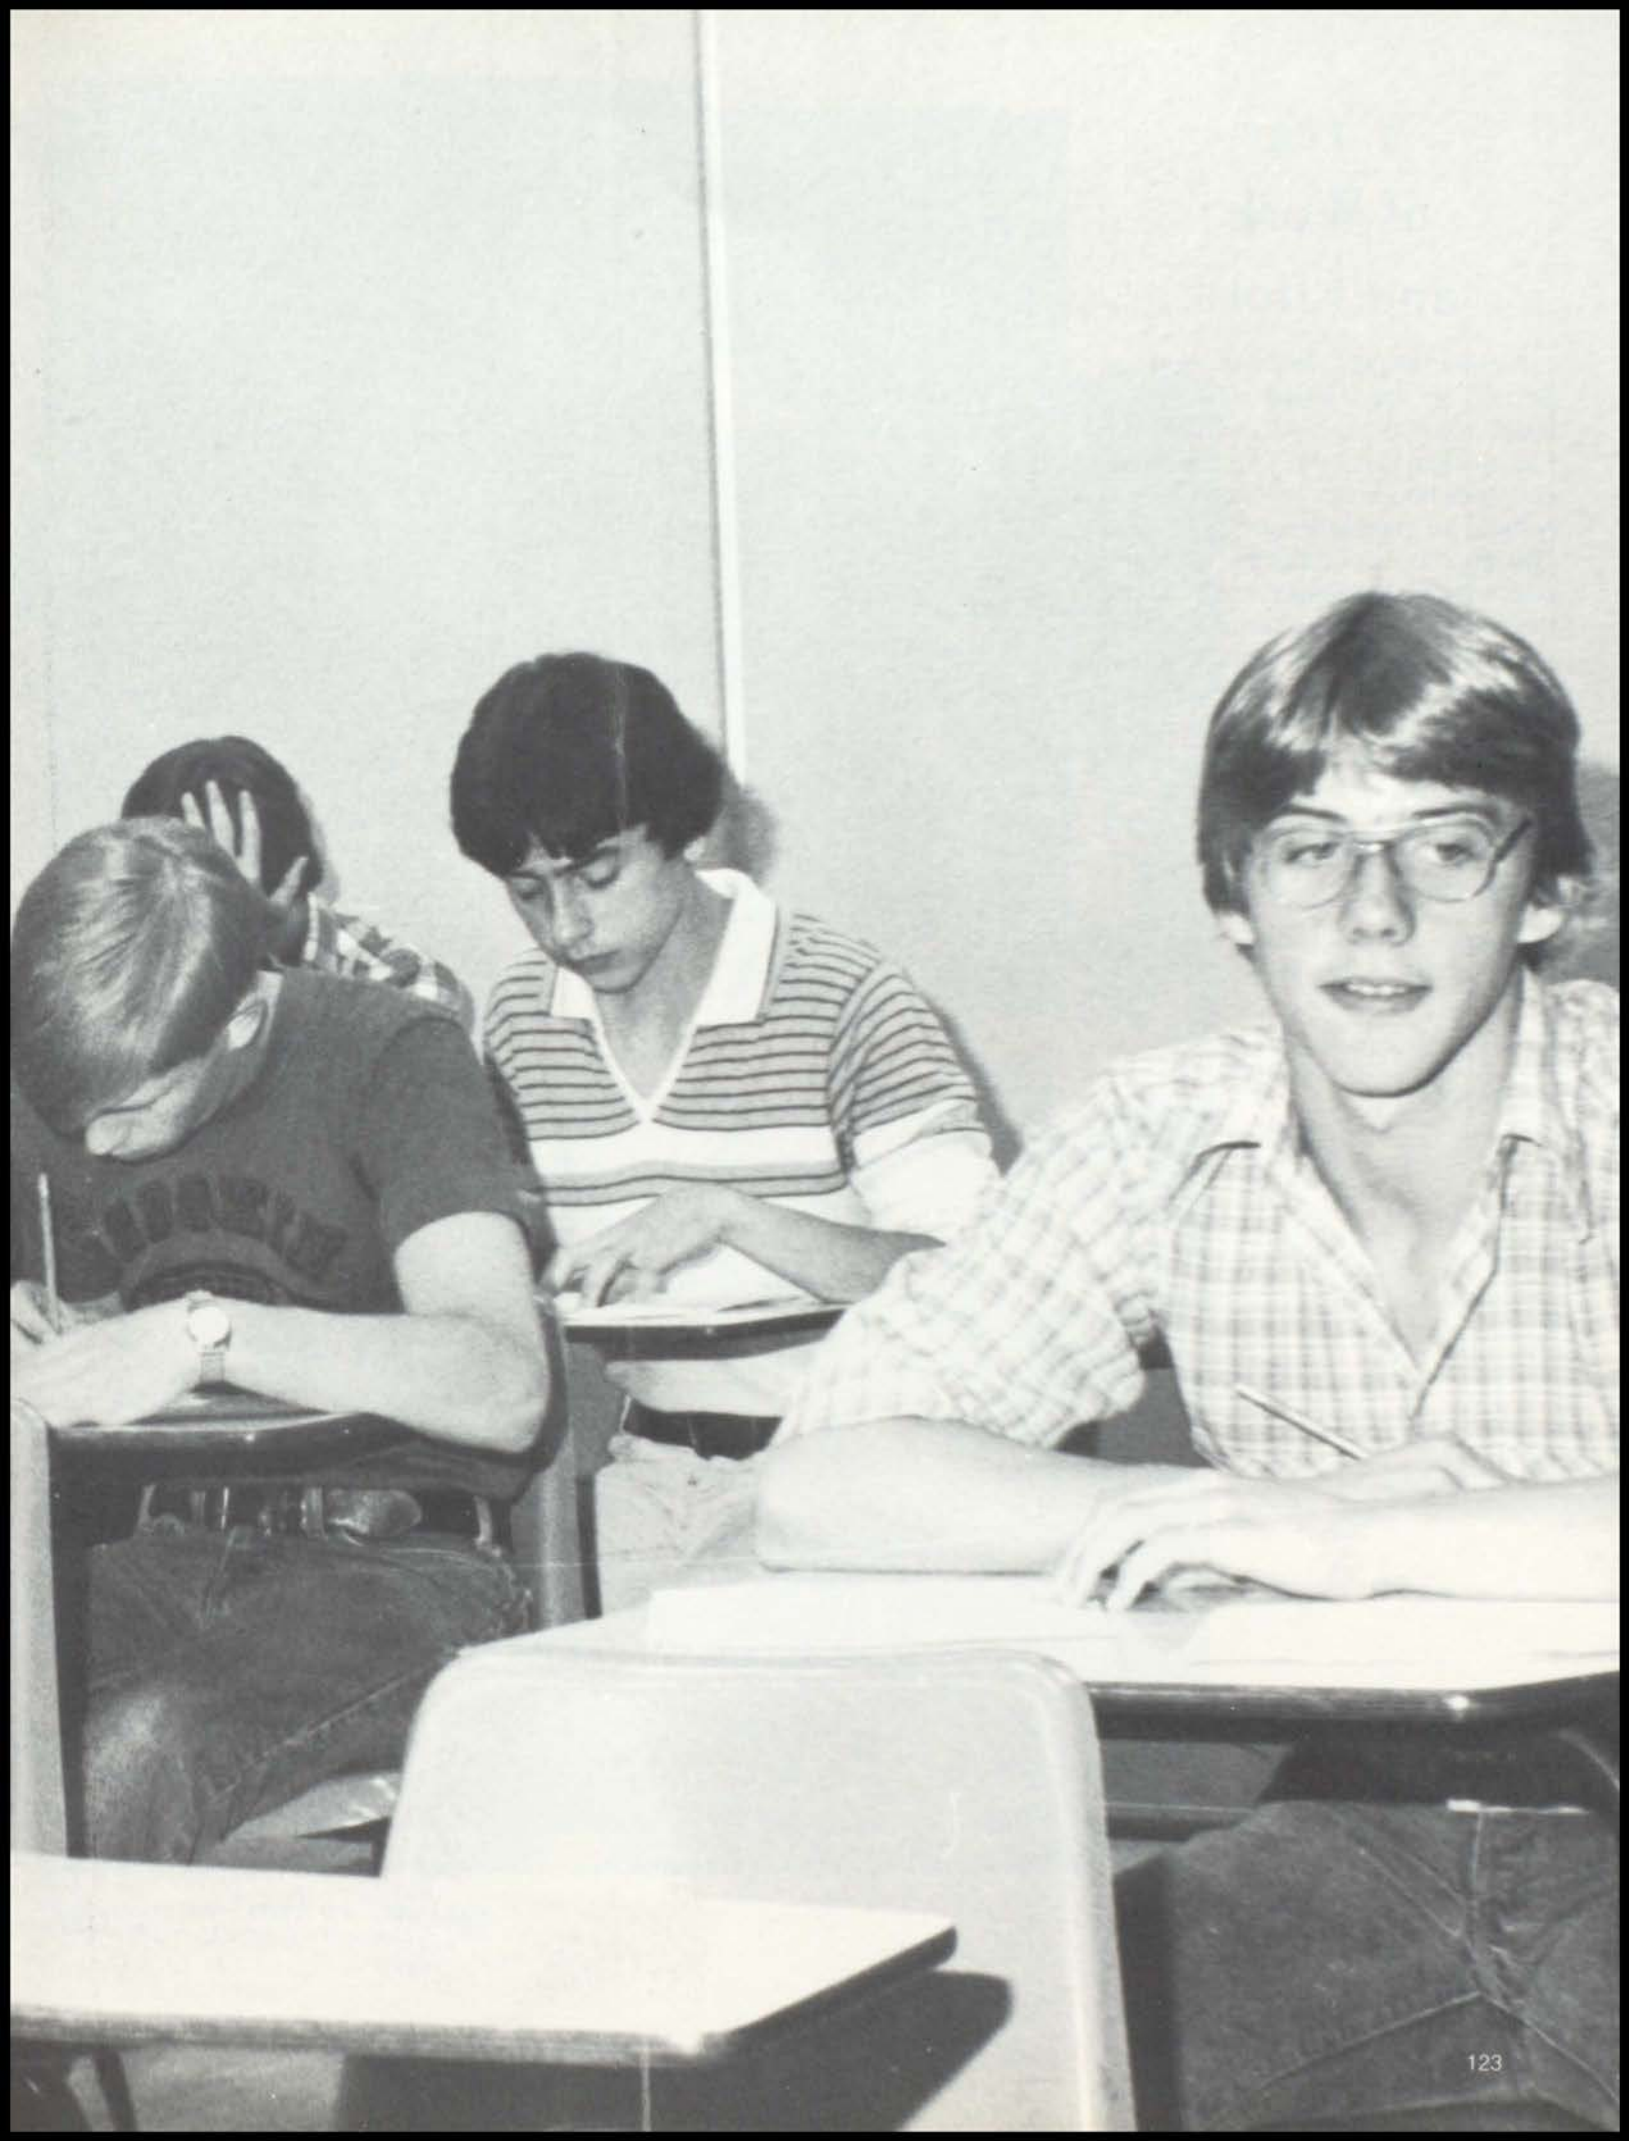

Joking around while at an M-Club meeting is Chris Reed and advisor Ben "Arnie" Armstrong.

"We have anything you want," says M-Club members Mike Funk, Fred Bisel and Ed Dennis as Dave King awaits a hungry spectator.

A Year of Work and Effort

A year of diligent work and effort has paid off for the Marshall High School Band. Band director Mr. John Beery has worked with the musicians for countless hours in practice sessions to achieve an impressive amount of skill. The long hours of repetitive work and concentrated application on the part of the band members account for the success which the band has acquired. The band participated in a state competition this year, and received a perfect "one" rating. The musicians must be applauded for a job well done and luck to next year's band, who will carry on the tradition. What a way to represent MHS!

Members of the woodwind section prepare their sectional pieces during State Band Festival week.

Mr. Beery conducts the band in an arrangement from "West Side Story" in preparation for one of their many concerts.

Junior Sharon Davis, practices those "umpas" until she's blue in the face

Ron Bates practices towards perfection in a strenuous orchestra session.

Percussionists Dave LeBlanc and Tiffany Frohm await Mr. Beery's direction for their cue

Shelley Cipic, Clare Hill, Kindra Chadderton and Sue Palmiter practice one of their songs

Diane Bougton and Diane Rapp rehearse a duet in singers

Angie Kedo, Holly Simmons, and Beth Harwood practice hard on their material for one of their fine performances for a spring choir concert

Have You Got the Talent?

If you have a talent for singing or an ear for music, Marshall High School offers many musical classes to choose from. Mr. Clissole teaches vocal classes, Marshall singers, girls ensembles, and choir. The M.H.S. singers are a group of serious vocalists who strive for perfection. The Marshall singers traveled to Washington D.C. this May on a singing trip. Overall, the singers, choir, and ensemble people work hard to master their talents and Mr. Clissole is very proud of the results of his students achievements.

Amy Nelson, Deanna Perkins, Missy Sebring and Lori Travis await the start of another General Business Class

Interested in a business career?

If you are interested in a business career or just enjoy working with numbers, Marshall High School offers a wide variety of classes.

General Business, Accounting, Business Law and Math, Typing 1, 2, 3, 4 and Office Machines are the classes offered.

Marshall High School has three new teachers added to the Business Department this year. They are Ms. Papes, Mr. Burns, and Mr. Sturdevant. In addition Mr. Armstrong, Ms. Rieger, and Mr. Engle still teach in the Business area.

Helping Sharon Davis with her assignment is Mr. Armstrong

Lori Lagios concentrates on her typing assignment in Mr. Engle's class

Reading assignments are one of the many requirements Lori Debeijoe needs for General Business

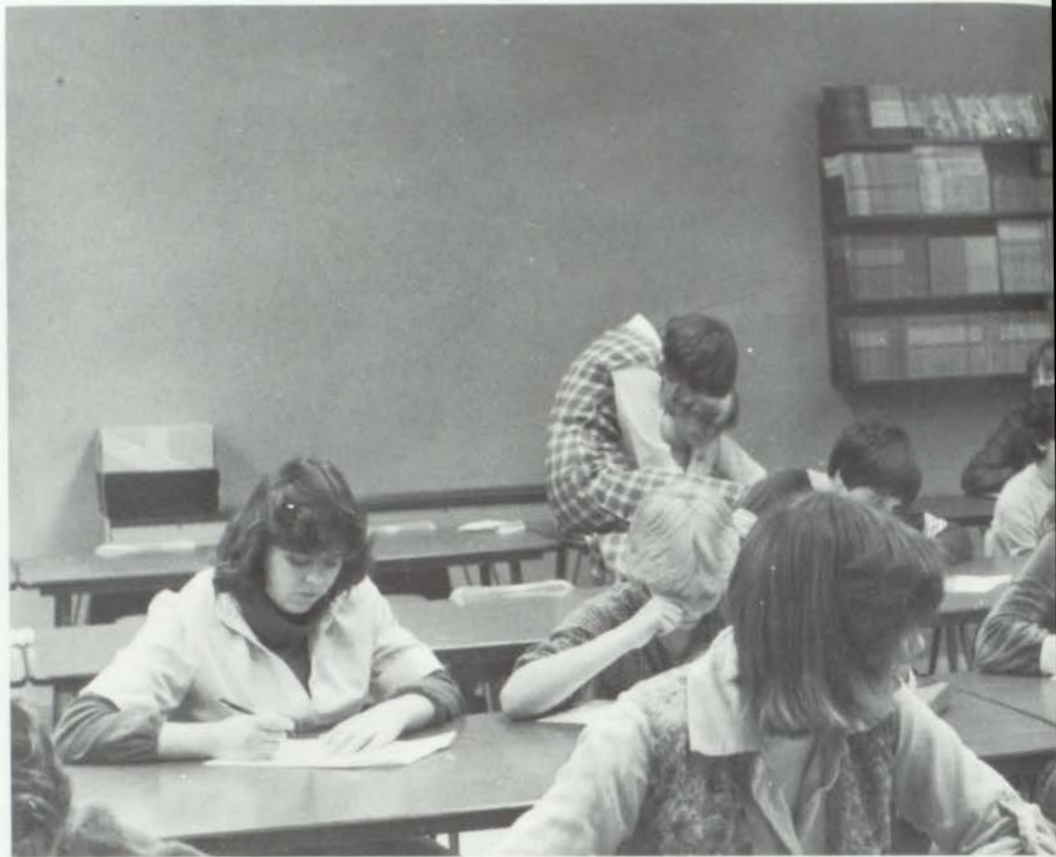

Verbs, Nouns, Adjectives

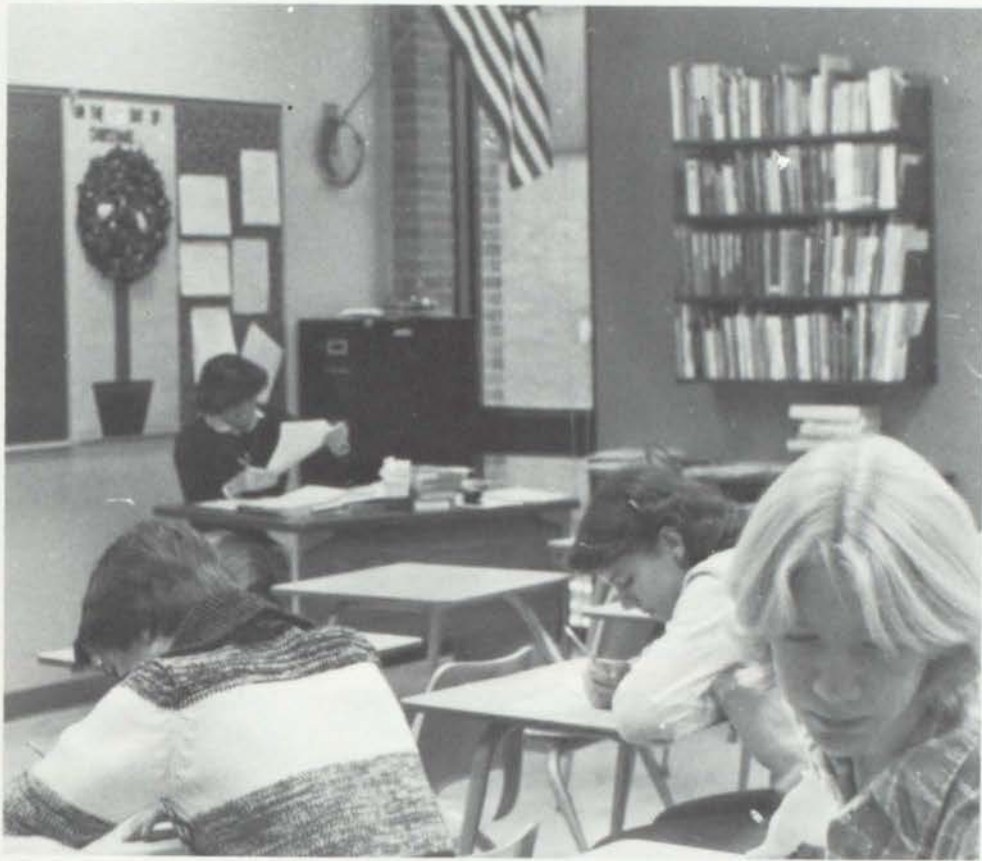

Verbs, Nouns, Adjectives etc. You have to learn all these things within the four years of high school. Sometimes it takes the full four years to learn it add. MHS gives you many opportunities to learn through all these classes. English 11B, MassMedia English 10 1 and 2, 3 and 4, English 9 1 and 2, 3 and 4, English 11 1 and 2, 3 and 4, English 11A 1 and 2, 3 and 4, Make-up English, English 12, Speech 1 and 2, 3 and 4, Adv. Debate, Adv. Forensics, Nobel Prize Author, Exposit. writing, Forensics.

There are always teachers around to help you if you need an extra boost, like Mr. Sturdevent, Mr. Telfer, Ms. Dobbins, Mrs. Grove, Ms. Ralston, Mrs. Haroff, Mr. Ickes, Ms. Kinney, Ms. Magnus, Ms. Visser, and Ms. Wingerter.

Even if she has to climb over the table, Mrs. Grove never fails to answer questions.

With a smile Mr. Ickes entertains his first hour English 10 class.

Ms. Wingerter has no problem keeping her English classes occupied.

Looking over her class, Ms. Magnus makes sure that homework is being completed.

Posing as the "Three Stooges" Dan Weaver, Sam Ramon, and Ed Wilkowski tend to their English.

Math An Important Part of Schedules

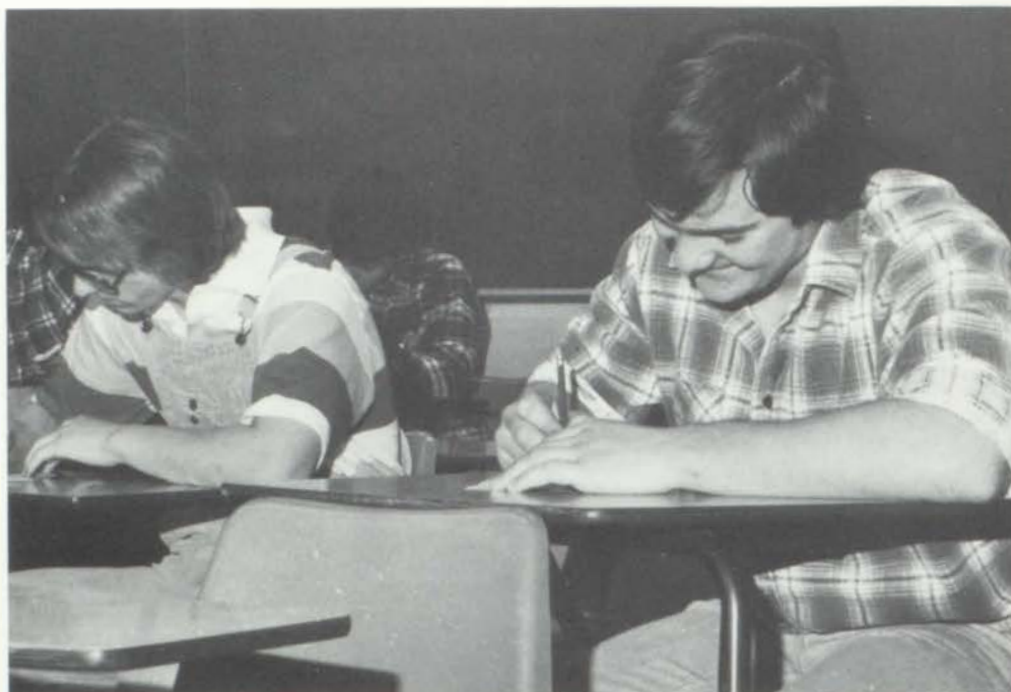

Math has always been an important part in the schedules of Marshall High School students. This is due to the advanced technology of today's world. Whether one wants to become an engineer, accountant or a nurse, math is a necessary course of study.

The Mathematics Department has a wide selection of classes, from trigonometry to Algebra. In Algebra, one learns to formulate and solve equations. Geometry is the course for students who want to learn mathematical logic and space relations. The more advanced classes such as M.I.A. (modern introductory Analysis) give students a chance to master geometric principles.

Mr. Glynn, Ms. Miller, Mr. Teice, Mr. Machata, and Mr. Elyea form the math department.

Doug Hazel and Scott Lavere look intent on getting an A on their tests

Checking to see if they answered their homework right is Mr. Teice's Algebra class

A student from Mr. Treices Algebra works hard at solving his problems

Todd McAuliffe looks bewildered with his new homework

Mr. Elyea's Geometry class listens attentively as he explains their next assignment

Students show interest in their math class

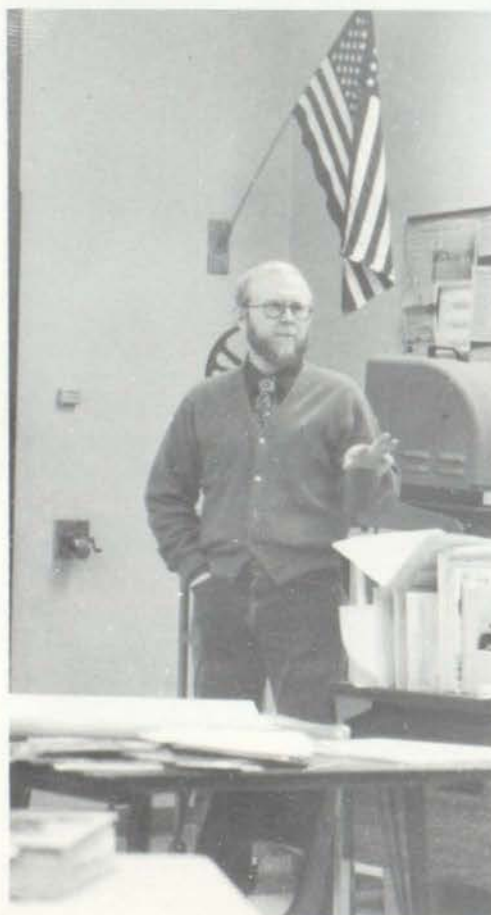

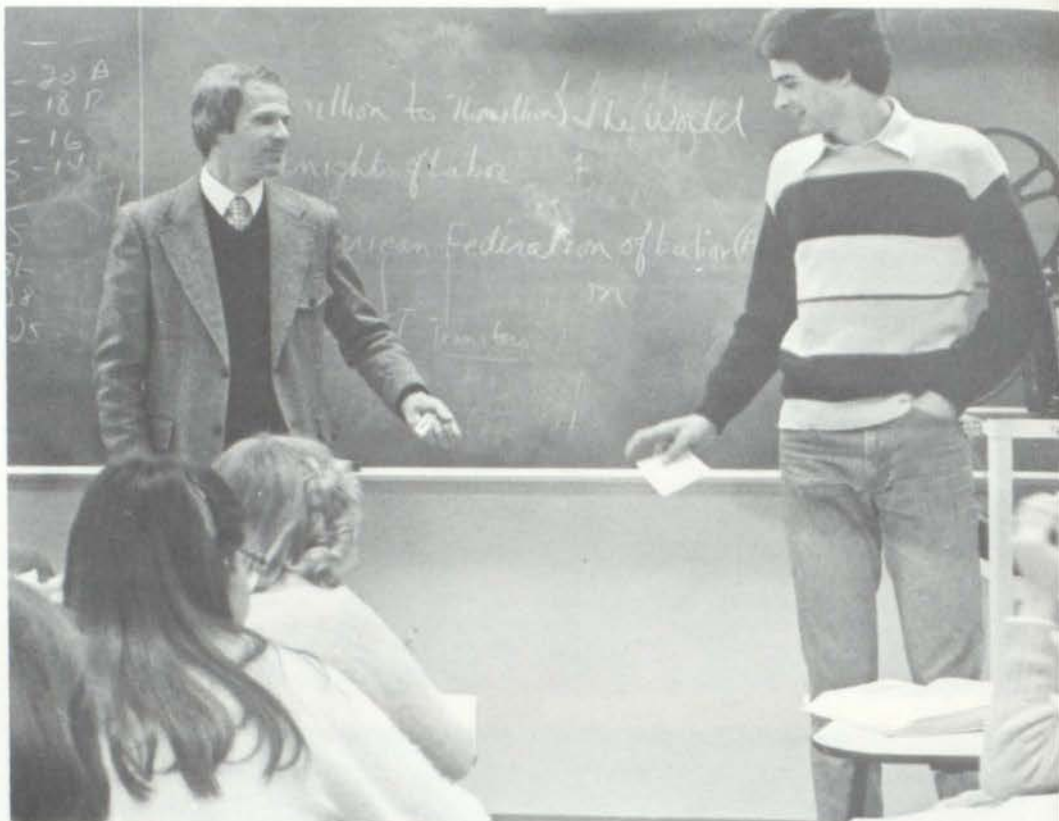

Classes Touch the Past and Present

Social Studies touches not only the past, but the present and the future as well. With an assortment of social studies classes students can elect a class to help them in their future occupations. Learning about government economics, the nation, and the world is an important part of these classes.

The government classes study about our leaders and their decisions. The transaction of money and how it effects the public is studied by economic students. And History classes teach students about man's past.

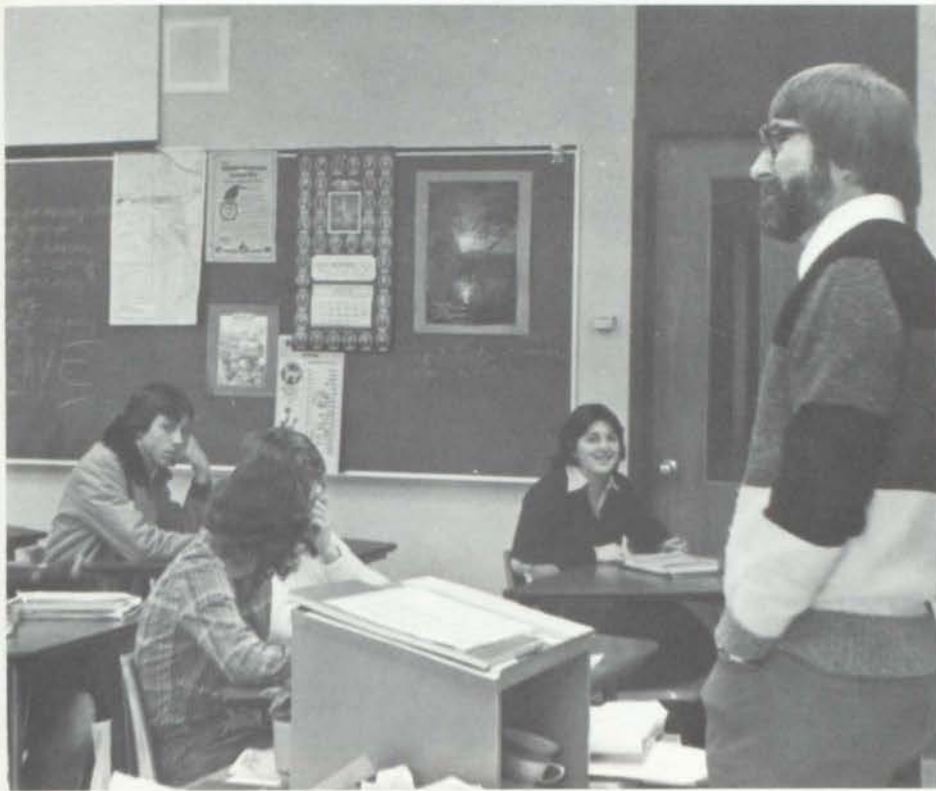

Mr. Wouri, Mr. Smouse, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Roy, and Mr. Cronk make up the Social Studies Department.

Attendance in History class is mandatory. Social Studies teachers, such as Mr. Hamilton require their students to have good excuses. Senior Brad Huffman presents Mr. Hamilton with his pass

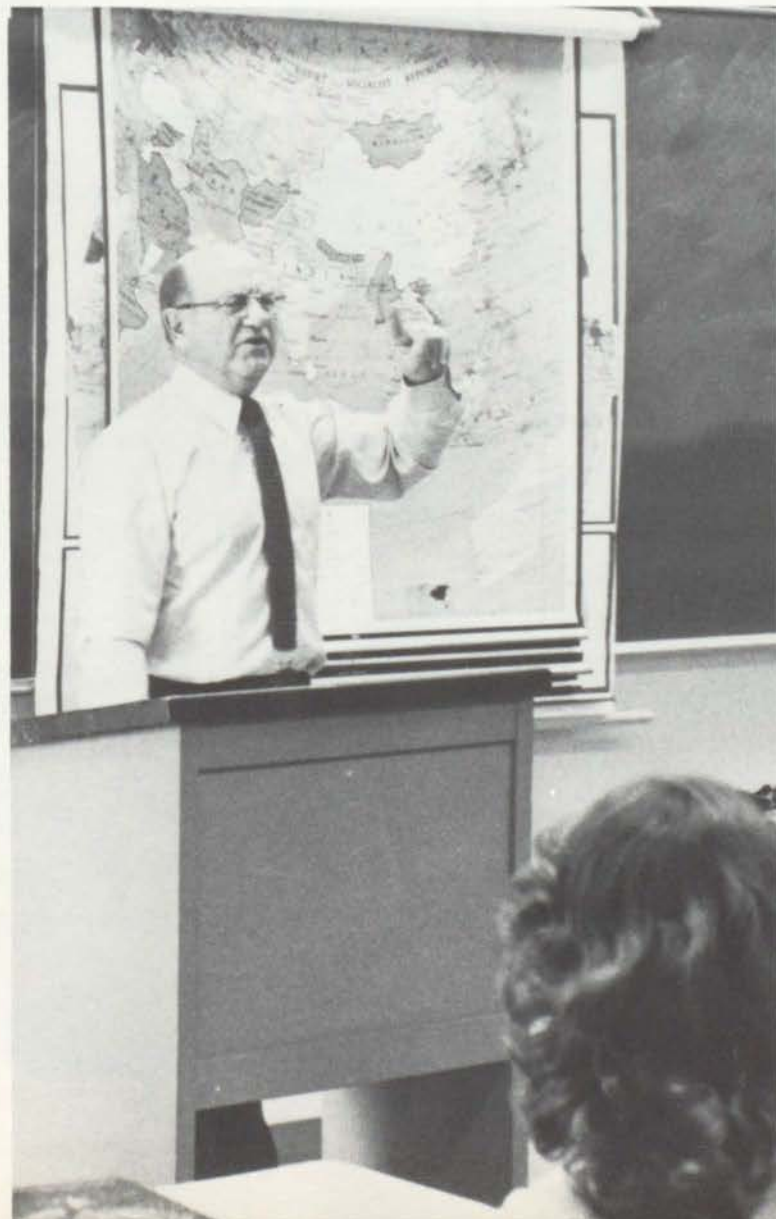

Audio-visual equipment plays an important part in teaching Social Studies classes as demonstrated by Mr. Kronk.

Taking a break to crack a joke makes Mr. Smouse's Government class more interesting.

Teaching economics to interested students is Mr. Wouri.

Strongly expressing his opinions, Mr. Roy shares them with the class.

Looking at newspapers appears to be one of Mr. Carr's favorite pastimes.

Students Offered 3 Languages

Have you ever wondered what you'd do if you took a trip to Mexico but you couldn't speak Spanish? Or if you lived in France for a month and couldn't utter a syllable of French?

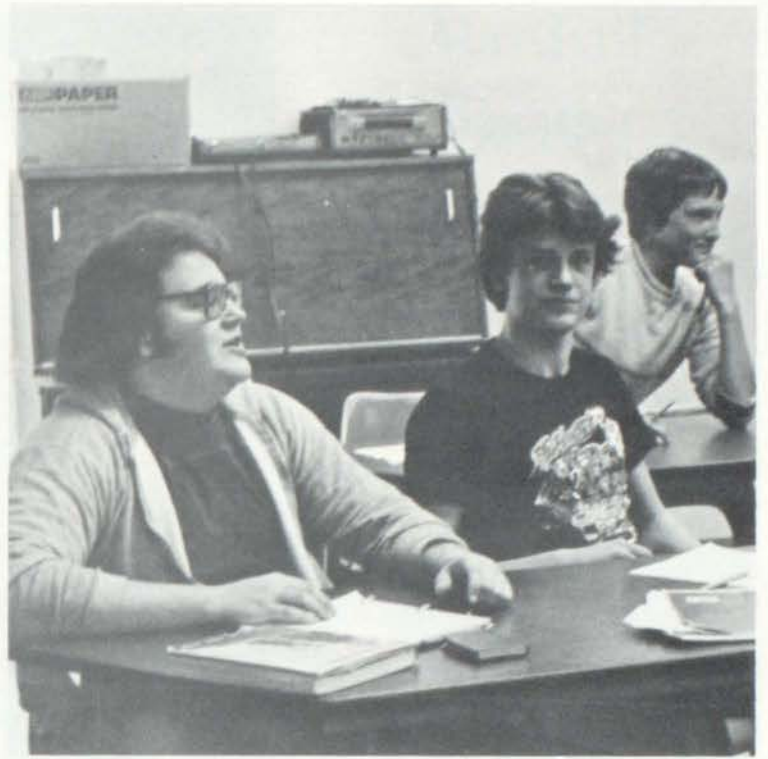

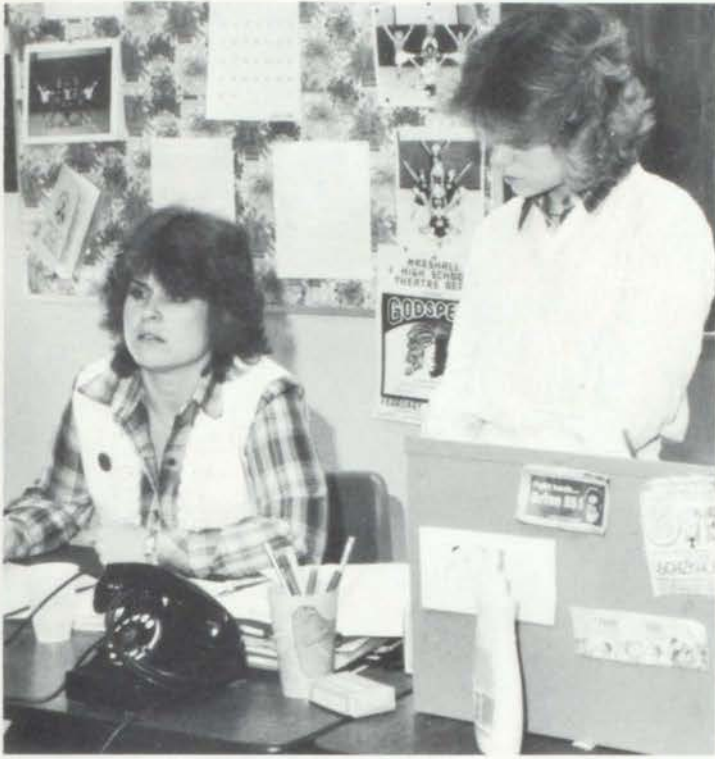

Well, this is what Marshall High School's language courses are for. Students can choose from a variety of offered subjects, such as Spanish, French, and Latin. The language teachers are pleasant and friendly, willing to help beginning students as well as advanced. Ms. Magnus teaches Latin, Mr. Haroff's specialty is Spanish and Ms. Harting is the French teacher.

Trying to look at work, Scott Hodoval, Kelly Caron, Suzi Bessler, and Allison Burris, carry on their own conversation.

Debbie Taylor looks as though she has a different interpretation of a French story.

Mr. Haroff takes roll at the beginning of Spanish class.

Contemplating another day's assignment, Miss Harting gathers her thoughts.

Spanish doesn't seem to agree with Ken Ronan.

Her Spanish assignment seems to have inspired awe in Jane Delaney

French class seems pretty frightening to Mary Beth Herman and Jodi Barr.

Marshall High School's Debate and Forensics program has been very successful during the 1979-80 season. Eight Marshall students attended a debate workshop at the University of Michigan during the summer of 1979. Highlights during the debate season included the novice team compiling a 5-1 record at the Three Rivers Invitational, Marshall's J.V. team collecting a perfect 8-0 record at the Kalamazoo Central Tournament, and the varsity uniting for a perfect 6-0 record at the Edwardsburg Tournament as well as competing at the Pittsburg Central Catholic Tournament.

Mary Dennis and Sherry Katz were selected to debate at the state final tournament at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant. Mary and Sherry had the best record of the preliminary rounds of the 24 Class B debate teams. This was Marshall's 9th Class B State Championship in the past 12 years. Rick Uselton served as the assistant debate coach.

Highlights for the forensics team at Saturday Invitation Tournaments included 1st place trophies for Lynn Cain, Mark Williams, and Sherry Katz, 2nd place trophies for Mary Dennis and Lori Watson and third place trophy for Mark Williams. The following people reached the final rounds: Cindy Myers, Tim Goheen, Stephanie Delano, and Dave Chamberlain.

Four Marshall forensics students also survived district and regional competition to reach the state tournament in Forensics. Mark Williams finished 9th in the state in extemporaneous speaking while Lori Watson finished 7th in the state in humorous reading — 9-10 division. Reaching the finals and winning trophies were Mary Dennis who finished 3rd in the state in Radio Broadcasting and Sherry Katz who won 1st and thus a state championship in Impromptu Speaking.

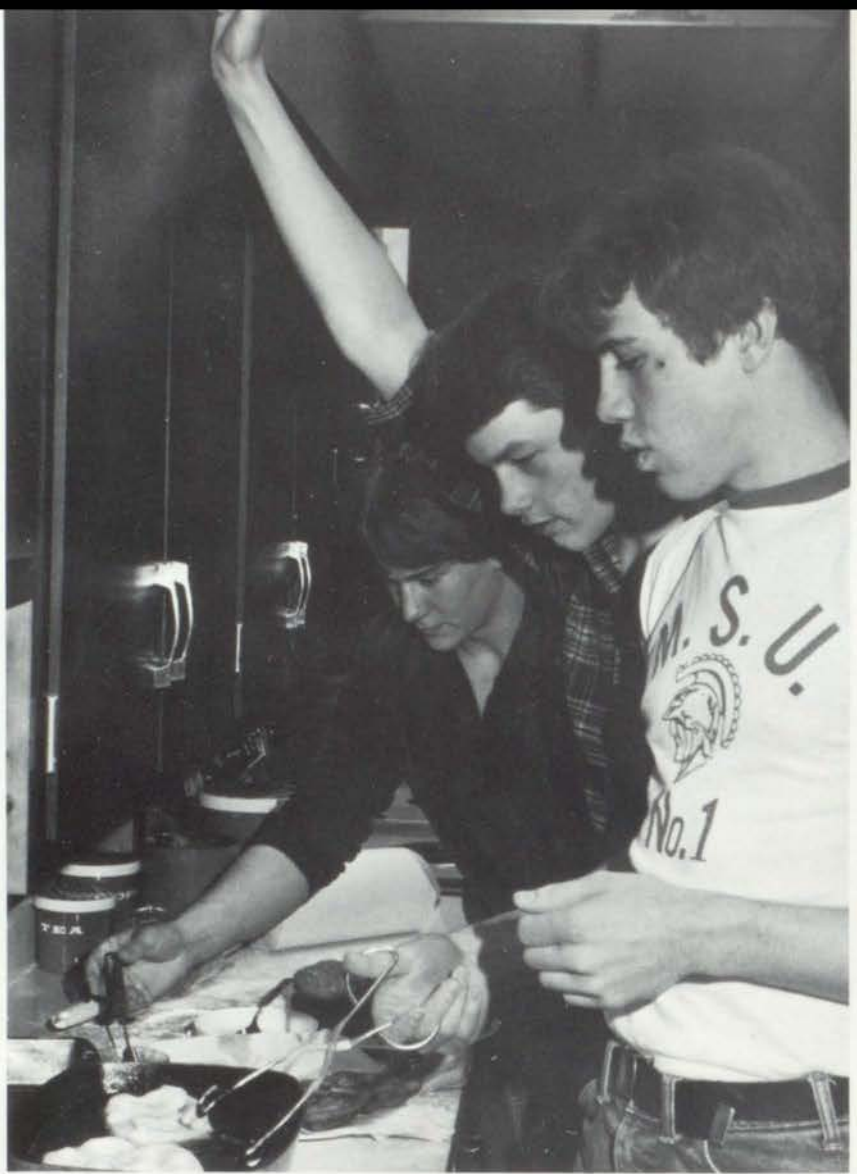

Two Creative Areas

In room 114, you don't very often see a test being given and there aren't many textbooks lying around. No, this isn't an empty room. This is a room where creative students can let go in a semi-relaxed environment. The things learned in this room range from General Art to ceramics and drawing. Students can even learn about the history of art and music in humanities.

The homemaking area prepares students for the world they are about to enter by offering such courses as Advanced Foods, Child Psychology, Design for Living and Marriage, Society, and Change.

The three galloping gourmets, cooking up a feast in home-ec are Tom Gammon, Dave Chamberlan, and Al Hoehne

Home Economics involves instruction in food preparation. Lisa Travis and Jeanette Davis are worried about the outcome of their pizza.

Phys. Ed.: A Chance to Get Rid of Energy

The Phys. Ed. Department is an area where you can get rid of excess energy, or practice and perfect your favorite sports.

Without it students would not get a chance to stay in shape during the winter or enjoy the nice weather in the spring.

The Marshall High School P.E. department offers a large variety of classes ranging from tennis and bowling to lifesaving or even shuffleboard. These classes offer an hour during the day in which students can relax and get away from classes and stretch their limbs.

Grunting mightily, Lori Bessler attempts to block the deadly spike of Cary Lewellen

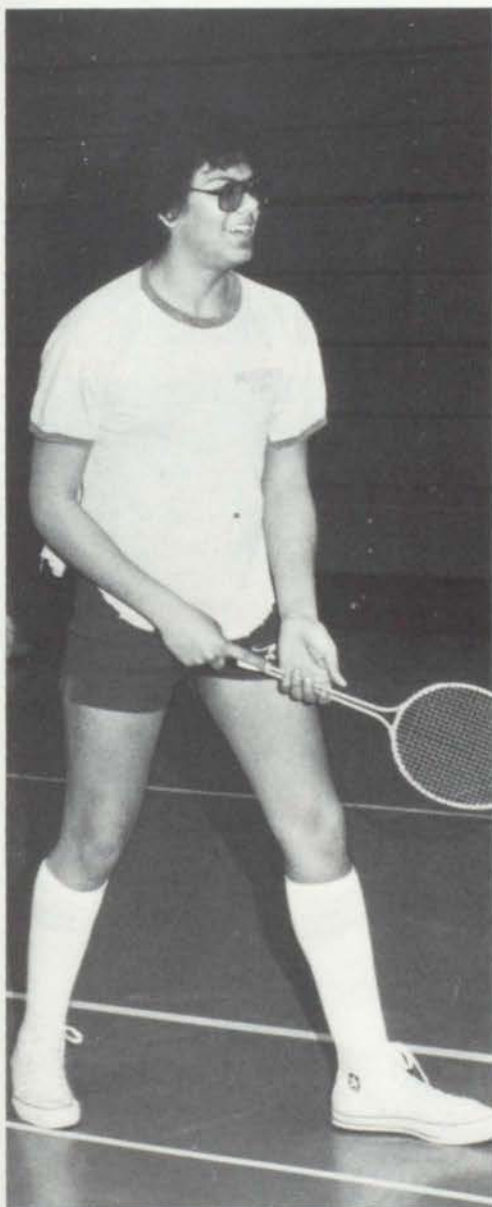

Joel Embry hopes his partner John Coakes can return the pingpong ball to their opponents' side of the net

Jenny Craig and Todd Anderson, smile while they exercise their muscles in a friendly game of shuffle board.

Taking the stance of the professional badminton player that he really is, Mario Casarez demonstrates his able ability.

With a heave ho, The Lone Ranger alias Connie Monroe vaults over the horse.

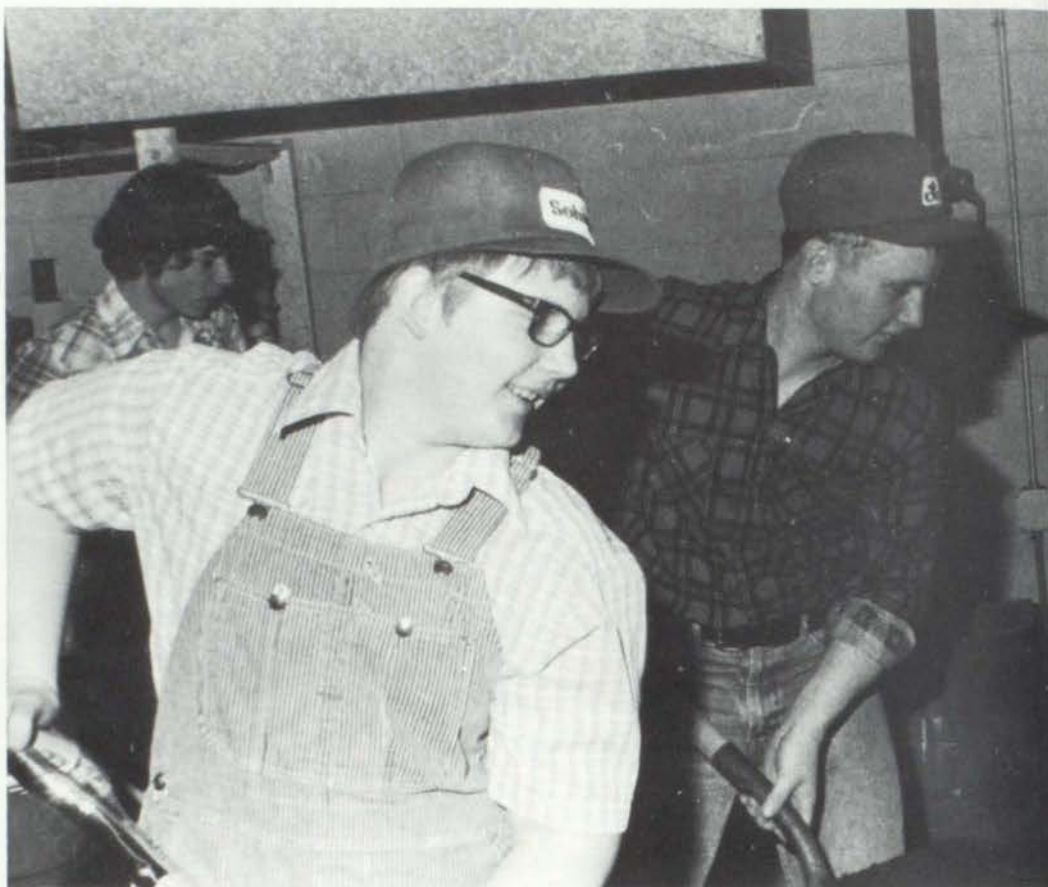

Freshman, Chad Collins is always willing to hit the birdie, but tying his shoes is another matter.

Have You Got the Knack?

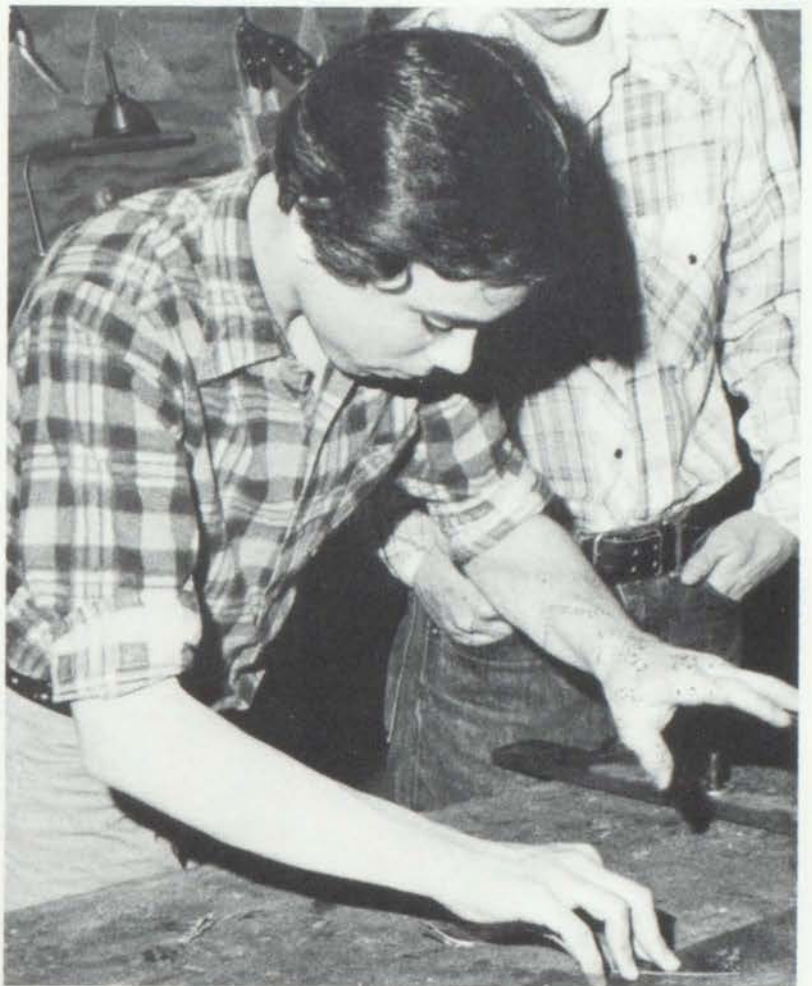

If you have a knack for working with woods, metals, or you want to learn about agriculture and even drafting, industrial arts are for you. Marshall High offers these classes for anyone that is interested in them. Mr. Strough, Mr. Murphy, and Mr. Carlyon are the industrial arts teachers. You never know, M.H.S. just might turn out some of the best farmers, artists and architects, the nation has ever seen.

Even though they may not need the practice, Pete Seager and Doug Vahs shovel a substance like coal.

Getting into his work, Lance Cowels bends some metal.

Earl Sheperd takes time to do his work just right.

Carl Neal completes his work with coordination and interest.

More serious than usual, Chad Cooley works with his hands carefully.

Waiting to be noticed, Joe Kalisz and Steve Huges take a small break from drafting class.

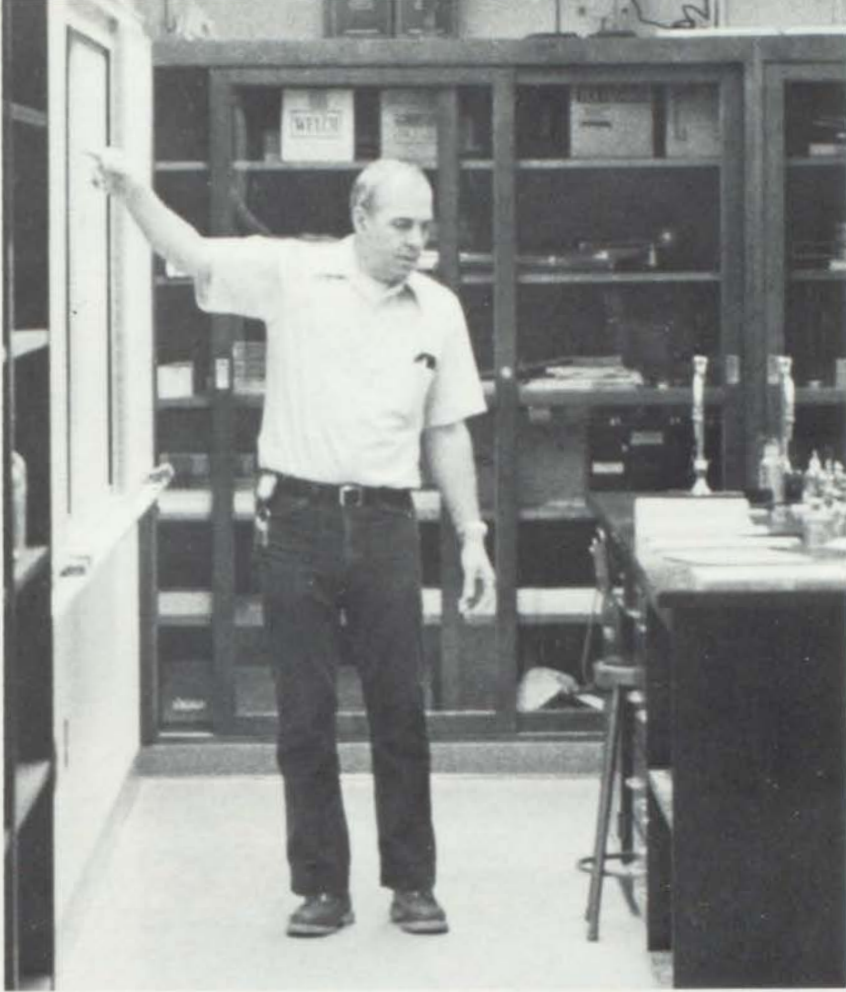

"Men Love to Wonder"

Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "Men love to wonder and that is the seed of our science." Marshall High School offers many courses for those "who love to wonder." For our science department student involvement is the key. Having the advantage of the superb lab facilities students investigate the wonder of life and technology. The philosophy is that one learns by doing. Students test and explore and learn a variety of academic skills in science. Mr. Kelley, Mr. Cairns, Mr. Davis, Mr. Malininowski, and Ms. Edwards guide students through the exploring process. Students may choose from Life Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Micro-biology and Genetics. Whether counting yeast, or determining the molar volume of NaOH science always proves to be challenging and rewarding.

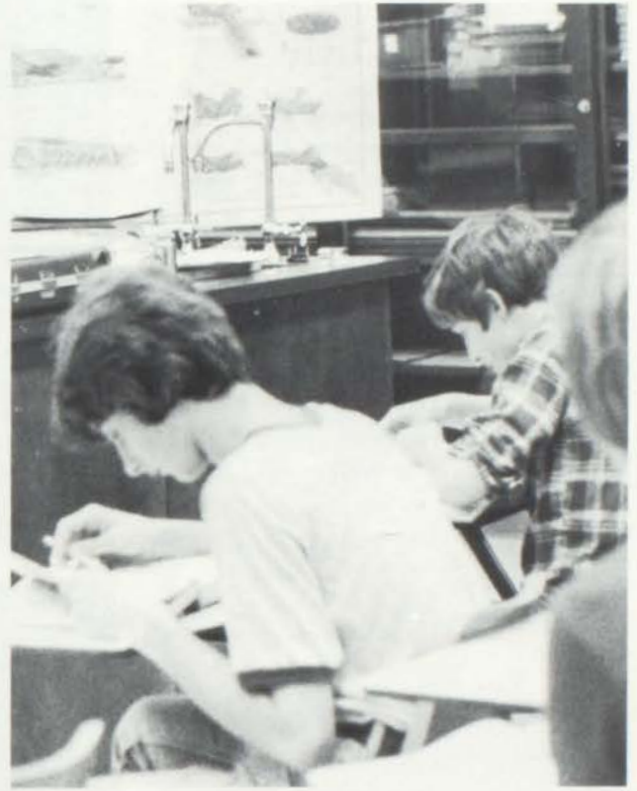

Getting answers to frustrating questions in Chemistry, is Cheryl Mess.

Taking notes in science is a very important part of the learning process. Carol Cascarelli, Jolene Flynn, and Stephanie Delano are intent upon getting their facts straight.

When Angie Walsh studies, she really studies.

Looking up some interesting information is Bob McNalley.

Sorry Mr. Cairns, you can't teach an old desk new tricks.

Helping Students Learn a Trade

Many students who wish to learn a trade or those who need extra spending money, but can't afford to take off from school are involved in M.H.S.'s Co-op and Vo-ed programs. Vo-Ed is designed for students who wish to learn a trade and get into a desired working field. This program is held in Battle Creek and offers good background in learning about the business world. Co-Op is a part time job during school hours, in which you receive school credits for your work. So if this sounds interesting to you, Vo-ed or Co-op is something to look into.

We've Come a Long Way

The Junior Class has come a long way since their freshman year. Jeff Filbrandt headed the class as president along with Dave Flynn as Vice President, Tim Goheen as secretary. Scott Hodoval, Mark Williams, Vanessa Coats, and JoAnn Kinney filled in the junior class representative spots. The Junior Class was out to prove their spirit, class togetherness, their ideas, and their creativity. They realized they were no longer underclassmen and that their influence would show the underclassmen ways to go.

Amusing the people around him, Todd Blair has a "drive" for excitement.

Juniors Show Their Spirit

The juniors really showed their spirit when homecoming week came along. In the all around totals, the juniors gained enough points to win 2nd place. The theme they chose for their lawn display was "A Wild Cat Circus."

Sophomores Come on Strong

Sophomores came on strong in class competition cheer. It was usually a toss-up for the judges between the sophomore and senior classes. Sophomores put their hearts and mouths into it this year to win the spirit jug for the first time.

Sophomores Work Hard

The spirit festival was very exciting for the sophomores this year. They worked very hard on their class competition and were very successful. The sophomores now know the true meaning of the word spirit in spirit festival.

Freshmen Catch on Quickly

As the year digressed the Freshmen caught on to just about everything. They now had an idea on how the next three years at M.H.S. would be like. The freshmen started feeling at ease with the upperclassmen and they realized it was time they did their own thing. Spirit Festival week was a busy and exciting one. After experiencing homecoming, they were ready for Spirit Festival.

Frosh Do Well in Events

Homecoming gained the majority of popularity from the freshmen. This also being a new thing, they discovered the meaning of unity. The freshmen did very well in the homecoming events. Overall, they got the position of 3rd place. They won first for their lawn display.

Mr. E. Kent Esbaugh, MHS principal, co-ordinates the day to day workings of the high school.

Balancing internal accounts is one of the many jobs Mrs. Taylor does that keeps Marshall High School running smoothly.

Keeping track of tardies, detentions, and absences is a responsibility taken seriously by Mrs. Nantz and her attendance office crew.

They Hold MHS Together

A group of fine people seemingly hold this school together. The Marshall High School administrators, Doris Taylor, Helen Smith, Nancy Nantz, E. Kent Esbaugh, and Ramond Davis each in their own way keep this school running on a fairly normal level. Mrs. Taylor, secretary of the principal, has been here for 22 years. She keeps Mr. Esbaugh, MHS Principal on schedule and keeps the schools financial records and events schedule. Mrs. Helen Smith is the secretary of the counseling department. She keeps the students schedules and arranges appointments for the counselors. Mrs. Nantz, is the secretary to Mr. Davis, assistant principal of MHS. She keeps the attendance records straight and keeps the school running on schedule. Mr. Davis and Mr. Esbaugh, keep discipline problems in control and basically make most of the school changes. Without these people this school could not run efficiently.

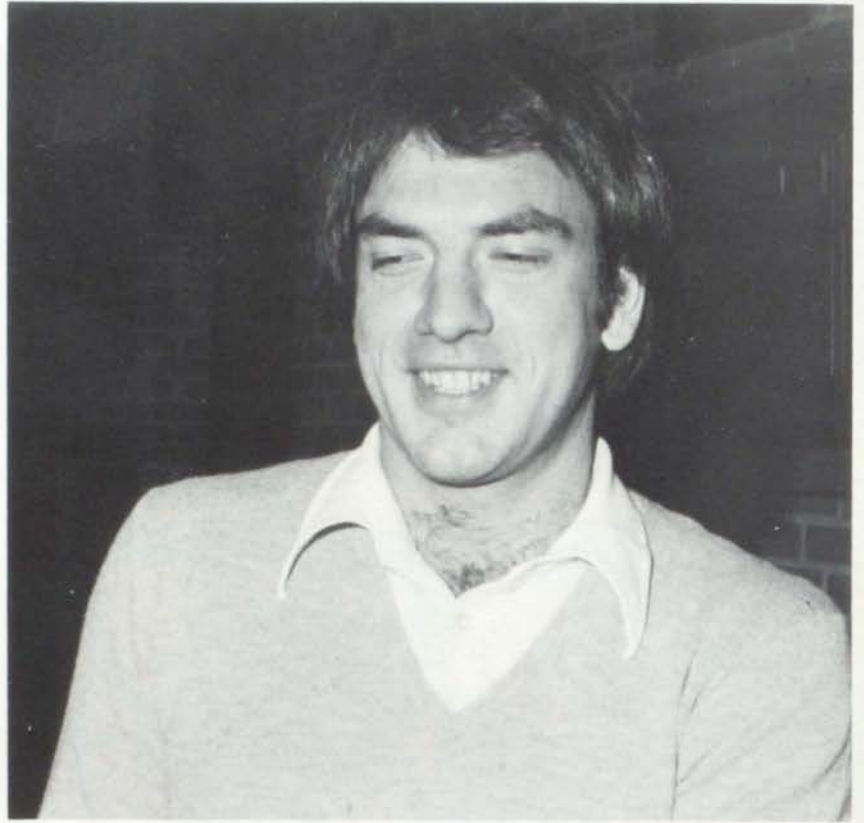

Mrs. Smith hurriedly prepares another student's schedule

Many Familiar Faces Return

The 1979-1980 school year brought changes in the Faculty of M.H.S. Many teachers we all knew well did not return this year, but we also gained a few here and there.

For the most part our faculty has remained the same. While some may leave, they are always replaced with someone else who is quickly accepted.

General Business is a course that requires a great deal of Ms. Reiger's attention

A Learning Atmosphere

Regardless of whether an instructor is new or tenured, it is always true that a learning atmosphere is achieved early in the year. Students became familiar with teachers, teachers became familiar with students and before long you almost start to feel at home in class. (Heaven Forbid!) While students are generally not on a first name basis with their teachers, we feel that an excellent learning atmosphere is characteristic of M.H.S.

Taking attendance is a regular chore for Ms. Papes.

It's An End of a Decade

The Seventies began in the midst of the furor and turmoil of the Vietnam War; U.S. troops invaded Cambodia, four college students were shot to death during a campus protest. The memory of the Vietnam War will haunt Americans for years and years to come.

The Seventies were a decade full of rights: Equal Rights, Gay Rights, Voting Rights, Drinking Rights . . .

Equal Rights — for women in the form of a Constitutional Amendment which has until 1982 to be ratified by two-thirds of the states to become a part of the American legal system.

Gay Rights — the rights of homosexuals were brought to the forefront of public attention by an opponent of the movement, former Miss America Anita Bryant.

Voting Rights — for those United States citizens between the ages of 18 and 21 were granted nationally by the 26th Amendment in 1971

Drinking Rights — for Michigan adults between the ages of 18 and 21 were revoked in a November 1978 election.

The Seventies will be remembered as the time of political change. President Richard Nixon resigned in 1974 as a result of the Watergate Scandal. President Gerald Ford lost his office to "Jimmy Who?" in the 1976 election.

The Seventies were also a time when America celebrated itself during the 1976 bicentennial. It was a big birthday party complete with glorious tall ships, spectacular fireworks and parades. It was a time to forget inflation, the energy crisis and a lot of other problems for at least a while and remember what it was like in the very beginning of this nation.

The Seventies were also an era of bizarre events. In 1974 the then unheard of Symbionese Liberation Army kidnapped Patricia Hearst, who was later sent to jail for supposedly joining forces with her captors in their revolutionary movement. And in 1978, in perhaps the most disturbing event of all, more than 900 members of the People's Temple, American citizens, committed suicide in Guyana in a terrifying series of events.

The Seventies have been called the "Me Decade" and an era of self-centeredness. Many social critics have said the youth of the era are apathetic. But the seventies may go out in much the same style they came in — with youth rallied around a cause. This time the cause is nuclear power. As the decade rushed to an end, demonstrators demanding, "No more nukes" have become widespread, perhaps indicating that this generation is not uncaring but instead needed a reason to move to action.

Confronting the World With Pride

It looms majestically, humbling its surroundings — that's Marshall High School. A brick structure rises from the ground; groomed lawns lay tamed; and cars wait patiently for their masters to return. But this is Marshall High School only at first glance. As layers and layers of skin are stripped from its apparent face value, the true life flowing MHS begins to appear for MHS is people. Dedicated, fun loving, and hard working individuals hold the key to MHS. vitality.

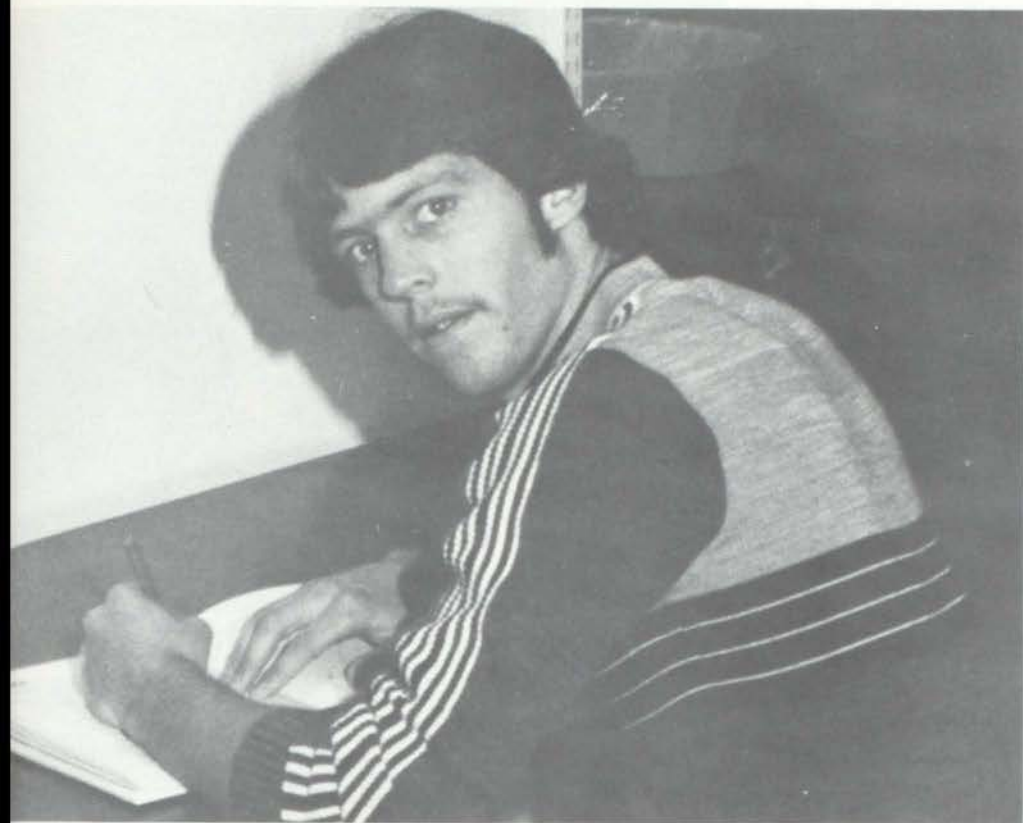

From janitors and cooks to the principal and the school board — all play an important role at MHS.

Through the lives of separate individuals, Marshall High School has been given its breath of life, but it has taken the combined efforts of hundreds to make her grow strong and unique — a lady waiting to confront the world with pride and spirit.

The Mood Is Pride, Excitement.

The mood is pride and excitement; the crowd's noise is set at a quiet, tense buzzing. Then silence has come as though someone has turned off a switch. There are a few tears and a lot of smiles. The scene is graduation and the end of another school year at MHS.

The Graduate knows where, when, what and who he's been for the last four years, growing, but that leaves one looming unanswered question. Growing. Why?

For the future.

And where does the future lead us?

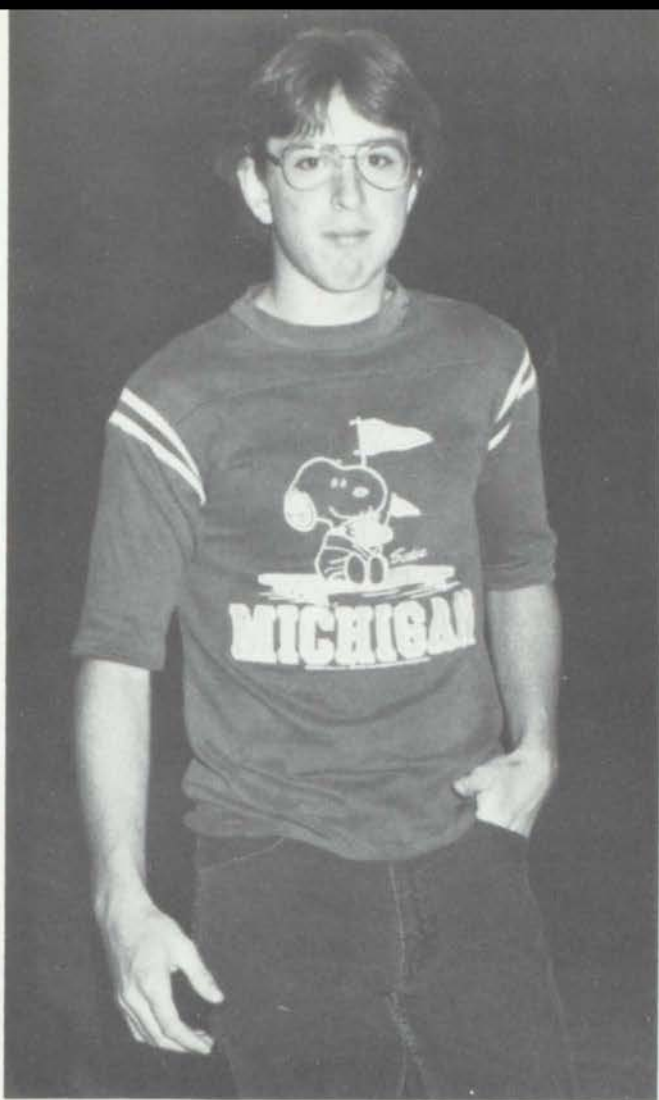

The future doesn't lead us, we lead ourselves. We decide where we are going. With confidence and determination we will follow the path that we have formed.

The future is yours, because you are the future.

The year has come and gone by so fast that we hardly knew what hit us. It seemed like only yesterday that we were working on the opening section, and now we're busy writing the final copy.

The year has been filled with many mixed emotions, from drooling "Mumas" to frantic attempts at meeting deadlines. Although at times we were very difficult to be around, we'd like to thank the staff for putting up with us. We realize that sometimes we seemed overbearing or one-sided about our opinions, but we hope the staff understood the responsibility of taking the place of an experienced editor.

First of all we'd like to say the staff did a fine job of cooperating with each other and putting forth a class effort in establishing a fine 1980 yearbook. We would like to give special thanks to Mr. Chet Sturdevant, who helped us through our first year with all of his support and humor. Becky Adamczak handled the whole organization section by herself and did a wonderful job. Organizations is not one of the most exciting sections, but she worked hard and produced a fine section. Jody Craig, Mike "The Murne" Mumaw, and Tina Silvers tackled the sports section. Getting scoreboards and team pictures were a problem at times, but these three people came through for us. Heidi Harrison and Karen Hollibaugh worked on our student life section which is the most difficult of the book, dragging on throughout the year with Class Night and Graduation. The academic section was completed by Gina Price and Veronica Kalisz. The Senior section was done entirely by Lisa Langridge. Congratulations should go to Lisa for turning out one of the best senior sections we've had. The underclassman section was handled by Angie Sebring and our managing editor, Jolene Flynn. These two girls helped us with many other little jobs and we really appreciate it. Thanks! Jay Scovie worked on administration and wrote some of the copy along with copy editor, Jolene Allen. The yearbook could not have been successfully completed without the help of Karen Smith and Brad Petty, who were our ad sellers. Their hard work resulted in compiling many more interesting ads than in the past. Last of all we would like to thank Paul Flessner and Ba-a-a-a-ab Walbeck who handled all of the photography. You guys did a terrific job!

Well, once again we'd like to thank all of the staff for a job well done. You were great!
